On recommendation of the Superintendent and on motion of Mr. Felton seconded by Mrs. O’Neill, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Mr. Lange expressed his appreciation to staff for their numerous activities this summer.

Mr. Abrams reported that he attended the MACO Conference in Ocean City where there was a panel on education discussing teacher recruitment and retention. One of the presenters was the Maryland Teacher of the Year from Howard County. Howard County is involved in a project using devices that are sponsored by Ether Systems and the Sylvan Learning Centers. Mr. Abrams asked the superintendent to research interactive wireless computers for the classroom.

Mrs. O’Neill expressed her thanks to staff who had worked so hard this summer to make sure facilities were ready and teachers were hired. The New Teacher Welcome was exciting because the teachers were filled with enthusiasm and ready to teach their students.

Mr. Burnett was pleased that staff was ready for a new school year. This Board has many good things that will happen this year.

Ms. Cox echoed her colleagues for a successful school year.

Mr. Felton congratulated staff for their hiring efforts, and he was pleased that MCPS was a school system of choice for many new teachers.

Mrs. King stated that every summer she is amazed at the amount of work that takes place. With many construction sites, staff has outdone itself in getting ready for the new school year. It was exciting to watch the new teachers’ enthusiasm at their recent orientation. She also talked to the new teachers about how they found job opportunities on the MCPS website, and they were impressed by the website, which identified staff support.

Dr. Weast reported that the results of the 2001 SAT 1: Reasoning Test were being released nationwide on August 28. The continuing disparity by race and ethnicity in student achievement within MCPS is reflected in the 2001 SAT results and underscores a fundamental disparity that strikes at the core of the school system’s academic mission.
White students achieved an overall average score of 1154, the highest average score ever reported, and Asian American students increased to an average score of 1127. However, the average score for African American students fell by four points to 911, and the score for Hispanic students declined by 11 points to 949. The lowest scores were among students affected heavily by poverty, English language development, and fewest years of schooling in MCPS.

Dr. Weast was impressed that the energy and commitment essential for the success of the school system’s core initiatives were abundantly present at the ceremonies to welcome new teachers, held at Walt Whitman High School on August 27, 2001. Among the interesting statistics about these new teachers is that they have been hired from 32 states, Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia, and Spain, but more than half come from Maryland. Not all the new hires are novices. Less than half of them (47 percent) are new to teaching.

Dr. Weast noted that the MCPS website has been redesigned. The web team has been working on this improved site for several months, and the results are well worth waiting for. It was designed using data from an online survey of MCPS website users, and in consultation with staff, parents, and other community members. It is interactive, attractive, and full of easy-to-find information.

Re: UPDATE ON HIRING

Dr. Elizabeth Arons, associate superintendent for the Office of Human Resources, reported that a successful New Teacher Welcome was held on August 27, 2001, with 1,057 new teachers in attendance. The new teacher training had the highest number of participants yet, with 994 attending the classes. Both the retirement rate and resignation rate for teachers is down from last year with only 240 (2.3 percent) teachers retiring and 614 (6 percent) resigning. Nationwide, these figures can be as high as 15 percent, and MCPS’s turnover rate is significantly lower than that of surrounding jurisdictions.

The new teacher cadre is an outstanding group. MCPS offered more than 1,145 contracts with only 82 candidates declining, for an acceptance rate of 93 percent. This rate was 5 percentage points higher than last year’s acceptance rate of 88 percent. The school system’s database of resumes increased from 10,000 to 15,000 resumes this year. Of the new group of teachers, 21 percent are male, 15.6 percent are African American, 4.4 percent are Asian, and 3 percent Hispanic. There are 51 new male teachers at the elementary level. Twenty-three percent of the new teachers speak a second language – 14 percent Spanish, 5 percent French, and 3 percent Chinese, Japanese, or Korean. The school system’s critical shortage fields are well covered, with 68 new math teachers, 26 new Spanish teachers, 10 new French teachers, and 115 new special education teachers.

MCPS always has last-minute vacancies due to open-contract teachers who change their minds, teachers who retire prior to the opening of schools, or new allocations for growth or lower class size. At this time, there are 40 full-time vacancies. One principal vacancy and one assistant principal vacancy exist. The 35 new principals, who have an average of 14 years of administrative experience, are 17 percent African American, 3 percent Hispanic, and 3 percent Asian. All supporting services positions are fully staffed.

Re: DISCUSSION

Ms. Cox asked how many new hires resign within the first five years. Dr. Arons responded that resignations average 8 to 9 percent, which is lower than nationwide data. Staff will analyze the impact of support and staff development for new teachers. Dr. Weast added that the nationwide turnover is 10 to 12 percent, with 40 percent of new teachers resigning. However, there are some issues about whether teaching was the right career choice for
Mr. Felton inquired about mentoring the new teachers and principals. Dr. Arons answered that all new teachers, whether experienced or not, will be assigned a mentor. Through a grant, some second- and third-year teachers in high educational load schools also will have mentors. Mr. Felton was pleased that teachers with second language skills were hired.

Mrs. King asked how many new teachers are MCPS graduates. Dr. Arons responded that according to anecdotal data, about 25 percent of the new teachers are MCPS graduates.

Mr. Abrams asked Dr. Arons to provide the following: (1) what percentage of new hires have graduate degrees; (2) what is the average age of the workforce; and (3) what percentage of the workforce is eligible to retire.

Mr. Lange asked how many employees have entered teaching as a second career.

WHEREAS, Staff recommends that the revised procedures be adopted and incorporated in the Board of Education’s procedures for Minority Business Enterprise participation on state- and locally-funded projects; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the July 14, 1998, procedures for Minority Business Enterprise participation adopted by the Board of Education be modified to include the changes to state statutes that were approved with the passage of Maryland State House Bill 306.

Re: UPDATE ON SCHOOL FACILITIES/ CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

Mr. Richard Hawes, director of the Department of Facilities Management, reported that there were three modernizations, three additions, and one new facility under construction and scheduled for partial or complete occupancy in August. The Department of Facilities Management also is responsible for hundreds of facility projects this summer that will be completed before the opening of school in September. The following is a brief status report of the major projects:
Winston Churchill High School
This facility is undergoing a phased modernization. The final phases of the project are nearing completion. All of the interior spaces will be available for use when school begins, with the exception of 10 classrooms and the main lobby area adjacent to the gymnasium. Relocatables will be utilized until the remaining classrooms are completed. The demolition of the D wing has been completed, and work has begun on the new parking lot. The new parking lot and the balance of the project work will be completed by November 1, 2001. The fire marshal’s preliminary inspection was performed on August 15, 2001. All life safety concerns are being addressed.

Thomas S. Wootton High School
This facility is undergoing a phased addition and an interior renovation project. The first-phase addition has been completed, and work within the existing building, along with the reconstruction of the staff parking lot, will be completed prior to the beginning of school. The second-phase addition is scheduled to be completed by December 1, 2001. Relocatable classrooms will be utilized until the second-phase addition is finished.

Northwest High School
A 10-classroom addition is in the final stages of completion. A second driveway connection from the parking lot onto Richter Farm Road is complete. This project will be completed before students and staff arrive for the 2001-2002 school year.

Wheaton High School
This project includes an 18-room addition and interior modifications. The final finishes for the interior renovation to the cafeteria, media center, science laboratories, and administrative areas have been installed, and these spaces will be ready for use by the school before students return. The reconstruction of the parking area has started and the school will use the old bus loop until the parking lot is completed on October 15, 2001.

Earle B. Wood Middle School
Earle B. Wood Middle School is undergoing a complete modernization. Furniture and equipment have been moved into the classroom spaces and the administrative areas. Reconstruction of the parking lot, bus loop, and tennis courts also is scheduled to be completed before school starts. Due to the wet spring, part of the athletic fields will be completed later this summer and will not be available for use until next spring.

Spark Matsunaga Elementary School
The elementary school building, excluding the gymnasium, has been completed with the exception of minor items. The special education center is scheduled to be completed on December 1, 2001. Site work is continuing and will be completed before school opens. The elementary school gymnasium will be completed by mid-October.
Rock Creek Valley Elementary School
The building work and paving have been completed with the exception of minor items. The contractor is working on the final site work.

Relocatable Classrooms
This year, approximately 195 relocatable classrooms will be placed at 72 schools. One hundred forty-six units are scheduled to be ready by the beginning of the school year. The remaining 49 units are either the result of additional staffing allocations received by schools in recent weeks or relocatables for FY 2003 class-size and full-day kindergarten initiatives that were funded this year. The installation of these units will be completed by December 1, 2001. Principals at schools that will not have their classrooms ready for the first day of school have been notified to make contingency plans for alternative space use in the building until the units are available.

Reroofing Projects
Ten reroofing projects will be completed this summer. These include Thomas S. Wootton, Colonel Zadok Magruder, Sherwood, and Damascus high schools; Sligo Middle School; Bradley Hills, Darnestown, Seven Locks, and Twinbrook elementary schools; and the Grosvenor Center. All of these projects are on schedule to be completed before the start of school or have already been completed. Westbrook Elementary School, originally scheduled to be completed this summer, will be completed in phases.

Division of Maintenance Projects
The Division of Maintenance is currently conducting 101 major projects. These include Planned Life-cycle Asset Replacement; Heating, Ventilation, and Air Conditioning Replacement; and the State Aging Schools program.

Safe Access
Safe access projects are under construction at Thomas W. Pyle and North Bethesda middle schools and Highland, Viers Mill, and Wayside elementary schools. These projects will be completed before school opens in September. Contractors currently under contract with other county agencies are being utilized to ensure the work is completed as expeditiously as possible.

Re: UPDATE ON SUMMER INSTITUTES: BUILDING PROFESSIONAL LEARNING COMMUNITIES

Dr. Weast invited the following people to the table: Mrs. Darlene Merry, associate superintendent, Office of Staff Development; Mrs. Judie Muntner, associate superintendent, Office of Instruction and Program Development; Dr. Barry Amis, director, staff development initiatives, Office of Staff Development; and Mrs. Nancy Schultze, director, middle school instruction, Office of Instruction and Program Development. In the audience are members of the team who were fundamental in planning and implementing the institutes. Staff reported that building the capacity of all staff in MCPS was the focus of the Workforce Excellence Initiative. This summer, two well-received staff development institutes were part of the ongoing effort to create a professional learning community. By providing learning opportunities focused on system priorities, staff is working to ensure that staff members have the necessary skills and strategies to meet the needs of all children. To accomplish this, MCPS created a learning environment for teachers and administrators in the format of "summer institutes." The focus of the Principals/Leadership Institute was to build the capacity of the leadership staff, and the primary goal of the teachers institutes was to provide targeted training and development to identified schools that have been working with school performance support teams to improve student achievement.

Principals/Leadership Institute
The Principals/Leadership Institute was focused on providing the tools and information necessary for school leadership staff to effectively implement the school improvement process through the key work that the Board of Education and initiatives in Our Call to Action have identified. Held during the week of July 9, 2001, this institute began with the Superintendent's Summer Leadership Conference at Quince Orchard High School. The theme for the day was effectively managing the change process as staff worked to change the culture and ethos of the district. The following three days of the institute were held at John F. Kennedy High School. The major topics of the institute were the System of Shared Accountability, the Instructional Planning Model, the Ten-Step Maryland State Department of Education's School Improvement Process, and Building Professional Learning Communities. On Friday, July 13, the week ended with meetings held by the community superintendents for school principals that focused on bringing together the collective knowledge gained from the week and using vertical teaming to facilitate cluster-wide consistency.

Planning of the Principals/Leadership Institute focused on consistent communication of system updates and information. During the planning stages, the principals stated their strong interest in having their leadership teams involved in the institute. To best meet the needs of principals, the Principals Institute was changed to a Leadership Institute. Instead of involving 190 principals, the Leadership Institute hosted more than 1,000 principals, assistant principals, secondary resource teachers, interdisciplinary resource teachers, staff development teachers, reading specialists, and central services content directors, program supervisors, and instructional specialists. By providing key information to principals and their leadership teams, staff utilized resources more efficiently and effectively. This is directly aligned with what was learned from the Baldrige self-assessment, which identified the need for MCPS to provide information to a broader team at the local school level.

The entire project had a strong focus on alignment and collaboration between and among the offices of Instruction and Program Development, Shared Accountability, Global Access Technology, Student and Community Services, and School Performance. While the Office of Staff Development served as the overall project manager for the week-long Principals/Leadership Institute, staff from individual offices planned and delivered the daily programs that revolved around central themes.

Anecdotal feedback from the week indicated that the participants were highly enthusiastic about the content and pleased to hear the important system messages as a school team. Additional feedback from the institute is being gathered through a survey of all participants and through focus groups that consist of representatives from each of the job groups. The change in venue from a small participant group to a much larger group created minor facility issues that will need to be addressed in future years to find conference locations that can meet the needs of a large school district effectively.

Teachers Institute for School Improvement

In February 2001, the plan to conduct staff development summer institutes for staff at 53 priority elementary, middle, and high schools was initiated. Using a collaborative approach for planning and implementation, staff members from the offices of Staff Development, Instruction and Program Development, Global Access Technology, and Student and Community Services met to design the summer institutes for teachers. Consultation was held with the Office of School Performance to ensure alignment with the work already in progress at these identified schools. To address the specific needs of participating schools, the teachers institutes were divided into an institute for elementary school teams, an institute for middle school teams, and an institute for high school teams.

Effective instruction for reading, writing, and mathematics was the general focus for all of the institutes. Instructional strategies related to Maryland Learner Outcomes and Core Learning Goals and the skills needed for success on the Maryland School Performance Assessment Program (MSPAP), the High School Assessment (HSA), the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills (CTBS), the PSAT, and the SAT were paramount in the development of content sessions for teachers. In alliance with the work under the Skillful Teacher and the new teacher evaluation system, the institute trainers used instructional strategies – including direct instruction, coaching, data analysis, modeling, guided practice, differentiation, and tiered instruction – while conducting their seminars and work sessions. Institute trainers consisted of outside consultants, MCPS teachers, and MCPS instructional specialists. While each institute was a combination of learning, sharing, and reflecting, staff members prepared unit and lesson plans related to the school’s instructional focus. An accountability component was built into each institute to ensure that each school team understood that knowledge gained and products developed as part of the institute were to be implemented in schools this fall. Follow-up sessions will be held with the school teams to reflect on the implementation of the lesson plans and to further refine the improvement strategies and skills.

The Elementary School Institute was divided into two week-long sessions with 23 schools in attendance July 16-20, 2001, and 14 schools in attendance July 23-27, 2001. Teams consisting of as many as 10 staff members, including the reading specialist, the staff development teacher, a special education teacher, the ESOL teacher, and six classroom teachers (one from each grade level), represented each of the elementary schools. The middle school institute was held July 23-27, 2001, with 24 member teams from 10 middle schools participating. The high school institute was held July 24-26, 2001, and July 31-August 1, 2001, with six schools sending teams of 24 staff members. All the institutes were held at John F. Kennedy High School.

Next Steps
The feedback collected at each of the teachers institutes indicated that school teams were enthusiastic with the empowerment these summer institutes have generated for each of their schools. In assessing the impact of the institutes, staff is identifying both the satisfaction with the presentations and the future impact of the content on school improvement efforts.

The summer institutes provided an opportunity for school leadership and teams to work collaboratively to plan for an effective instructional program and school improvement process that ensures maximum learning for all students. Information gathered from both the Principals/Leadership Institute and the teachers institutes will inform future planning to provide ongoing support to schools and staffs.

Re: DISCUSSION

Mr. Felton inquired into the possibility of sharing this material with smaller school systems for a fee. Mr. Abrams thought that videotaping the sessions to market them would be a good start.

Ms. Cox asked for a copy of the instructions for local schools on the School Improvement Plan. Regarding the 53 schools attending the Summer Institute and the School Improvement Plan, she asked for an analysis of how well they achieved their goals, what the results were, and how effective the provided supports were.

Re: NATIVE AMERICAN SYMBOLS AND REFERENCES IN SCHOOL-SPONSORED REPRESENTATIONS

On recommendation of the Superintendent and on motion of Mr. Felton seconded by Mr. Burnett, the following resolution was placed on the table:

WHEREAS, Concerns have been raised about the use of Native American images and references at three schools: Montgomery Village Middle School, Sherwood High School, and Poolesville High School; and
WHEREAS, The United States Commission on Civil Rights has called for an end to the use of Native American images and team names by non-Native American schools; and

WHEREAS, The Maryland Commission on Indian Affairs has sought the intervention of the Community Relations Service of the United States Department of Justice to eliminate the use of Native American symbols as school mascots within Maryland; and

WHEREAS, The steering committee of the Achievement Initiative for Maryland’s Minority Students (AIMMS) of the Maryland State Department of Education has called for the elimination of the use of logos, mascots, and team descriptions related to Native Americans; and

WHEREAS, The Maryland State Board of Education directed that a statewide effort be implemented to educate school communities on the negative stereotypes and cultural implications associated with the use of Native American references in school mascots, logos, and team nicknames; and

WHEREAS, Board of Education Policy ACA on Human Relations provides the expectation that the school system community will promote respect for individuals, culture, and language differences; respect for the personal rights of others; and respect for the rights of others to seek and maintain their own identities with dignity; and

WHEREAS, The use of Native American symbols and references in school-sponsored representations (including mascots, logos, names, nicknames, chants, and musical accompaniments) is not expressly prohibited by Board of Education Policy ACA on Human Relations or any other local policy; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education policy committee review Policy ACA on Human Relations and consider making the following modification under Section E.3: “Staff will create schools, classrooms, and offices, and school-sponsored representations (including mascots, logos, team names, nicknames, chants, or musical accompaniments) that are inclusive, bias-free, and provide a welcoming climate for all;” and be it further

Resolved, That the Board of Education recognize that individual schools need support and assistance in modifying school-sponsored representations in order to ensure successful stakeholder communication, collaboration, and the timely acquisition of replacement items, such as stationery, uniforms, decals, scoreboards, flags, and other items.

Re: DISCUSSION

Mr. Abrams thought the green sheet was inaccurate, and he wanted to address the procedural process. The action that he brought forward was not reflected in the green sheet. The action placed on the table was the issue of the naming of Poolesville High School’s mascot. A policy issue could be taken up in the context of that discussion; however, the order was significant. First, the Board must decide on whether it has the authority to act on the mascot name, and he believed the Board already had that authority. Then, other issues would moot out. If the policy issue is taken first, it stalls the ultimate decision on the Poolesville issue.

Mr. Abrams continued that the Board has the authority to establish policy regarding tolerance in a multicultural school system. It is not what is legally required, but it is what the Board wants to do and has the authority vested in it as a policymaking group. The legislative intent of the Board’s policies on Human Relations and Nondiscrimination, amended in 1996, documented that tolerance and sensitivity were high virtues in the school system. Therefore, the insensitivity of continuing a name that had no negative connotation when it was first used is now creating an environment of intolerance.

Mr. Abrams did not agree with the proposed resolution. He may have agreed when the issue was first raised initially in March. Anything that leads to a delay in addressing the issue is continuing harm. Therefore, he felt he would be in violation of the Board’s policy that he was required to uphold.

Dr. Weast stated that staff was not advocating delay, but there needed to be an amplification in the regulations to change the mascot. If a majority of the Board agreed that the present policy gives the Board to authority to move on this issue, then the Board can proceed to direct staff to develop a process to change the mascot.

Re: AN AMENDMENT TO THE RESOLUTION ON NATIVE AMERICAN SYMBOLS AND REFERENCES IN SCHOOL-SPONSORED REPRESENTATIONS

On motion of Mr. Felton and seconded by Mr. Abrams, the following amendment to replace the resolves was placed on the table:

Resolved. That schools currently in conflict with Board policy be provided financial assistance to implement such changes within the next 12 months; and be it further

Resolved. That the Board of Education clarify its policies and regulations, as needed, that would eliminate the use of any racial, gender, and cultural stereotyping in school-sponsored representations, including mascots, logos, team names, nicknames, chants, or musical accompaniments.

Re: DISCUSSION
Mrs. O’Neill thought the process should be twofold, and the policy should be clarified with public input. There will be other schools identifying mascots. The policy speaks of bias and being gender free; however, some schools do not have gender-neutral mascots. Ms. Bresler thought it was an issue of inclusiveness versus offensiveness.

Mr. Abrams thought the Board could do both – take action to address the Poolesville issue with a timeframe and change the policy over a period of time. He thought the amendments should include a resolve or whereas that Poolesville was in conflict with the current policy.

Ms. Cox reflected that it was difficult to cover all specific areas, and she agreed that the policy covered the issue. The right approach was to change the regulations. In Montgomery County, there is a fine line between reasonable and absurd. This issue hinges on intent to hurt.

Mr. Abrams thought that if a mascot offends, it makes no difference if it was intentional. If the Board has direct control over the issue, it can take action.

RESOLUTION NO. 478-01 Re: AN AMENDMENT TO THE RESOLUTION ON NATIVE AMERICAN SYMBOLS AND REFERENCES IN SCHOOL-SPONSORED REPRESENTATIONS

On motion of Mr. Felton and seconded by Mr. Abrams, the following amendment was adopted with Mr. Abrams, Mr. Burnett, Mr. Felton, Mrs. King, Mr. Lange, Mr. Jeter, and Mrs. O’Neill, voting in the affirmative; Ms. Cox voting in the negative:

WHEREAS, Poolesville High School, although acting in good faith, has engaged in practices that are inconsistent with the spirit and intent of Policy ACA (Human Relations) and Policy ACB (Nondiscrimination); now therefore be it

Resolved, That schools currently in conflict with Board policy be provided financial assistance to implement such changes within the next 12 months; and be it further

Resolved, That the Board of Education clarify its policies and regulations, as needed, that would eliminate the use of any racial, gender, and cultural stereotyping in school-sponsored representations, including mascots, logos, team names, nicknames, chants, or musical accompaniments.

Re: CRITERION-REFERENCED TESTING

On motion of Mrs. King and seconded by Mrs. O'Neill, the following resolution was placed on the table:
WHEREAS, The Board of Education is cognizant of parents’ desire for an assessment tool that monitors individual student achievement; and

WHEREAS, The Montgomery County Public Schools began the development of an assessment tool known as the Criterion-Referenced Tests program in 1992 to measure grade-level performance in mathematics, reading, and writing; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Education adopted Policy IFA, Curriculum, on February 13, 2001, to require the alignment of the written, taught, and assessed curriculum and approved a new pre-K-8 curriculum framework in mathematics, English/language arts, science, and social studies; and

WHEREAS, Although the CRT assessments were aligned with the curriculum in place at that time in mathematics, reading, and writing, they will no longer be aligned with the revised curriculum; and

WHEREAS, The state-required administration of the Comprehensive Tests of Basic Skills in Grades 2, 4, and 6 makes portions of the CRTs redundant; and

WHEREAS, As a part of the curriculum revision process, the Office of Instruction and Program Development will develop and pilot quarterly assessments during the 2001-2002 school year, which will be fully implemented during the 2002-2003 school year; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education adopt the superintendent’s recommendation that the 2000-2001 school year be the final year for the administration of the MCPS Criterion-Referenced Tests.

Re: DISCUSSION

Mr. Felton understood the rationale in discontinuing the CRTs. However, since there will be requirements for annual testing of students, especially in math and language, what did staff envision, and when would that take place? Mrs. Muntnner replied that assessments would be periodic and ongoing throughout the year to monitor student learning. The states are waiting for clarification from the federal government on acceptable tests, such as CTBS and MSPAP. Mr. Bowers added that the critical point is the assessment plan is aligned with state assessments – CTBS and MSPAP. That could change with federal requirements, but there will be annual tests. Parents will receive reports of both the CTBS and MSPAP.

Ms. Cox asked about the reliability of the new assessments from school-to-school. Mr. Fulton replied that it was very important that the grading system had credibility and validity with the new curriculum. This will be a two-year process of standards setting.

Dr. Weast stated that the federal government will want to know, especially in highly impacted schools that receive funding, whether there is student progress on an annual basis in grades 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8. Also, the federal government will want the same measurement in all 50 states, with state tests meeting a federal standard. At the present time, there is ample testing in Maryland. With shared accountability and a curriculum framework, duplicative tests can be eliminated.

Ms. Cox noted that the Board does not normally take action on this kind of issue. Mr. Margolies responded that the CRTs are not embodied in Board policy, and the Board does not need to take action. Mrs. King agreed that the Board did not have to take action, but that the issue is important enough for the Board to take a position. Ms. Cox suggested that the Board endorse the superintendent’s decision rather than affirm it.

Mr. Felton thought it was not required but appropriate for the Board to take action because of its investment in the total strategy for improving student achievement and eliminating barriers within the school system.

Mrs. O’Neill felt the Board should endorse the superintendent’s recommendation. She believed there is too much testing in MCPS. In addition, the CRTs are not aligned with the curriculum framework, have been criticized by the community for not identifying children as being above- or below-grade level, and have only a small portion that is nationally normed. However, parents do receive a report on the CRT results, and it would find it helpful if the school system sent the MSPAP to them. The Board shares the superintendent’s vision and should endorse his recommendation to eliminate CRTs.

Mr. Abrams agreed with his colleagues and asked how much it cost the school system to administer the CRTs. Ms. Cox reported that the response to her question regarding costs was $486,905. Mr. Abrams noted that some parents think the CRTs are important, and he asked if the test could be optional at the parent’s request. Dr. Weast replied that he did not think this was possible, and the entire CRT would need to be overhauled to fit the curriculum.
Parents will get the results of the CTBS and MSPAP to reflect the progress of their students.

Mr. Jeter agreed with eliminating the CRTs. Also, report cards give parents information on the academic achievement of their children, and will be especially helpful when the grading and reporting policy is revised. It is important for parents to have the tools to help their children. Dr. Weast remarked that he wanted an individual student assessment to identify as early as possible when intervention and remediation is needed. Ideally, students can be taught to monitor their own progress, and that will drive instruction.

Mr. Lange lent his support to this issue. Formative assessment is critical. He was concerned about the coming pilot with full implementation in 2002.

 Mr. Abrams temporarily left the meeting.

On motion of Ms. Cox and seconded by Mrs. King, the following amended was adopted unanimously by those present:

Resolved, That the Board of Education direct the superintendent of schools to ensure that MCPS assessment program provides the information that students, parents, and staff need to monitor student achievement and support student learning.

RESOLUTION NO. 481-01 Re: CRITERION-REFERENCED TESTING

On motion of Mrs. King and seconded by Mrs. O’Neill, the following resolution, as amended, was adopted unanimously by members present:

Mr. Abrams rejoined the meeting.

RESOLUTION NO. 481-01 Re: ANNUAL GROWTH POLICY

On recommendation of the Superintendent and on motion of Mrs. O’Neill seconded by Mr. Lange the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

WHEREAS, A review of the Annual Growth Policy test for school adequacy shows that the test provides too great a degree of flexibility in favor of development, and this has resulted in clusters where schools are seriously overutilized while passing the AGP schools test; and

WHEREAS, Public testimony concerning schools clearly indicates that there is a lack of acceptance in the community of the use of 110 percent school utilization as one component of the AGP schools test; and

WHEREAS, Even with a modification of the AGP schools test to use 100 percent school utilization instead of 110 percent, there will continue to be considerable flexibility in the test as a result of the component of this test that looks to capacity in adjacent clusters, which assumes the possibility of boundary changes; now therefore be it
Resolved, That the County Council, county executive, and the Planning Board be advised that the Board of Education requests that the Annual Growth Policy test for school adequacy be modified to use 100 percent utilization as the maximum allowable in tests of cluster capacity; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the County Council, the county executive, and the Planning Board.
