PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Parent-teacher conferences will be held Monday, November 12th and Tuesday, November 13th. The conferences are an important opportunity for parents to talk one-on-one with their child's teacher and discuss how they are doing in school. Conferences also can help parents and teachers find ways to work together to improve student learning. Please check to make sure you know the date and time for your conference. We have a packed schedule of conferences, so please be on time for your conference.

5 Suggested Questions

1. May I see samples of my child's work and the books being used?
2. What are my child's strengths and needs?
3. Is my child performing at grade level in reading, writing and math?
4. Have you observed any special interests or talents my child may have?
5. How can I help at home? What role should I play in relation to homework?

Please Dress Students Warmly

Please make sure your students are dressed warmly when they come to school during these cold months. Studies show that young children's bodies are not aware of the cold in the same way that adult bodies are. But their bodies can still be harmed by the cold. Appropriate clothing for the winter weather includes a hat and gloves or mittens as well as a warm coat and closed-toe shoes. If your student needs cold weather clothes, please let Karina Echeverz, Parent Community Co-ordinator, or Janice Musser, School Counselor, know and we will try to help find some for your student.
