<td>Description:</td>
<td>The preliminary geotechnical report for Galway Elementary School indicated that there might be poor soil in a portion of the new building area; however, the project architect could not determine the exact amount until the excavation work was completed. Since the amount of poor soil could not be quantified, a contingency allowance was established and unit prices included in the bid documents stipulating how much the contractor would be paid as a change order if poor soil was encountered. The cost of this change order is based on the unit prices that were bid as part of the architectural documents.</td>

Re: MONTHLY FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. Larry Bowers, budget director, explained that the financial report was as of April 30. They were still projecting a $1.4 million deficit in revenue, but they hoped to generate $1.4 million by controlling expenditures. They had shared their concerns with the County Council and county executive, and they felt that at best they would be in a "break-even" situation, and at worst they might have a slight deficit.

Re: EXECUTIVE SESSION

The Board met in executive session from 12:30 p.m. to 12:45 p.m. to discuss appeals. *Mrs. DiFonzo joined the meeting during executive session.

Re: PUBLIC COMMENTS

The following individuals appeared before the Board:

1. Roberta Mather, Auditory Programs
2. Anita Willis Boyland, Montgomery Knolls
3. Debbie Lyons, PISCES
4. Debbie Camp, CASE
5. Marti Willey, Gifted and Talented/Learning Disabled
6. Susan Ceppos, Bridge School
7. Rebecca Carroll, Autism Program
8. James Maloney
9. Jean Mallon
Mrs. Hobbs explained that the Board would be taking final action on its FY 1993 Operating Budget. They had to act on the County Council's cuts in order to submit the budget to the state by June 30.

Mrs. Fanconi made the following statement for the record:

"We need to remember that even though we have had reduced budgets and an increasing number of children, we are continuing to have a great deal of success. Forty-four percent of Maryland's National Merit Scholar Semifinalists are from Montgomery County. Seventy percent of MCPS graduates leave the school system with three or more credits in math and science. Eighty-two percent graduate with credits in geometry and higher math, and more than 30 percent graduate with biology, chemistry, and higher science.

"I think that we forget that the SAT scores in Montgomery County are higher than any system in the Washington metropolitan area even though our community continues to change and become more diverse and the needs become more diverse. Even with the diversity, our test scores with African Americans and Hispanics are improving. The cuts we will make today, many of them are positions that have helped us gain this kind of success. The position itself and the people who have served in those positions have served this county well, and the cuts we make are not because we feel that these positions or individuals have not contributed to the success that we are experiencing. However, we have serious cuts. We must do it within category, and I think it is important to explain to people that we must do it within the education budget. We've gotten a number of letters from people saying they would be happy to have their trash picked up once a week if you would just restore...whatever their program is. We do deal within the education budget alone, and we do have to make those cuts within that budget. I don't think that is well understood."

Re: FINAL ACTION ON THE FISCAL YEAR 1993 OPERATING BUDGET
