Re: Energy Conservation Award

Mr. Ray Pratt, Energy Management Specialist, presented Mr. Ewing and Dr. Cody with a plaque received by the MCPS energy program at the ASBO meeting.

Re: Student Performance

Board members heard a performance by vocal music students from Springbrook High School.

Re: Ethics Legislation

Dr. Cody explained that the Board had the county’s policy and proposals from the state. He had received information that almost all other school districts were adopting Form B of the state version. Staff had looked at the three versions, thought that Form A of the state version was inappropriate, and was proposing a modification of the plans. Mr. Charles Reese, Board attorney, provided a brief history of ethics legislation in Maryland. Dr. Greenblatt reported that the matter of ethics had been under consideration by the Maryland Association of Boards of Education because boards of education were state agencies rather than under county government. She suggested that they look at Form B and fill in the blanks. Dr. Kenneth Muir, director of the Department of Information, reported that the president of the County Council supported by a majority of Council members felt the Board should be included under the county ethics law.

* Dr. Cronin joined the meeting at this point.
Board members raised several questions about the sections on lobbying, the partisan nature of the county ethics commission, and holdings in a business which might create a conflict of interest.

Mrs. Jane Stern, president of MCEA, raised questions about the section on lobbying. Mr. Ewing suggested that it might be worthwhile to find out what other school systems were doing with the section on lobbying and their employee organizations.

Mrs. Praisner suggested that when the Board returned to this topic on November 21 they needed to incorporate the suggestions made by Mr. Fess in his memo on this subject. Mr. Ewing asked Board members for their directions to staff. Dr. Greenblatt and Mrs. Peyser indicated their preference for Model B. Other Board members preferred the staff version. Dr. Muir agreed to check with other school systems on the plans they were adopting. Dr. Shoenberg asked that staff show where their version departed from Form B.

Re: A Motion by Mrs. Peyser to Postpone the Item on Release of Information on Appeals to the Board (FAILED)

A motion by Mrs. Peyser to postpone the item on release of information on appeals to the Board failed for lack of a second.

Re: Release of Information on Appeals to the Board
Dr. Cody stated that unless someone made a motion regarding employees they were precluded from releasing information and much of the information they received about students was also precluded from release. Mr. Ewing explained that they had a memo from Mr. Fess which had a legal opinion and a copy of the public information law. Ms. Judy Bresler outlined the various legal provisions governing executive session. The state public information act, state school law, and federal law all played a part in what was and was not confidential. The open meeting law did not apply to executive and quasi-judicial functions; however, the Board had used the exceptions to the open meeting law as a guideline for itself. There was provision in the education article for personnel matters and land acquisitions being discussed in executive session. There was mention in the documents section of the school law of the custodian of student records not making them available for public inspection.

She said that when appeals came to the Board, there was information about the student which could not be disclosed.

Mr. Fess pointed out that in the rules of procedure disciplinary actions were confidential. Appeals of the superintendent's decision were public unless one of the parties or both wished it to be private or the Board wished it to be private. However, when the state had an appeal, it had no exclusionary rights. Mr. Roger Titus reported that he had discussed this with a state official and the answer was the state was not the employer. The state decisions were appellate decisions, but they recognized that the local boards had a different role.

In response to Dr. Cronin's question, Mr. Charles Reese said that at the local level the superintendent was the custodian of records, and he assumed at the state level that the state superintendent was the custodian. Mr. Titus advised that a local agency could ask the attorney general for a formal opinion on this topic. As Mr. Ewing read the paper, in regard to student transfers the Board was not precluded from identifying the name, the school, and the disposition of the case once it met in executive session. Ms. Bresler thought they could look at it that way because they could say this was not an educational record.

Dr. Shoenberg asked if the law required them to take a public vote after executive session. Mr. Reese explained that Section 3-703 dealing with Montgomery County meetings seemed to say this. If the Board wanted to change, 3-703 could be amended. Dr. Shoenberg remarked that they could go the route suggested by Mr. Ewing or get the law amended. If the parents wished to go public with the information, it would be their choice. He thought 3-703 should be amended so they could have clarification.

Dr. Cronin thought the public record should show what the Board did in executive sessions as to whether or not it acted on a personnel matter. Mrs. Praisner commented that she would hate to see the Board using student names because it was their responsibility to protect students. If the parents wanted to go public, the option was there. She pointed out that there was an MCPS report on transfers in general. Mrs. Shannon thought that the schools involved should be a matter of public record. Mr. Ewing emphasized that his remarks had to do with student transfers. Dr. Shoenberg suggested the Board discuss this in the context of the transfer policy. Dr. Greenblatt asked if the attorneys could prepare a background paper on 3-703. It seemed to Mrs. Praisner they would proceed with their present process unless there was a motion to do otherwise. Dr. Shoenberg asked the attorneys for a suggestion of the way 3-703 could be modified and a process by which it could be modified. The paper should be in a form the Board could vote on if it wished to seek a change in the law.

Mr. Fess said the Board would have the option of having a separate procedure on student transfer appeals. Dr. Cronin thought it was not a separate procedure but rather a redefinition of the way in which they took the vote. Mr. Fess said they still have the option of creating a separate procedure similar to those procedures on transportation and textbooks.

Resolution No. 908-83 Re: Postponement of Policy on Rules of Procedure in Contested Matters

On motion of Mrs. Praisner seconded by Mrs. Peyser, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the policy on rules of procedure in contested matters be postponed.

Re: Executive Session

Mr. Ewing announced that the Board had met in executive session from 12:45 to 1:35 p.m. to discuss appeals and other legal matters.

Resolution No. 910-83 Re: An Amendment to the Agenda for November 8, 1983

On recommendation of the superintendent and on motion of Mrs. Praisner seconded by Mrs. Peyser, the following resolution was adopted with Dr. Cronin, Mr. Ewing, Mrs. Peyser, Mrs. Praisner, Mrs. Shannon, and Dr. Shoenberg voting in the affirmative; Dr. Greenblatt being temporarily absent (Mr. Robertson voting in the affirmative):

Resolved, That the agenda for November 8, 1983, be amended to add an item on Washington Grove Elementary School.

Re: A Motion by Dr. Shoenberg to Reconsider BOE Case 1983-12 (FAILED)

A motion by Dr. Shoenberg to reconsider BOE Case 1983-12 (student transfer) failed with Mrs. Peyser and Dr. Shoenberg voting in the affirmative; Dr. Cronin, Mr. Ewing, Mrs. Praisner, and Mrs. Shannon voting in the negative; Dr. Greenblatt being temporarily absent (Mr. Robertson voting in the negative).
Dr. Greenblatt rejoined the meeting at this point. She asked that the minutes show that she had supported the appeal reconsideration in executive session.

Resolution No. 911-83    Re: BOE Case 1983-36

On motion of Mrs. Praisner seconded by Mrs. Peyser, the following resolution was adopted unanimously (Mr. Robertson abstaining):

Resolved, That the Board of Education instruct its attorney to prepare a decision and order dismissing the appeal (1983-36) as not being timely filed.

Re: Annual Progress Report on Education of Gifted and Talented

Dr. Cody thanked the committee for its recommendations, and Dr. Shoenberg commented that this was as good a report from an advisory committee as they had ever had. Mr. Ewing added his words of praise and asked for comments from the committee.

Mr. Robert Davidson, co-chairperson, reported that the committee had collected some historical data which had not been provided in a while. The main activity of the committee was to review plans, programs, and procedures. They pointed out in their first recommendation that the school system had a plan for putting the Board's policies into effect, but while the timelines had not always been met, basically the plan had been followed. He thought the plan was sound and should continue to be revised, updated, and followed.

Mr. Davidson explained that if there was a problem in implementation at the elementary level, it was that the programs were delivered unevenly at the schools. The plan was to make appropriate opportunities available to children in all schools. The committee felt there needed to be some continuing monitoring to make that happen. They also felt there was a gap in service at the early grades. He remarked that there was parental pressure for early entry to first grade, but good programs in kindergarten would lessen the pressure. He recommended that attention be given to provide solid academic programs for gifted and talented students in the primary grades.

Mr. Davidson pointed out that for a small group of highly gifted students they did support programs in the areas to cluster those students and provide an intensive experience. He suggested those programs be expanded and transportation be provided. He said that various programs for gifted and talented had benefitted from having a center for specialized studies such as a math program. They thought math centers were cost effective and supported the concept of a center. They recommended that the summer opportunities for gifted and talented students be expanded. Locations should be selected to provide opportunities for more students. He indicated that part of the difficulty in providing programs was the budget
Mr. Davidson noted that the school system was undertaking a countywide experiment called the honors program. This was an attempt to provide opportunities for academically able high school students in every high school. The committee thought that the problem they had seen was a sound one; however, it would need funding for training and they hoped resources would be provided. He said that the Board had had the foresight to provide coordinators for gifted and talented programs who would be the facilitators for the new honors program. He thought that for each .2 position they were receiving the work from one and a half persons. He said that there was work to be done in developing curriculum resources for the gifted and talented, and less had been done in getting that material out into the field. He urged them to provide resources to use the curriculum that already had been developed. He said that some units in some subjects were still needed, especially in the high schools. He indicated that attendant with this was the need for training time because there had been cuts in the training budget. He felt that funds for training were well spent. As a parent, he would pick teacher training as the most important and beneficial thing they had done. He commented that gifted and talented students sometimes had social and emotional problems which required the services of counselors; however, training for counselors had lagged behind. He reported that they had heard stories about counselors telling students not to take honors courses.

Mr. Davidson recommended that they continue to refine programs to identify gifted and talented students. This should be extended into the higher grades and down into the lower grades. Information about students should be passed from school to school. He explained that the crux of their recommendations was in the section on budget and they recommended the Board accept all of these. He pointed out that the school system had only recently begun to look at the needs of students talented in the visual and performing arts. He suggested that the TAPESTRY program should be expanded if its evaluation was as positive as it appeared to be. The second program in that category was the PADI program for identifying gifted and talented students who were minority or had limited English proficiency. This should be expanded. He asked that the Board look at the resources needed for the program and continue to provide these resources.

Mrs. Diane Ippolito noted that their last recommendation was to continue the committee. Mr. Davidson suggested strengthening the area advisory committees as well. Dr. Shoenberg remarked that the committee did a marvelous job of organizing the recommendations and giving a sense of direction. He thought it would help if the superintendent would give some thought to what might be a reasonable budgetary strategy in moving toward a program of this scope. He asked what it would cost in 1984 dollars to move to full implementation of the plan. He was aware that they could not do everything at once but thought they should have a budgetary game plan. He noted that they had a continuing recommendation about monitoring the elementary program. He said they kept saying they had a county system and, therefore, a gifted and talented program was not a local option. He commented that they could not keep on saying they did not have a program in a school because someone did not want to do it.

Dr. Cronin inquired about the need for a separate office for gifted and talented programs. Dr. Cody thought that this would cause more problems than it would solve. He stressed the need for coordination with programs in Instruction and Program Development. Mrs. Ippolito added that as a principal she had seen good working relationships develop because of the location of the staff for gifted and talented programs.

Mrs. Shannon complimented the committee on the report and remarked that she did not want to see the recommendations get lost. She asked that each of the recommendations be addressed by staff regarding time frames and budget implications. Mrs. Praisner pointed out that the Board had received a report on the honors program and suggested that this be called the "honors curriculum." Honors courses should be available to students when they meet the requirements. She asked for information on the honors curriculum and its impact on scheduling, the small high school, the 9-12 high school, and the 10-12 high school.

Mrs. Peyser was concerned that they were making it difficult for students taking advanced placement courses. This year only 1,250 were enrolled, while in Fairfax County 6,000 students were enrolled in AP courses. She pointed out that in Fairfax the grades were weighed for AP courses. She asked whether the committee had discussed weighted grades. Mr. Robertson added his praise to the committee for their excellent report. Mr. Ewing thanked the committee and the chairpersons for the report and their recommendations.

Re: Board Member Comments

1. Mrs. Praisner reported that she and Mrs. Peyser had attended the National Federation of Urban/Suburban School Districts meeting in Mesa, Arizona and had participated in the program. She thanked Mrs. Sally Keeler for the information she had provided on the MCPS community survey. In regard to business items at the meeting, the bylaw change on the number of meetings was defeated and a position paper on merit pay would be written for discussion at the May conference.

2. Mrs. Praisner read the following letter into the record:

"Dear Mrs. Praisner:

"I am writing this letter to you in the hope that you will share it with your fellow Board members on Tuesday during your regular session.

"SAS Day, November 3, 1983, was from all reports and by all standards truly a success. The reasons for the success were many; but I feel our Montgomery County Public School teachers and principals made SAS Day the tremendous success it turned out to be. While there was a great deal of effort put forth by all of the Task Force members, there is no question in my mind that the real success of the day lies with our caring, talented and very able teachers.

"There were three teachers in particular who extended themselves far beyond what might have been expected. Each of them gladly shared their special talents with us all. Mark Simon, social studies teacher at Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School, developed the idea for the evening program and brought it to the Task Force. The 'pilot' for this project was first put together last year, then expanded and defined this past summer with his support and hard work. He was also responsible for working with the students from Bethesda-Chevy Chase who performed in the evening program. His efforts demonstrated a very special commitment.

"Ms. Marion Griffin and Mr. Orville Bell also gave a great deal to SAS. The work and creativity that went into the "hangman" ballet in the evening program was exceptional, and their commitment to their students was complete. This was reflected in the quality of the performance and the commitment of the students to their teachers and the SAS concept.

"There is one other contributor who extended himself beyond the call of duty. Your colleague, Dr. James Cronin, proved to be not only a strong leader among Task Force members, but an excellent theatrical producer and production manager. Without his efforts there might not have been an evening program. "We on the Task Force have learned a great deal during these past few months. I feel certain that the Task Force will be voting to continue the work of SAS and broaden its scope. In the event this does happen, I intend to recommend to my fellow Task Force members that the composition of the Task Force be broadened to include additional representation from our teachers. I expect there will be an expansion and refinement of the SAS day program curriculum materials, and I hope the Task Force will look to our talented Montgomery County Public School teachers for additional input in this area."
"For myself and on behalf of the Task Force, I want to extend a very large thank you to all of those in Montgomery County Public Schools who made SAS Day such a special success.

"Finally, I want to thank you and the entire School Board for your support.

Sincerely,

Michael L. Gudis
President Pro Tem, Montgomery County Council
Chairman, Sensitivity Awareness Symposium Day Task Force"

3. Dr. Cronin urged Board members to get involved in SAS Day next year. He said he would add Ann Wilson, the art teacher at Richard Montgomery, to the list of those making significant contributions. He introduced Bob Gierszewski, the technical services assistant from Richard Montgomery High School. He explained that Bob was responsible for the technical success of the production and praised him for his professionalism and maturity in coping with changes in the production format.

4. Mr. Robertson reported that as a student and having heard from other students, he thought that SAS Day was very much of a success. He felt that it was heartening to hear students really talking about issues raised during classroom discussions.

5. Mrs. Peyser said that she had also attended the NFUSSD meeting in Mesa. She thanked Mr. David Fischer for the materials he provided on merit pay. She indicated that she had also attended a conference in Towson on excellence in education, and she had information and notes she would be pleased to share.

6. Mrs. Peyser said that Mr. Ewing had received a letter from the guidance committee at Einstein High School. She asked for a response from staff, particularly on the question having to do with the grading policy.

7. Mr. Ewing reported that this morning the Board had met with the Montgomery County Chamber of Commerce, which was the first time the Board had done this. They had discussed ways of sharing information and ways of working together. During that meeting, the president of the Chamber reported that his three children in the public schools were impressed by SAS Day activities.

8. Mr. Ewing stated that on Wednesday there would be a hearing before the Civiletti Commission. The Board would join with the county executive and County Council in presenting testimony.
