Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Dr. Vance took special pleasure in the development of innovative and exciting partnerships between Montgomery County Public Schools and the community. There were two such recent partnerships that deserve special note.

On Wednesday, January 13, a demonstration of "Health Curriculum Online," a computer-based curriculum initiated by the National Institutes of Health, would take place at Wheaton High School. Dr. Vivian Pinn, director of the NIH Office of Research on Women's Health, would lead the demonstration, along with science teachers from the high school who played a major role in developing the curriculum. Wheaton High School was one of only three high schools nationwide that had piloted the curriculum. This wonderful new educational opportunity would allow students to explore their family and community health risks to determine their own health profile and appropriate lifestyle decisions. Dr. Vance congratulated Wheaton High School staff and students for the central role they had played in developing what would be a nationally-available learning opportunity.

"Sharing Our Community" was the theme of a new full-color calendar featuring the artwork of students at Gaithersburg High School -- and the calendar itself was an example of community sharing and cooperation.

Fernando Lulli, a Gaithersburg businessman, initiated the project, and the art teachers and students at Gaithersburg High School had produced a beautiful design with a cover featuring photographs of Gaithersburg High School and the train station. Mr. Lulli deserved thanks for printing and distributing the calendar. Congratulations to all the students and teachers who made this project such a success.

Ms. Signer noted that just before the winter break, she had visited James H. Blake and Paint Branch high schools to observe the consortium schools. It is truly an academic renaissance with cutting-edge instruction. The students, staff, and administrators are enthusiastic and represent what is best in MCPS. She thanked the staff for making the consortium a success.
Mrs. King remarked that she and Mr. Butler had met with the MCR delegates at Sherwood High School. She was amazed at how articulate the students were in presenting their issues and concerns.

Mr. Felton commented on the dinner meeting with the Montgomery County delegation. The dialogue was very positive in reviewing priorities for the coming year. Out of that meeting came a commitment to continue open dialogue and communication to ensure a partnership for education in Montgomery County. Also, Maryland was one of five states that had an accountability report card. The community should be proud that Maryland had taken aggressive action, and Montgomery County must continue to be a model for school districts in the state and throughout the nation.

Mr. Burnett expressed his pleasure at becoming a member of the Board of Education. For him, it was a dream that had come true. He had a lot of support from many people across the county, and he was looking forward to the challenge. He thought MCPS was the best in the country, and he was looking forward to making it even greater and a model for everyone to look up to.
