Re: REVIEW OF POLICYSETTING (Policy BFA)

Dr. Vance invited Dr. Pam Splaine, director of the Division of policy and Records, to the table. The white paper included the background, issues on input on policy topics, changes after final action and cost implications, and summary with no recommendations for policy changes, but recommendations for implementation of the policy.

Mrs. Gordon stated that the white paper was excellent. She brought the item to the Board to review the Policy on Policysetting because the Board had gotten into a situation when final policy actions were delayed, and if there were policy or implementation changes that needed to be made to allow the process to run smoothly. After looking at the policy, she agreed with the superintendent that the policy was appropriate, but the implementation of that policy needed to be strengthened. Mrs. Gordon emphasized that staff could and should edit the policy for grammar and punctuation, but that to expand on an idea or concept expressed in a Board discussion. The Board has the responsibility to continue to clarify the concept until there is agreement among Board members. She also suggested that policies should be sent out without other extraneous items since it is confusing the community members on what the Board policy addresses.

Dr. Cheung commended staff for outstanding work on the white paper. He agreed with Mrs. Gordon that the Board must craft the final language expressing the concept or idea in the policy.

Mr. Felton was pleased with the paper. He was interested in the budget implications of adopting policies. He was concerned about public comments received on tentative policies where staff summarizes the comments and makes a recommendation to the Board with an annotated copy of the policy at the time of final action. It would then be the Board’s decision to accept the superintendent’s recommendation based on public comments or to take another position.

Mrs. Gordon stated that it is helpful to have the public comments summarized with recommendations, but it does not belong in the draft policy.

Ms. Gutiérrez confirmed that the Board wants the cost implications as well as any options related to policy analysis and development stages.

Mrs. King applauded staff for a great paper. She was concerned with staff crafting policy language from a concept expressed by Board members. The Board needs to give the staff very clear direction with a concept, and there needs to be full agreement among Board members. Another issue is to put another step in for public comments on a policy just prior to final adoption.

Mr. Ewing thought the superintendent made good recommendations on implementing a good policy. He observed that the difficulty the Board has when public comments on the policy are lengthy and complex. When that happens, the Board needs help on what those comments mean and how they apply to different parts of the policy. As complex issues come to the Board, an analysis by staff will be helpful.
Ms. Gutiérrez stated that the policy is good and allows for flexibility, but needs more focus at the policy development and analysis stages. In reporting the degree of change in a policy, there needs to be an indication of the significance of those changes. She summarized by stating that it was the consensus of the Board that the policy was sound, but the implementing practices as recommended by the superintendent will be followed and a written document will be prepared for the Board as an information item:

1. Continue the practice of involving as many of the appropriate stakeholders as possible before tentative action and enhance the practice as MCPS further strives to pursue parent, staff, and community involvement.

2. Send out the tentatively adopted policy by itself for comment so that the public can concentrate on the Board’s action in preparation for the final vote.

3. Continue to summarize the comments that have been received on or before the due date in the cover memorandum and made recommendations as appropriate.

4. Continue the practice of retaining control of the language in policy when it becomes final.

5. Create a permanent section in the format for policy analysis to address cost implications.

The Board recessed for lunch and a closed session from 12:40 to 2:15 p.m.

Ms. Gutiérrez temporarily left the meeting at this point.

Re: UPDATE ON FUTURE SEARCH CONFERENCE

Mr. Ewing reported that the conference will be held on September 19 through 21, 1996. The theme of the conferences is: The Future of MCPS: Sustaining and Enhancing Excellence into the 21st Century. Up to 80 participants have been sent material which includes information about MCPS and future search conferences and how they operate. The location will be the Lockheed Martin Company in Bethesda. The planning committee has worked with Mr. Steve Brigham, director of the Continuous Quality Improvement Project of the American Association for High Education, and Dr. Lois Graf, associate dean of Undergraduate Programs at the George Washington University School of Business and Public Management. Mr. Ewing commended MCPS and Board staff for their support during the planning process. The expected outcome of this conference is that there will be a consensus about the future directions and understanding about where the public schools will be in 25 years, and what it will take to get there.

Mrs. Gordon added that there is a commitment on the part of the participants to work with the Board to meet the theme. Future search is a visioning and planning process to come together on those things that can build success. This conference is a key component in the Board’s commitment to long-range and strategic planning.

Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Dr. Vance was moved by the ceremony earlier honoring the ACT-SO winners. Some of the revered members of the African-American community have tried to do for a number of years is to reestablish the once cherished tradition of scholarship in the Black community. The ACT-SO initiative is a very step positive step in that direction.

Mr. Ewing noted that there is a memorandum concerning the plans for implementation of the Gifted and Talented Policy. He was encouraged to see the details and scheduled plans for ensuring full implementation.

Mr. Ewing is in full agreement with the superintendent in his distress to the report on the decline of verbal scores on the SAT exams in Montgomery County. Under new business, he planned to offer a motion aimed at encouraging the development of plans to address those concerns. He noted that there is a connection between with reading deficiencies and the reduction of reading teachers.

Mr. Ewing commented on the issue of values. It is important for the Board to recognize that values are critical to a democratic society where people have to trust one another. In order to trust people, they have to be of great character whose values are such that they will treat one another fairly and decently. A fundamental purpose for which education was developed in this country was to create good citizens.

Dr. Cheung added that having good character and being a good citizen is a public responsibility. It is important for public schools to impact to students that they have an obligation to society to be an informed and ethical citizen.

Mrs. Gordon pointed out the new teacher welcome that was held on August 26, 1996. Each year she is overwhelmed by the enthusiasm and excitement on the part of the new teachers. She had heard a lot of positive comments about the reorganization of the Office of School Administration and the outreach on the part of the directors.

Ms. Prager reported that SMOBSAC had its first meeting. This year students will be informed and updated through morning announcements regarding Board actions and priorities.

Mr. Felton announced that the School Board Coalition had met this past week. The group is made up of presidents and vice presidents of school boards throughout the area. The group will focus on the needs of public education. The Research and Evaluation
Subcommittee has been meeting. The CRT implementation process has scored papers and helped teachers to understand this new approach toward education. The Maryland State Board of Education has not taken action regarding the core learning goals, but are looking at the assessment program. MSDE has awarded a contract to design the format for the tests.

Re: GLOBAL ACCESS UPDATE

Mrs. Gemberling invited Dr. Joseph S. Villani, associate superintendent for Global Access Technology, to the table. She explained that during the summer intensive work for the upcoming schools coming on board with various stages of global access technology, and update the Board on the status of those schools, projects, and priorities that are in place.

Dr. Villani gave the Board a quick review of where Global Access Technology started, where MCPS is, and what is being planning. When the policy on Educational Technology was adopted on December 8, 1993, there was a varied and uneven infrastructure, no wide area network (WAN), few local area networks (LAN), out-of-date instructional computers, and no plan or resources for system-wide improvements. Two years later, MCPS has a visions and a plan for technology to connect and equip every classroom, office, and medical center, develop and deploy administrative and instruction applications, train staff to use technology, and strengthen instruction through technology. The accomplishments of the office in the past two years are that every school has a Research and Learning Hub, 25 schools are fully wired (every classroom and office) and equipped as “Global Access” schools, FirstClass e-mail system available to all staff, thousands of staff trained, and thousands of students have become computer literate. Current activities are that 14 schools are being wired and equipped for Global Access, five through MSDE grant funds; WAN wiring is being completed in all school for improved SIMS, World Wide Web Internet access, full-time connection to FirstClass and the mainframe; and administrative applications are being readied for deployment. The goal is to complete the global access technology in all schools in the next seven or fewer years. The project management strategies that have been developed are milestones set and monitored, capital budget for each school and for WAN activities, redeployment of Operating Budget resources to focus on priorities, and development of an updated strategic plan. Training is an essential component to provide collaboration and coordination across several MCPS units and to meet diverse needs.
Mr. Felton commended Dr. Villani for a good briefing. He asked what had been planned to be accomplished by this date, and how far are they beyond that point? Dr. Villani responded that the school system is beyond the point anticipated in two ways: (1) there are more schools in the project, and (2) funds have been shifted to build out the WAN.

Dr. Cheung congratulated staff for the successful implementation of Global Access to this point, and he was pleased to hear of the improvement in efficiency. Since both the Global Access is used in both instruction and management, there needs to be evidence of how the process has enhanced and strengthened through the use of technology. How does MCPS facilitate in the learning and use of technology in the strategic plan?

* Ms. Gutiérrez rejoined the meeting at this point.

Mrs. King asked if Global Access could successfully be put in a school that is scheduled for modernization. Dr. Villani stated that scenario is avoided because the wiring would be replaced at the time of modernization.

Ms. Prager confirmed that the effects of Global Access can already be seen in the schools and the opportunities provided to the students. Her concern was the training for the students since information is only accessible through training and knowledge of the technology. She asked if there were any guidelines across the county for students to received training possibly through English classes? Dr. Villani stated that MCPS is developing some expectations for student learning in technology. It is delivered in the context of the academic areas. In Global Access schools, teachers are trained to train the students to use the technology tools available to them. Students are also taught to assess the validity of the information and make critical judgments.

Ms. Prager asked if the county has looked at a class that could be offered in the school curriculum that would teach more about the use of technology? Dr. Villani responded that there is an advanced applications’ class.

Ms. Gutiérrez asked if the computer applications’ course has been revised to be current with present day technology? Dr. Villani replied that course has not been updated since it is taught in career education. The change in the curriculum will be driven by the ability of the schools to use the technology.

Ms. Gutiérrez inquired about the two major drivers of equity and accessibility and how the school system is focusing on that in a strategic plan? Dr. Villani relied that he has a group of principals and staff working to look at criteria to use in the next seven years to bring schools on line. There is a process for identifying schools based (1) education load and (2) hardware capability. Those schools needing the most will be done first.

Ms. Gutiérrez requested information about the connectivity of administrative offices, such as Rocking Horse Road with the Head Start and ESOL programs. Dr. Villani replied that all administrative offices will be connected by this winter.
