Re: FINAL LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Mrs. Stoner reported on the following topics:

Funding
Overarching the many education-related bills considered by the 1998 General Assembly was the issue of additional funding for at-risk students proposed initially by the Task Force on Education Funding Equity, Accountability and Partnerships. Although HB 1 - School Accountability Funding for Excellence (SAFE), which incorporated the Task Force proposal, passed the House in late January, the Senate did not give serious consideration to the bill until the last two weeks of the session. After intensive review by a small Senate work group and consideration by the Senate Budget and Taxation Education Subcommittee, the bill and its Senate counterpart, SB 171, passed the full committee in early April with a number of amendments. These included: additional program and assessment requirements in order to receive state funding for Limited English Proficient students; an additional $2 million for a teacher mentoring program in Prince George's County Public Schools similar to the one in Baltimore County; very prescriptive accountability requirements for Prince George's County Public Schools related to the additional funding for the Effective Schools and Magnet Schools Programs; redirection of the additional public school library funding to elementary schools only with a required match of new local funds for this purpose; and enhanced assessment and reporting requirements by LEAs for the entire SAFE program.

An uncodified amendment, initially in HB 171 describing the school construction provisions for Prince George's County, was deleted after being added to a local Prince George's County bill, HB 657 - Prince George's County - School Construction. As filed, HB 657 would permit the Prince George's County Board of Education to construct a school on property owned by another county agency where joint use would be permitted. As you are aware from the numerous newspaper articles on this subject, the final solution, included in HB 657, guarantees $35 million in state school construction aid for Prince George’s County for each of the next four years to be shared on a 75%/25% state/local ratio for school construction costs. The aid will be rescinded if any party to the Prince George’s County agreement ending court-ordered busing abrogates the agreement.

Although the capital and operating budgets together allocate $222 million for school construction, $129.5 million in bonds, $88.5 million in PAYGO and $4 million in recycled funds, the county allocations have not yet been decided by the Board of Public Works. The governor declined to answer a question to this effect at the Montgomery County Delegation press conference on Tuesday.

Audit Review
On the last night of session, an amended version of HB 1212 - Retirement Contributions - Local School systems - Review of Audit Determinations finally passed. With Roger Titus' strong support, we nursed it through the Senate over the weekend as the state Department of Management and Budget worked hard to kill the bill since it diminishes their authority. As passed, the audit appeal still will go initially to the Department where the hearing officer would now be an attorney and a transcript would be available at cost. Additionally, the enrolled bill would permit an LEA to appeal an adverse decision to the Office of Administrative Hearings (OAH), which will issue a written decision within 45 days after the hearing record closes. This decision will be the final finding of fact and conclusion of law binding all parties. The law becomes effective on June 1, 1998 and will apply to any pending appeals. Deleted as part of the compromise was the section that would have called this kind of appeal a contested case subject to judicial review.

Escheat
Despite the simplicity of this bill, which clarifies the limitation period within which relatives may file a refund claim after distribution of property to local boards from a deceased person’s estate, it also did not pass until the final session day because the House Judiciary Committee and the Senate Judiciary Committee were holding bills filed by the opposite house’s committee members. Only after Senator Forehand told her Senate Committee that the bill’s primary sponsor was no longer a member of the House Judiciary Committee was the bill released by the Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee and sent to the Senate floor for easy passage.

Pesticides
This was another issue on which the final decision was not reached until the last session day. Unfortunately, the bill preferred by the Board - HB 286 - Public Schools - Integrated Pest Management was significantly amended by the House and further amended by the Senate, primarily to correct incongruous provisions in the amended House bill. In addition to the Integrated Pest Management notice required at the beginning of each school year, the legislation will require universal notification of elementary school parents and staff at least 24 hours prior to a pesticide application although in secondary schools only those on a notification list must be informed. These mandates are effective for the 1999-2000 school year, although schools are urged to implement them as far as possible next year.

Pensions
Still, another bill of interest to public school educators achieved final form on the last day of the session. Amended first by the House and then by the Senate, the House on Monday agreed to concur in the Senate amendments permitting the proposal to become law. Among the final provisions applicable to all current members of the Teachers’ Pension System who must join the new system are the following:

- 1.4% multiplier, rather than the current bifurcated multiplier for future service;
- 1.2% multiplier for past service;
- 2% employee contribution;
- no additional vesting period in the new system;
- no transfer offset for those members who transferred into the Pension System from the Retirement System;
- optional defined contribution for state government employees only;
- compound COLA for retirees; and
- a study of various issues that were not able to be resolved prior to Sine Die.

The overall cost to the state of this new pension plan is estimated to be $150 million annually.

Charter Schools
HB 999 - Task Force on Public Charter Schools was completely changed from the original version and turned into a bill that creates a twelve-member task force made up of four legislators, the state Superintendent of schools, a local Superintendent, a principal of an established Maryland charter school, a parent of a Maryland public charter school student, and one member of each of the following: the State Board of Education, MSTA, AFT-Maryland, and a local Board of education. The Task Force is charged with reviewing the original HB 999 and other states’ laws on charter schools and recommending legislation by December 1, 1998 for the 1999 General Assembly that will ensure that Maryland public charter schools will qualify for federal assistance.

Late Filed Senate Bills
In the final weeks of the session, two late-filed Senate bills that had not come to the Board assumed an active life, moving quickly through both houses. The first bill, SB 723 - Public Schools Confidentiality of Student Records, initially added home address and phone number of students to the list of records that should not be made available to the public. The bill was amended by the Senate and House to permit alumni, parent, teacher and student groups, and the military or any person engaged by a school or Board of Education to confirm a home address or phone number to have access to these two records.

SB 791 - Task Force to Study Work-Based Learning and Apprenticeship Programs was initially filed as an alternative to another bill that would have required any school construction project contractor to have an approved and registered apprenticeship program. As originally filed, SB 791 would have required contractors to negotiate with an LEA to establish a work-based learning program. Because the differences between these two proposals could not be reconciled in the waning days of the session, the sponsor agreed to the establishment of a 14-member task force to review the issues and make recommendations on how to expand and improve work-based learning and apprenticeship programs involved with public school construction projects statewide by December 15, 1999.

Other Issues
Although the statewide bomb threat bills - SB 101 and HB 219 were killed by the House Judiciary and Senate Judicial Proceedings Committees, a local Anne Arundel bill - HB 1307 survived in the House by an assignment to the Ways and Means Committee. However, when it moved to the Senate, a killer amendment was added that would have applied the provisions statewide.

An amended HB 443 - English Language - Formal Recognition passed the House, but languished in the Senate EEA Committee where the Senate version had been recommitted by the full Senate in early March. No further action taken on either bill before sine die.

The State Department of Education has established a work group to review the issue of assuring that the causes, effects and lessons of mass starvation in Ireland in the nineteenth century are covered in history classes throughout Maryland as a follow-up to the failure of companion bills, SB 16 and HB 242 - Education - School Systems - Required Curriculum in the House Ways and Means Committee.

HJR 15 - Class Size Reduction Program - Appointment of Special Study Committee passed in the form of a seventeen member committee with a directive to report findings and recommendations to the governor and General Assembly by December 1, 1999.

Two major labor bills supported by MSTA received little support. SB 544 - Labor Relations Between Public Employers and Designated Employee Organizations did not even receive a hearing in the Senate Finance Committee. HB 1007 - Education - Professional Educators - Certification did have a hearing in the House Ways and Means Committee, but no vote was taken. Clearly, the energies of MSTA and legislators on their behalf were concentrated on assuring that an improved pension bill passed.
Attached is the final status of bills on which the Board took a position. After official copies of the bills that passed are printed, I will send you copies. Unfortunately, the enrolled bills that passed on the last day of session were not yet printed when I was in Annapolis yesterday. Attached also are the state aid allocations, including the aid authorized under HB 1, except for the $4.3 million in additional aid for Baltimore City and the $2.2 million for Prince George’s County, which will be distributed after January 1, 1999 as a deficiency appropriation.

Re: BELL TIMES

Dr. Vance invited the following people to the table: Mr. David Fischer, associate superintendent for the Office of Supportive Services; Dr. Hiawatha Fountain, associate superintendent for the Office of Pupil and Community Services; Dr. Steven Seleznow, associate superintendent for the Office of School Administration; Ms. Elizabeth Boone, facilitator of the Bell Times Work Group; Dr. Patricia Flynn, director of the Department of Academic Programs; Dr. Marlene Hartzman, director of the Department of Educational Accountability; and Mr. John Matthews, transportation specialist.

After reviewing the work of the Bell Times Work Group, Dr. Vance recommended that a community interagency task force be appointed that would design an action plan that involved all segments of the community to address the health and welfare of adolescents with respect to sleep deprivation. He recommended that the charge to the task force be structured to allow the flexibility to find creative solutions within the purview of the school system, with recommendations as they may relate to other agencies, organizations, and individuals. The report should be ready to present to the Board of Education before the end of the calendar year to allow time to review implications as they may relate to the Operating Budget for Fiscal Year 2000.

 Ms. Gutiérrez joined the meeting at this point.

Mr. Felton stated that he was willing to support the Superintendent’s recommendation even though he wanted to move more quickly on this initiative. This was an issue of the quality of life and an interest within the community.

Ms. Signer thanked Dr. Vance and Mr. Fischer for the work they had done on this subject. She agreed with staff that bell times should not be a fiscal issue, but one that relates to the health and well being of MCPS students. She supported the Superintendent’s recommendation even though there was the risk of over-analysis. The deadline by the end of the calendar year was too late, especially in relationship to the purchase of the needed new buses if bell times were changed. Mr. Fischer replied that the bid was submitted in early September, but if it was included in the bid, the time could be extended to late November.
Ms. Signer asked the Superintendent to explore the options and feasibility of the start times in Aurora and Denver, Colorado. Also, she wanted the details on the composition of the Interagency Task Force on Bell Times.

Ms. Gutiérrez was pleased with the recommendation from the Superintendent. She was concerned about a community interagency task force to design an action plan. Bell times were the purview of the Board of Education and it should be up to the school system to establish specific plans based on research and experience. She thought it was an operations problem. The Board should establish the times and staff could work out the details. She thought that the school system should present two proposals to the community and receive input with recommendations to the Board in July or August. If the Board was serious about moving forward, a pilot could be arranged within one or two clusters.

 Mr. Ewing joined the meeting at this point.

Dr. Cheung agreed with the Superintendent’s recommendations because it affects families, businesses, and society at large. He asked for academic data on students participating in competitive sports (ice skating, swimming, etc.) that required them to practice very early in the morning.

Ms. Wheat volunteered to serve on the Interagency Task Force on Bell Times.

Mr. Ewing supported the Superintendent’s recommendation that would take a broader look at the issue. Until the Board had more information, it would be difficult to make a decision. The issue raised by the Hispanic Alliance was important since there are students that must work.

RESOLUTION NO. 281-98 Re: BELL TIMES

On motion of Ms. Signer moved and seconded by Dr. Cheung, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the Board of Education direct the Superintendent to appoint a community interagency task force that would design an action plan that involved all segments of the community to address the health and welfare of adolescents with respect to sleep deprivation; and be it further

Resolved, That the Superintendent’s charge to the task force be structured to allow the flexibility to find creative solutions within the purview of the school system, with recommendations as they may relate to other agencies, organizations, and individuals; and be it further
Resolved, The report should be ready to present to the Board of Education in November, 1998, to allow time to review implications as they may relate to the Operating Budget for Fiscal Year 2000.

Re: FY 1999 OPERATING BUDGET

Mr. Bowers and Dr. Spatz reported that on April 14, 1998, the County Council adopted revised spending affordability guidelines (SAG) for the FY 1999 Operating Budget. Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) received an allocation of $936,100,000 for tax-supported expenditures (excluding grants and enterprise funds). On February 10, 1998, the Board of Education adopted its FY 1999 Operating Budget Request as amended to reflect the negotiated agreements with its three employee organizations. The SAG portion of the budget request totals $956,411,192. This leaves a difference of $20,311,192 or 2.1 percent of the budget.

As part of its operating budget review process, the Council voted to provide each committee with targets based on spending affordability allocations. The Education Committee's target for MCPS will be $936.1 million, but it will have an opportunity to put additional expenditures on a "wish list" for Council review.

On February 23, 1998, the Board of Education adopted a list of non-recommended reductions totaling $39,811,192, the amount that the operating budget request exceeded the SAG allocation then in effect. This was necessary to comply with the SAG law. At that time I stated that "Once we receive a more precise estimate of what reductions will be needed based on available resources, we will prepare a more specific listing of nonrecommended reduction alternatives. Based on this list, the Board of Education will be able to inform the county executive and the County Council the amount and potential consequences of possible reductions." Now that the final allocation is established and potential revenues more clearly known, it is appropriate to address potential non-recommended reductions so that the Council will understand the serious consequences of reductions in the Board's requested budget.

Although the Council should fund the full amount requested by the Board, it was recommended that the Board consider alternatives for these potential reductions. Cuts in existing services would be extremely harmful to classroom instruction and make it more difficult to achieve the outcomes that the Board has endorsed related to the improvement initiatives. Nevertheless, to the extent that the Board provides guidance concerning its priorities, the Council will have the best possible information available to make its budget decisions.

Ms. Gutiérrez asked if the state aid had been excluded from the figures since MCPS cannot expend those funds except for the targeted populations. Mr. Bowers replied that that was not the assumption of the County Executive or County Council. The legislative bill for at-risk children would be provided to the Board. Ms. Gutiérrez noted that the Maryland State Department of Education would not provide guidelines since the bill was clear and based on ESOL populations. The bill should not be broadened and the County Executive’s assumption was wrong. The Board should clarify this point and stand very firm that the state aid will not supplant MCPS funding.

Mrs. King thought that there was a phrase in the bill that if the school system was spending $1,350 per ESOL student, the funds could be used for at-risk students across the board. Dr. Spatz replied that there was a provision in the bill that if improved funding was met, the money could be diverted to other at-risk students.

Mr. Ewing thought that the issue about use of state aid was extremely confusing to the Board, Council, and others. He asked to what extent could the Board assume that it would be able to use in a fungible way the state aid. The school system knows that the money was restricted, but the Board did not know if every last dollar was earmarked for a specific issue. Therefore, using the $10 million to cut the deficit was not a good approach by the County Executive. Since state aid was restricted and did not further the Board’s priorities, that money presented a problem. It would behoove the Board to communicate with the Governor and legislators to clarify its position on earmarked state aid since this issue had persisted for two years.

If the Board did not give the Council specifics on non-recommended reductions, the Council would invent reductions based on their staff’s analysis. Therefore, it was important for the Board to convey its priorities to the Council. However, the Council could fund the entire MCPS budget since there were sufficient revenue. Mr. Ewing suggested identifying $10 - 12 million non-recommended reductions and making it clear to the Council that reductions beyond that point would be harmful to the school system.

Mr. Felton agreed with Mr. Ewing’s approach, but he could not reduce instructional categories. To delay an increase was one issue, but he would not support identifying further reductions.

Mrs. Gordon stated that she would not support any of the Superintendent’s recommendations. She believed that there was a time when the Board could have devoted substantial time to prepare a list to identify non-recommended reductions. She would not support anything that reduced instructional categories by any amount.

Ms. Signer stated that she would not support the Superintendent’s recommended list of non-recommended reductions. Apart from not reducing instructional categories, she had concerns about other reductions, such as a 4.6 percent reduction in the employee health plan.
Dr. Cheung agreed with his colleagues regarding SAG and the recommendations of the Superintendent. There should be no impact on the instructional programs, especially since the county had the resources. He was willing to support the first 14 items on the Superintendent’s list for a non-recommended reduction of $13 million.

Mr. Ewing suggested that the Board provide the Council with the Superintendent’s list with the caveat that the Board did not agree with the reductions and enumerate the principles. In the alternative, the Board could identify a few items, but the Council would not be satisfied.

Mrs. Gordon pointed out that the Education Committee had to provide reductions in the school system’s budget to comply with the Council’s procedures. They would use the Board’s list, Superintendent’s list, or something completely different. The non-recommended reductions should have been sent at the same time the budget was sent to the County Executive in order for the Board to have had time for reasonable consideration of such a list. That list would have set the priorities and implications of those reductions.

Mr. Ewing suggested that the Board take an approach that would make it the most effective in what the Council eventually did. The Superintendent’s recommendations could be sent to the Council with an explanation that the Board was appalled by the reductions and reasonably state the implications and impact on MCPS programs.

Re: A MOTION BY MR. FELTON ON THE FY 1999 OPERATING BUDGET (Failed)

On motion of Mr. Felton and seconded by Dr. Cheung to prepare a list that would include Item 1 and 3 - 14 from the Superintendent’s recommendations which totals approximately $10 million and representing one-half of the identified deficit, failed with Dr. Cheung and Mr. Felton voting in the affirmative; Mr. Ewing, Mrs. Gordon, Ms. Gutiérrez, and Mrs. King voting in the negative; Ms. Signer and (Ms. Wheat) abstaining.

Re: DARNESTOWN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL SERVICE AREA

On motion of Mr. Ewing and seconded by Mrs. King, the following resolution was placed on the table:

Resolved, That Board of Education allow students in the Darnestown Elementary School service area who are now in Grades 9, 10, and 11 to choose to attend Quince Orchard High School rather than the Northwest High School; and be it further

Resolved, That this motion, if approved by the Board, would be done as amendment to past action and in conjunction with existing policy.

Re: DISCUSSION

Mr. Ewing thought this motion was a minor adjustment in the assignment of classes and urged the Board to make that determination.

Ms. Signer stated that she would not support the motion because she thought it was a reconsideration of a boundary decision and not a good precedent. First, it was out of the normal CIP cycle, and second, it is a major change with no community input. This particular boundary assignment had been legally challenged by the community, and the school system prevailed. The Board would lose credibility if it now changed its position. She would be willing to consider individual student transfers.
Mr. Ewing replied that there was virtue in consistency; however, there was virtue in recognizing that a decision did not account for all the data that illustrated there was space available.

Mrs. Gordon thought the recommended change was major and set a dangerous precedent. While there may be space at Quince Orchard High School, it would have a negative impact on the Northwest High School.

Re: DARNESTOWN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL SERVICE AREA (Failed)

On motion of Mr. Ewing and seconded by Mrs. King, the following resolution failed with Mr. Ewing voting in the affirmative; Dr. Cheung, Mr. Felton, Mrs. Gordon, Ms. Gutiérrez, Mrs. King, Ms. Signer, and Ms. Wheat voting in the negative:

Resolved, That Board of Education allow students in the Darnestown Elementary School service area who are now in Grades 9, 10, and 11 to choose to attend Quince Orchard High School rather than the Northwest High School; and be it further

Resolved, That this motion, if approved by the Board, would be done as amendment to past action and in conjunction with existing policy.

For the Record: Mr. Ewing asked the Superintendent to communicate with the parents of students in the Darnestown Elementary School service area who are now in Grades 9, 10, and 11 and inform them that student transfers will be reviewed on an individual basis.

Re: NEW BUSINESS

Ms. Signer moved and Mr. Felton seconded the following:

WHEREAS, The Ethics Panel has raised issues about conflicts between Policy BBB, Ethics Policy, and Policy GCA, Conflict of Interest Including Other Employment of School System Personnel; and

WHEREAS, The Maryland General Assembly has enacted legislation modifying the Teachers' Pension System, with the goal of providing a more generous benefit to retirees; and

WHEREAS, The overall cost to the state of this new pension plan is estimated to be $150 million annually; and

WHEREAS, MCPS pays a 10 percent supplement above the benefits provided by the current Maryland State Teachers' retirement and pension systems; and

Resolved, That the Audit Committee explore the advantages, disadvantages, and feasibility of a defined contribution retirement plan for MCPS employees; and be it further

Resolved, That the Audit Committee report its findings and recommendations to the Board of Education and that the Board schedule time no later than June 30, 1998, for discussion of and action on the Audit Committee’s report.

For the Record: Ms. Gutiérrez stated that this was an unnecessary motion because staff would have commented on the Teachers’ Pension Plan.
