Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Dr. Vance expressed his excitement and pride in MCPS particularly for Montgomery Blair High School and Jacob Lurey, his parents, and his teacher. He was named first place winner in the Westinghouse Talent Search at ceremonies where he received $40,000. Both Springbrook and Walt Whitman high schools are among 63 high schools nationwide that were recognized in the overall excellence category by Redbook Magazine’s 5th Annual America’s Best Schools Project. These were the only two schools in Maryland in the overall excellence category this year. Dr. Vance congratulated the MCPS sport teams that have achieved winning records in winter sports which is a tribute to students, teachers, coaches, and parents. Public education offers a balanced education for students.

Mr. Abrams congratulated Richard Montgomery High School and special kudos to Kate Burrow as being named county player of the year in basketball. She epitomizes the best of athletics and academics.

Mrs. Gordon commented on other outstanding performances. Takoma Park Middle School and Paint Branch High School participated in the Shakespeare Festival at the Folger Theater. They won a number of awards for individual actors and the performance.

Mr. Ewing wanted to let the Board know that the Subcommittee on Long-Range Strategic Planning has reached agreement on the future search scheduled for September 19, 20, and 21, 1996, at Locheed Martin Corp. Mr. Ewing will report frequently to the Board what the subcommittee is doing. Regarding the monthly financial report, it shows that special education expenditures continue to rise, and there is a deficit of $3.5 million. This is an area the Board needs to review carefully what happened and why at the end of FY 1996 in order to manage effectively in the coming years. Mr. Ewing asked the superintendent and Board what the intends was on the Human Relations Policy. People ask a key question whether the Board intents the inclusion of “sexual orientation” implies or requires that the school system engage in training requiring staff to teach appreciation of a homosexual way of life. His understanding is that it has no relationship to that but it is important that the superintendent makes the intent clear.

Mr. Abrams called to the attention of the Board a recent decision in a special education case written by Judge Messitte. Vigorously defending the school system has a potential reward. That case is instructive in the way the school system can be used and abused. In regard to the Human Relations Policy, the Board needs to be careful of the instructions from the superintendent, and there is no language in the policy that would allow a future superintendent to move in a direction inconsistency with what this Board’s desires are. With that in mind, the Board needs to review if any clarification of the language is necessary.

Ms. Gutiérrez had the opportunity to participate in a national telecast for Events-Based Science presentation. This project is exciting and places MCPS in forefront, not only in the substantive matter of teaching science to middle school students, but the whole basis for it is an example of cooperative learning and individualized instruction. It is important to applaud this effort because it echos the Board’s policy on math and science. The National Research Council has just come out with new national science educational standards. She was hopeful that what MCPS has been doing is consistent and supportive of these standards.

RESOLUTION NO. 192-1996 Re: MAKE-UP DAYS FOR THE 1995-96 SCHOOL YEAR
On recommendation of the superintendent and on motion of Mr. Abrams seconded by Mr. Felton, the following resolution was adopted unanimously by members present:

WHEREAS, The Board of Education originally approved a school calendar of 185 instructional days and 191 professional days for the 1995-96 school year, ending on June 19 for students and associated supporting services staff and on June 20 for teachers and other professional and supporting services staff; and

WHEREAS, The Education Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland requires a school calendar with a minimum of 180 instructional days and allows the Maryland State Board of Education to reduce the requirement due to inclement weather; and

WHEREAS, On February 27, 1996, the Maryland State Board of Education reduced the required number of state mandated school days for the 1995-96 school year to 178 days; and

WHEREAS, Inclement weather has forced the closure of the Montgomery County Public Schools for a total of nine days this year, reducing the number of instructional days to 176 by June 19; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education amend the Resolution No. 10-95, regarding the 1995-96 school calendar, by moving the last day of school for students in grades one through 12 from June 19 to June 21, and for Kindergarten, Extended Elementary Education Program, and Head Start from June 18 to June 20; and be it further

Resolved, That the last duty day for teachers be moved from June 20 to June 24; and be it further

Resolved, That appropriate changes in the work year and assignments for all 10-month supporting services staff will be made, where necessary; and be it further

Resolved, That the Board of Education and superintendent of schools convey to all students, parents, employees, and the general public the importance of extending the 1995-96 school year in compliance with the state mandated school days and to recoup lost instructional time for the benefit of teaching and learning.
Dr. Vance invited the following staff to the table: Dr. Joseph S. Villani, associate superintendent for the Office of Global Access Technology; Ms. Lani Seikaly, director of the Department of Instructional and Information Technology; Mr. Walt Baugh, director of the Department of Network Services; Mr. Donald Kress, principal of Springbrook High School; and Ms. Judie Muntner, principal of Damascus Elementary School.

Dr. Villani reported that from the central office point of view, there are two essential lessons: (1) time of the project and (2) scale of the project. Time of the project includes installation of equipment and training of staff and application to their jobs. The scale of the project includes wiring of 180 schools times the number of classrooms and offices in each school necessitating the collaboration with all units and offices with MCPS as well as MCCPTA, the business community, and the press. Technology that works well on a small scale does not work well on a large scale thereby requiring more sophisticated and efficient equipment. The scale of the network requires MCPS to execute an automated network system in order for central office staff to manage network sites in the schools. The last lesson learned is that as people are taught about the possibilities and tools, people become dependent on them. Therefore, a system must be developed and maintained to be responsive to all users.

Ms. Seikaly did an overview of the lesson learned. At first, Global Access had a two year implementation period. MCPS does not expect staff to make this conversion in two years and a three to five year time period is more realistic. Managing expectations is the most challenging aspect of Global Access since parents, principals, and the community are all advocates for educational technology. Staff will continue to struggle with providing technology in the framework of those expectations and the budgetary constraints. Global Access stretches MCPS’ technical expertise well beyond any other project. The developing WAN and LAN is now a complicated process because there is a need to ascertain how it impacts on other users/equipment on the network. Another concern is that in reallocating resources for implementation of Global Access, this leaves MCPS short on operation and maintenance areas. It is critical that MCPS have user support specialists for maintaining the networks in the local schools. The training provided to schools from central office are focusing on an instructional interrelationship with technology. Global Access depends on the local schools to supplement training and customize the training. Finally, it is vital that the school principal supports and provides leadership to implement technology within the school to focus the project and integrate technology in the management plan.

Ms. Muntner stated that computers engage children in learning that requires more sophisticated thought processes than normally associated with their age. They use critical thinking skills, access a wide range of information, make work in authentic ways, and are producers of information. She verbally walked the Board through her school highlighting the following classrooms: (1) students are conducting research on opinions of snow with the appropriate computer generated charts; (2) students are selecting an invention, gathering information, and producing a slide show displaying data; (3) fifth grade students are engaged in a project on magnets and motors and after the scientific report is completed, it will be put in the science folder on First Class; and (4) special education students are working in the learning hub selecting machines and putting in boxes and animals in circles.

Mr. Kress pointed out that teachers are eager to use technology and are willing to be trained. The effective use of instructional technology requires a shift in the teaching paradigm, and staff must be allowed the time to become comfortable with the technology. Technology grows exponentially with various functions being converted to computer and network systems. Computer-based instruction impacts tremendously on instructional materials, i.e., paper, print ribbon, cartridges, toner. Computers are really only one instructional tool; they are a means and not an end. If you wait until the newest technology is available, you will never have it because there is always something that is bigger and faster. The key is to purchase technology that can be upgraded. School design is another consideration allowing space for computers in the classrooms. Staff needs to determine what type and size of technology is the most suitable for classroom use as well as access to the networks and beyond. It would be impossible to maintain the extensive computer network at Springbrook High School if it were not for the full-time user support specialist.

Mr. Abrams asked if the new teachers are more comfortable with technology and, if so, is there a peer training. Mr. Kress responded that was not his experience that new teachers are experienced in the instructional use of computers. Ms. Muntner stated that at the elementary level, new teachers have more computer skills and literacy.

Mrs. King requested more information about accessing student work on First Class. Ms. Seikaly explained that each school has a public conference and Board members have access. Ms. Muntner added that there is also a science folder.

Mr. Felton commented on the implementation and the business aspects of Global Access as it relates to savings or costs. Dr. Villani replied that the equipment in place when Global Access started was old and needed replacement. MCPS is in the process of selecting the tools and designing the systems to move from the old to a more client centered operation.

Ms. Gutiérrez stated there needs to be a focus on a real cost focused approach. She requested project experience as to meeting schedules and milestones, implementing plans, and actual costs vis-a-vis the budget. The Board needs to focus on evidence of plans, structure, methodology, control, and configuration management. Are specifications being changed as lessons are learned and technology changes? Are educational school designs changing to accommodate technology needs? Are we planning for obsolescence of technology? Global Access has tremendous support but there are clear fiscal implications for implementation.

Dr. Vance responded that one of the reasons for periodic updates on Global Access is to evoke questions which will be incorporated in the next presentation before the Board.

Mrs. Gordon stated that the Board must be mindful of the costs of Global Access. The dollar figure cannot be put on the change that is happening in teaching and learning. She asked for information on (1) how instruction different with the use of technology or how does it enable teachers to change the way instruction is delivered to students and how students learn; (2) how is staff trained to use technology as well as sharing information throughout the school and system; and (3) when a school receives Global Access, is the commitment and dollars sufficient and what are the implications for staff development funds given that the training has been extended to two years.

Mr. Ewing suggested that, when available, the Board would like data on the correlation between technology and student achievement. He also asked what MCPS foresees for mid-managers, administrators, and principals in the use of technology in management.

GENDER EQUITY

A. PURPOSE

To affirm the Board of Education’s commitment to gender equity in all programs, activities, services, and practices for students and employees

To ensure that MCPS will comply with Title IX of the Education Amendments prohibiting discrimination on the basis of gender

B. ISSUE

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits discrimination on the basis of gender in education programs or activities receiving federal funds. The Board of Education has expressed its commitment to nondiscrimination on the basis of gender in its Nondiscrimination and Sexual Harassment policies. The Board of Education believes that gender equity goes beyond meeting the letter of the law and involves taking positive steps to eliminate barriers or behaviors that may deny an equal educational or employment opportunity for all individuals without regard for their gender.

In promoting gender equity for both male and female students, the Board of Education recognizes that historically females have been underrepresented in programs and areas such as interscholastic athletics, mathematics, science, and technology. The Board also recognizes that historically female employees have been underrepresented in areas such as secondary education administration and the skill trades in maintenance and construction. The Board believes that specific programs should continue to be monitored to address identified inequities for female students and employees.

C. POSITION

1. Definition

Gender equity is the provision of equal opportunities for all individuals without regard to their gender. It is attained through compliance with laws prohibiting sex discrimination and through the elimination of gender bias and gender stereotyping.

2. Commitments
The Board of Education is committed to ensuring that:

a) MCPS employees are sensitive to the destructive nature of gender bias and gender stereotyping

b) MCPS employees encourage male and female students, preKindergarten-12 to participate in school activities, to achieve in all areas, and to enroll in programs and prepare for careers without regard to gender barriers or stereotypes

c) MCPS academic, nonacademic, and extracurricular programs and activities promote gender equitable practices

d) MCPS identifies and actively recruits male and female staff and students for enrollment in courses where they are underrepresented and that are nontraditional for their gender

e) MCPS employment practices promote gender equitable opportunities

f) Male and female employees have equal opportunities to seek and to gain employment in MCPS managerial and other nontraditional jobs

D. DESIRED OUTCOMES

MCPS will be free of gender discrimination, gender bias, and gender stereotyping in all aspects of the school and work environment.

E. IMPLEMENTATION STRATEGIES

1. The Title IX compliance officer will work with appropriate offices to monitor and assure MCPS compliance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972.

2. Curricula, programs, activities, instructional materials, and training will continue to be examined, revised, and designed as necessary, to promote gender equity. In-service opportunities, such as the Gender Equity course, will continue to be offered.

3. Employment practices will continue to be examined to ensure gender equity.
F. REVIEW AND REPORTING

1. This policy will be reviewed on an on-going basis in accordance with the Board of Education review process.

2. The Board of Education will receive an annual report from the Board of Education Title IX Gender Equity Advisory Committee.

3. The superintendent will report to the Board annually on the progress made during the preceding school year on achieving women's equity goals and the steps planned for further progress.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

A. PURPOSE

To affirm the Board of Education's opposition to sexual harassment in the Montgomery County public school system

To establish explicitly the responsibilities of all MCPS employees and students by defining conduct which constitutes prohibited and inappropriate behaviors

To create a mandate to develop educational programs designed to help MCPS employees and students recognize, understand, prevent, and take corrective action to end sexual harassment

To establish the framework for effective procedures for addressing harassment complaints

B. ISSUE

Inappropriate sexual conduct will not be tolerated and may constitute sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is an unlawful form of discrimination on the basis of sex under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended in 1972 and 1991, Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972, and Article 49B of the Annotated Code of Maryland. Some forms of sexual harassment may also constitute criminal conduct resulting in criminal penalties as has occurred in some cases already decided.

By issuing a single, comprehensive policy statement, the Board of Education seeks to clarify and reaffirm its commitment to ensuring that all MCPS employees and students are provided with a work and learning environment that is free of sexual harassment.

C. POSITION

MCPS does not condone or tolerate any form of sexual harassment of, or by, staff or students.

MCPS is committed to the creation and maintenance of a learning and work environment in which all persons who participate in school programs and activities can do so in an atmosphere free from all forms of sexual harassment. The superintendent is directed to make every effort to make certain that everyone affected by this policy shall be informed of its provisions and also that infractions of it may be in violation of Federal or Maryland civil and/or criminal laws. It is the intention of MCPS to take whatever action may be needed to prevent, correct, and, if necessary, discipline behavior which violates this policy.

It is the responsibility of every supervisor and principal to recognize acts of sexual harassment and take necessary action to ensure that such instances are addressed swiftly, fairly, and effectively. Consequently, all MCPS administrative and supervisory staff in schools, offices, and other facilities shall be cognizant of, and responsible for, effectively implementing the sexual harassment complaint resolution procedures established in this policy.

1. Definition

   Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other inappropriate verbal, written, or physical conduct of a sexual nature that takes place under any of the following circumstances:

   a. When submission to such conduct is made, explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of employment, instruction, or participation in other school activities

   b. When submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used by the offender as the basis for making personnel or academic decisions affecting the individual subjected to sexual advances

   c. When such conduct has the effect of unreasonably interfering with the individual’s work and/or academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or learning environment
2. Application to Employees

a) This policy applies to all sexual harassment incidents involving MCPS employees. It addresses incidents committed by a person of either sex against a person of the opposite or same sex. It also establishes that it is against policy and recognizes that it is unlawful for MCPS employees to commit acts of sexual harassment. Depending on the severity of the offense, appropriate disciplinary action will be taken including but not limited to oral or written reprimand, reassignment, demotion, suspension, or termination. In all cases, parties will be notified that the Employee Assistance Program is available for them.

b) Dating or sexual relationships between employees/adult volunteers and students is prohibited.

3. Application to Students

Sexual harassment committed by students of either sex against students or staff of the opposite or same sex constitutes inappropriate behavior. All allegations will be investigated by the principal using the guidelines of Section E of this policy. Depending on the severity of the offense, appropriate disciplinary action, from a conference to suspension or expulsion, can be taken using the discipline policies adopted by the Board of Education. In all cases, students will be notified that school counselors are available for counseling.

4. Application to Others

Employees and students also have a right to be free from sexual harassment by others, including, but not limited to contractors, vendors, and volunteers. The supervisor or principal is responsible for investigating and taking or recommending appropriate action to address complaints of sexual harassment committed by others.

D. DESIRED OUTCOME

All MCPS employees and students are being educated to recognize inappropriate sexual behavior in all its forms which may constitute sexual harassment and are enabled to respond with actions to prevent, correct, and/or eliminate these offensive behaviors from the MCPS system.
E. IMPLEMENTATION PRINCIPLES AND GUIDELINES AND STRATEGIES

1. Principles and Guidelines

a. Any MCPS employee or student who believes that he/she has been subjected to sexual harassment has the right to file a complaint and to receive prompt and appropriate handling of her/his complaint. In all phases of the complaint resolution process, every reasonable effort shall be made to maintain the confidentiality and protect the privacy of all parties, consistent with MCPS’ responsibility to investigate and address such complaints.

b. Any MCPS employee or student who believes that he/she has been subjected to sexual harassment should report such conduct promptly, orally or in writing, to the immediate supervisor/principal, a designated representative, or in a case involving an employee, directly to the Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Officer or Title IX compliance officer in the Department of Human Relations. The supervisor/principal will report to the EEO officer or Title IX compliance officer, any complaint received regarding sexual harassment involving employees. If the complaint involves MCPS employees, the investigation will be conducted by the supervisor/principal or the Office of Personnel Services through the Office of the Deputy Superintendent for Planning, Technology and Supportive Services in coordination with the EEO Officer or Title IX compliance officer. If the complaint involves only students, the investigation will be carried out in accordance with the provisions in Regulation JFA-RA: Student Rights and Responsibilities for allegations of misconduct.

c. The full circumstances of the situation will be considered in the investigation of possible harassment incidents. In determining whether the alleged conduct constitutes sexual harassment, consideration shall be given to the record of the incident as a whole and to the totality of the circumstances, including the context in which the alleged incidents occurred. Employees and students should be aware that they will be responsible for their conduct even if the conduct was not specifically intended to harass.

d. Retaliation against an individual who either orally reports or files a written complaint regarding sexual harassment or who participates in or cooperates with an investigation is prohibited. The right to confidentiality, both of the complainant and the accused, shall be preserved consistent with applicable laws and MCPS’ responsibility to investigate and address such complaints.

e. MCPS employees and students should seek guidance, support, and/or advocacy in addressing matters related to sexual harassment or inappropriate behavior of a sexual nature. Employees of the Department of Human Relations, Employee Assistance, and the Office of Student Affairs are to be available for these services.

2. Strategies

The superintendent will direct the EEO officer to coordinate the implementation of this policy. Implementation activities will include, but not be limited to:

a. Education of all staff and students about this policy and associated federal and state laws prohibiting sexual harassment by widely disseminating information in documents such as announcements, bulletins, brochures, applications, contracts, and other communications

b. Publication and dissemination of information to all MCPS employees and students that will inform them of this policy, what sexual harassment is, what the individual can do, and where to go for help

c. Development of mandatory training seminars and in-service programs for all principals, supervisors, and administrators to ensure the appropriate implementation of this policy. These training programs shall be designed to:

(1) Inform them of their duties, responsibilities, and potential liabilities as workplace managers when dealing with incidents involving sexual harassment

(2) Assist them in developing training programs for MCPS employees dealing with sexual harassment to inform them of the policy, what sexual harassment is, what the individual can do, and where to go for help. The aim of such training is to ensure increased awareness of inappropriate behaviors prohibited by this policy and other state and federal laws on sexual harassment.
(3) Provide clear guidelines and assistance for handling appropriately all incidents of sexual harassment in MCPS.

d. Appropriate opportunities to educate students about matters related to sexual harassment in order to develop behaviors and attitudes that mitigate against inappropriate sexual overtures and pressures in school, work, and social settings. Programs and curricula such as the Comprehensive Guidance and Counseling Program, which already include related competencies or objectives, should include student materials regarding sexual harassment. K-12 curricular modifications that integrate activities and skill building to help students understand and overcome sexual harassment problems should be introduced as soon as possible.

F. REVIEW AND REPORTING

1. The superintendent will report quarterly to the Board of Education on reported sexual harassment incidents. Reports shall include quantitative as well as qualitative monthly incident aggregate data for both MCPS staff and students; complaint and resolution process evaluations and improvements; training statistics and schedules; ongoing evaluation of work environments in all MCPS schools, offices, and work locations; and any other activities being planned or carried out by MCPS that are relevant to the successful implementation of this policy.

2. This policy will be reviewed on an on-going basis in accordance with the Board of Education policy review process.

Mr. McCullough joined the meeting at this point. Mr. Abrams and Mr. Felton temporarily left the meeting at this point.

Re: UPDATE ON OUTCOME J (DISPROPORTIONATE REPRESENTATION IN SPECIAL EDUCATION) OF SUCCESS FOR EVERY STUDENT

Dr. Vance invited the following staff to the table: Dr. Mary Helen Smith, acting associate superintendent for the Office of Instruction and Program Development; Dr. Frieda K. Lacey, equity assurance officer; and Ms. Eva R. Wetten, principal of Waters Landing Elementary School. In the audience and available for questions were: Dr. Raymond W. Bryant, director of the Department of Special Education Programs and Services; Mr. Brian Bartels, project specialist; Mr. Robert L. Felton, coordinator of the Program for Students with Mental Retardation; Ms. Margaret Flagg, parent educator of the Parent Information and Training Center; Ms. Jane A. Parra, coordinator of the Program for Students with Learning Disabilities; and Mr. Anthony J. Paul, coordinator of the Program for Students with Serious Emotional Disabilities.

Dr. Smith reported on the work that is being done and the progress made on Outcome J. The areas concentrated on are training, identification, data monitoring, and partnerships with parents and community groups.

Dr. Lacey welcomed the opportunity to bring an update to the Board. The document, Making a Difference, has become a exemplary model in MCPS and is recognized as a strategic plan to deal with disproportionality throughout the nation. Because of the proactive effort, MCPS did not have to submit voluminous data to the Office of Civil Rights as a recognition of what MCPS is accomplishing related to Outcome J.

In the 1994-95 school year, 1,151 African-American students were identified as learning disabled, 73 fewer than in the prior year, and is a decline of 0.6 percent. In the same year, 332 African-American students were identified as seriously emotionally disturbed, 6 fewer that in the prior year, and is a decline of 0.1 percent. Mr. Paul has stressed for a number of years early intervention strategies and training. Mr. Felton has identified all students with mental retardation, targeted some students for retesting, and returning students to the mainstream where appropriate. Ms. Parra has collaborated with reading specialist to assist in developing strategies and a proactive approach for learning disabled students.

The focus is on training staff and working with schools which is critical. MCPS supports a collaborative model, i.e., do what is good for the children. MCPS must identify effective schools and successful practices that support early intervention strategies, provide training and support for school staff, establish collaborative models that include specialists, support staff, and parental involvement, and support concepts such as full inclusion and maintaining students in the home school.

Ms. Wetten spoke of the successful practices at Waters Landing Elementary School that have lead to low referral rates to special education. It is a strong collaborative model with specialists and support staff from both regular and special education. By including students with significant special education requirements within the classroom, trained teachers became more confident of their abilities to make combinations and adaptions in serving students with different needs. The full inclusion model has generated another effective practice by which at-risk students benefitted as all special education staff are assigned to students where the needs are clustered regardless of the disability and intensity of services. Central to the success of the full-inclusion model has been the support of the psychologist in training teachers and early intervention strategies.

Mrs. Gordon was pleased with the report and it shows the Board's commitment as well as staff on a daily basis to address the issues. It needs to be stressed that most teachers have the ability to work with all populations. General education staff must understand the intervention strategies and put those in place without referrals to special education. Staff at all levels has certainly made monumental effort to address disproportionality, and they should be commended. The student must be the focal point for providing services whether or not the student is coded.

Mr. Ewing pointed out in the white paper the sentence “preliminary analysis indicated that, with a few exceptions, schools with high disproportionality usually account for a very few numbers of actual students” did not make sense. He also asked about what additional analysis is to be done and when will it be shared with the Board. Dr. Lacey explained that when looking at the data, it was determined that there were not large numbers of African-American students being identified as needing special education at individual schools. In September, the special education information system will provide a report on all disabled youngsters who are identified for special education services. That annual report will be available to school principals.

Mr. Ewing remarked that some principals are resistant to central guidance and some who respond in terms of their desire to be accommodating to guidance. He asked if there was a danger for students who need special education services when principals reduce disproportionality. Dr. Lacey responded that appropriate identification for all students is essential regardless of disproportionality. The need is for early intervention strategies and resources available within the school to support general education teachers. In other words, all measures must be exhausted to ensure students receive the support they need in general education prior to referral to special education. Ms. Judith A. Kenney, director of the Office of School Administration, added that in monitoring schools, staff looks at the plans for students, how successful teachers and principals are in identifying students with needs, how successful is the plan to address those needs, and what is happening to those students over a period of time. When students are approaching the special education window, staff frequently works with the special education director or supervisor to look at other strategies that can be implemented.

Ms. Gutiérrez asked for clarification on the chart and percent of students identified as learning disabled. Dr. Lacey explained that the charts look at the enrollment of students in MCPS and then the percentage of students that are identified in a specific category of the total population. Ms. Gutiérrez commented that since the data has been collected over a short period of time representing small numbers of identified students, a longer timeframe will result in trend data. Dr. Smith responded that Success for Every Student and Outcome J have been in effect since 1990 and there are no data prior to that time.

Regarding mild mental retardation, Dr. Lacey reported that there are a small number of African-American and Hispanic students that will be retested. Dr. Vance added that MCPS is serving 403 students with mild mental retardation which is well below the national average. School systems comparable in size to MCPS identify substantially larger numbers of students as having mild mental retardation. Ms. Gutiérrez asked what the national average was for mild mental retardation in a school system, and was told by Mr. Felton that it was 2-3 percent nationally with MCPS at .003 percent.

Ms. Gutiérrez asked for clarification on additional indicators and the decrease in referral to more restrictive placements. Mr. Paul replied that there has been a change in the decreasing intensity of service to students.

Dr. Lacey remarked that when the Success for Every Student Plan (SES) was written, the categories of learning disabled (LD) and seriously emotionally disabled (SED) were identified as the areas that needed addressing. Another area of concern in the literature was mild mental retardation (MMR) and Dr. Lacey disaggregated the data to study MMR even though the numbers were small. It was Mr. Ewing’s opinion that SES was to look at all areas of disproportionality in special education.

Mrs. Gordon followed up by adding that the areas of LD, SED, and MMR are more subjective identifications than if a student is clearly blind or hearing impaired and, therefore, more quantifiable. Ms. Gutiérrez reiterated that the data looked at all levels of intensity. There might be some levels of intensity in which there would be a greater disproportionality. The Board is interested in having as much data that reflects what is happening in the school system.
