Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the county executive and County Council.

Re: DISCUSSION

Ms. Signer would not support the request for a grant proposal for a number of reasons. Although it had been labeled as a teacher development program, in fact, acceptance of the grant funds requires the use of one of three NSF math curricula. In effect, it is a curriculum change. Also not included in the green sheet is the fact that MCPS is required to match 1 to 2 million dollars. She had asked at the May 11 meeting for information on this grant because she stated then that this was a curriculum change. The Board never received any of that information. Over the last several days, she had the opportunity to review the NSF materials, the three curricula that MCPS would be required to use, and she was troubled by what was in those curriculum documents. Finally, she was not willing to accept any curriculum change whether in this guise or any other guise until the Board received Dr Weast's input.

Dr. Smith commented that the grant did not require MCPS to have matching funds. It did require MCPS to provide in-kind support, such as office space, the use of telephones, computers, and the staff who would be working with NSF grant staff.

Mr. Abrams supported the resolution. Staff had been terrific in keeping him informed on this specific project. The concern that was expressed by Ms. Signer concerned the transition to the new Superintendent. It was clear that the Board was a continuing body.
The next Superintendent had made it clear that he anticipated that all work would continue, and he was aware of this grant and supported it. With regard to other aspects, there was a very fine line between curriculum review and grant issues. The Board may want to discuss that in the future. However, he was confident of the recommendations, and he would support the resolution.

Mrs. King asked if accepting the grant was a curriculum change or not? Dr. Flynn stated that it was not a curriculum change, but teacher enhancement. The requirement of the grant is that the grantee examine exemplary standard-based reform materials.

Mrs. Gordon shared Ms. Signer's concerns. In fact, in state law the Board is given authority to approval not only curriculum but textbooks and instructional materials. She believed that this resolution came under instructional materials. She would support the resolution with the clarification that had been made. She wanted to make it clear that the new business item adopted on June 21, 1999, needs to come to Board because it have not taken advantage of having to approve every book and instructional material because it had been left to staff. She was concerned if the Board was not included, there would be a revision to the policy which would require every piece of instructional materials and textbooks to come to the Board as it is done elsewhere in the state.

Mr. Burnett thanked staff for their help in understanding this grant. He saw it as enhancement/training and not as a curriculum change. He thought it was a supplement to what MCPS is currently doing.

Mrs. O'Neill also thanked staff for answering her questions, especially whether this was a revision to curriculum by adding rigor to the program, there was a great deal of misinformation in the community about this issue. She had confidence in NSF as a well-respected organization with high standards. This was a pilot intended to enhance teacher training, and not a curriculum revision. Therefore, she would support the resolution.

Mr. Felton asked staff to clarify the specific use of the funds and if there were any strings attached to those funds. Dr. Flynn responded that the planning grant from the NSF would help develop strategies, including higher education partnerships. The total amount of the grant would be over $6 million over 5 years. The other important element of the grant would be the needs assessment in certification in math, especially middle school teachers.

Ms. Signer was surprised to hear Dr. Flynn say that the resolution was not a curriculum change, because earlier in the week that it was a curriculum change. That points out a problem of having individual conversations with Board members. The Board should not do business that way. Dr. Flynn clarified that if she suggested that the grant was a curriculum change, then she apologized for miscommunication. The grant was not a curriculum change. This grant helps get math information into the hands of teachers of middle schools.

Mr. Felton asked if this were per pupil expenditure, but he still wanted staff to continue to capture the costs to educate students at different levels, such as signature programs and the like.

Mrs. Gordon agreed with Mr. Felton. Last year’s discussion related to special education and the range of costs per student. Board staff did the research, and she would like the results.

Mr. Bowers replied that there was a response to last year’s inquiry. The varying rate will be charged for each special education student because the services are specific for that child based on the IEP.

Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Mr. Abrams wanted to speak on Item 4.0 (teacher evaluation) that was deleted. It was deleted at the request of some of the members of the Board, and the president in his infinite wisdom went along with that. He did not have a problem with this being deferred until the August meeting, but he wanted to quote something Ms. Signer had said -- “the Board should not do business that way.” Mr. Abrams thought that was something worthwhile keeping in mind. In fact, teacher evaluation from previous Board discussions indicated that the full Board would discuss and examine the issue, and not be delegated to a subcommittee of the Board for action. He had read quite a bit about what the Research and Evaluation Subcommittee had done, and he was looking forward to this evening so that the full Board would engage in that conversation to reflect the flavor of the discussion of the body rather than the subcommittee. He hoped that with this item deleted and held until the August 24th meeting, that there would be no further action by the Research and Evaluation Subcommittee, as the President and he discussed when this item was deleted. Mr. Abrams simply wanted to make a public comment on that and have the President, in fact, affirm that conversation.

Mr. Felton agreed, as they had discussed, that the teacher evaluation item would be on the agenda at the next meeting. He stated that there were some points to be clarified, and certainly wanted to give the opportunity for comment to our new Superintendent.
Mr. Abrams reiterated that there would be no further action taken by the Research and Evaluation Subcommittee prior to the discussion on the 24th on that item.

Mr. Felton indicated that the subcommittee would present the item at the next meeting with their recommendation for a full-Board discussion.

Mrs. Gordon commented that the item was not removed just by the Research and Evaluation Committee. There was a recommendation from the Research and Evaluation Subcommittee with the concurrence of the Superintendent, Deputy Superintendent, the Chief Financial Officer, and the President of MCEA that the item was not ready to come forward to the full Board and needed additional work. She did not know what conversations Mr. Abrams had with the Board President, but they will be ready on the 24th given that there is time as has been indicated by staff and Mr. Simon that there will be time to conclude the work that needed to be done. If that work had not been concluded, she did not know whether staff will be ready to bring it forward or not.

Mr. Abrams was glad she mentioned her conversations with Mr. Simon. He would only share with her his conversations with Mr. Simon, who also shared the same concerns that he expressed this evening.

Mrs. Gordon noted that she attended Maryland Board of Education meeting where there was a discussion about the census administration of CTBS/5 norm-referenced test as a new requirement for all systems. This will be a significant change for many of the districts. This was brought to the attention of MABE and MCPS staff. She contacted each and every board president and received some responses. There was a discussion on July 28 at the State Board meeting about the last minute attempt by local boards to “submarine” this change. It was stated that local superintendents had the information, and it was the their responsibility to information local boards regarding the change in policy. When there is a policy change, the State Board has the obligation to inform local boards. She wants the Board to know of the very significant change and impact that this will have on MCPS' testing program as well as MSPAP. There are budgetary, programmatic, and reporting implications for MCPS.

Mrs. King thanked Dr. Vance for being a great superintendent and a mentor, and she will miss him.

Mr. Burnett commented the the last six months of working with Dr. Vance had been a pleasure. Dr. Vance had guided him in many ways. He looked forward to continuing their friendship.

Ms. Signer reported that she had visited Winston Churchill High School undergoing on site modernization. Board members should visit the school during implementation of this process. Also, every community who wants an on-site modernization should visit during this process. This is only the beginning and her children were stunned when they saw where they would be attending classes. She thanked Dr. Vance for his years of services as well as his personal kindness shown to her. He had touched the lives of staff, parents, and, especially, the children.

Mrs. O’Neill noted that last week she had attended the County Council’s Education Committee recommended unanimously that MCPS accelerate middle school modernizations. There was concern and desire to accelerate all modernizations. The Committee recommended modernizing two middle schools over the course of three years. She appreciated all of Dr. Vance’s advice, dedication, and leadership.

Mr. Abrams thanked Dr. Vance for his leadership and looked forward to breakfasts to keep him grounded.

Mrs. Gordon noted that she and Dr. Vance came to Montgomery County at the same time. She knew that he had dedicated his life to the children of Montgomery County. In her interactions with him as area superintendent, deputy superintendent, and superintendent, she appreciated everything he had done, especially the involvement of parents.

Mr. Felton joined his colleagues in thanking Dr. Vance for his tremendous leadership. There is a Vance legacy, and we are proud to share in his vision.

Dr. Vance stated that he did not handle these moments very well. But, if anything, the county, and in particular our school system, is gaining a strong advocate for public education and for all things that are right about Montgomery County and the quality of life. The Brookings Institute report was published, and it gave credibility to what MCPS have been saying for quite some time. The issues and social concerns they raised, were the same that the Board and MCPS had been dealing with for decades. The potential for divisiveness in this megalopolis is as great as the report pointed out. The decisiveness was no longer based on race, but cultural, language and the distribution of wealth. A lot depends on the economic viability and strength of Montgomery County. The school system is a major driver for the future quality of life for our county. He left by punctuating the outstanding work that boards had done dealing with policy issues and management of the school system to make certain that there is a continuation for the drive to be a world class institute. Recently, there was a convocation of fourteen wealthy suburban school systems to discuss and pool resources to deal with the achievement gaps between Blacks and Latinos and White and Asian students. The guest speaker was Dr. Edmund Gordon and the report sounded very familiar. The point was that MCPS was far ahead of that curve. Recently, he reviewed what MCPS was doing in the early primary years, and the progress MCPS had made mathematics and other initiatives. MCPS is not there yet in solving the problems, but it is closer than other school systems. He thanked the Board for allowing him to be a leader in MCPS.
