RESOLUTION NO. 595-03

Re: APPROVAL OF THE AGENDA

On recommendation of the Superintendent and on motion of Mr. Felton seconded by Mrs. O’Neill, the following resolution was adopted unanimously by members present:

Resolved, That the Board of Education approve its agenda for December 9, 2003.

Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Dr. Weast presented data on the three years of continuous academic gains in Kindergarten through Grade 2. He said this data reflected the results of a combination of lower class size, more time, highly trained teachers with support, parental engagement, communication, reporting grades, and curriculum, and instructional leaders who understand how these work together. The second prong of attack is the high school, and the rigor is reflected in the number of students taking Advanced Placement (AP) courses and tests. There has been a steady increase over the past four years.

Dr. Haughey commented that some youngsters tend to be resistant to rigor. When staff encourages students to do the high level work required in the AP courses, their willingness to do this work seems to be contagious. Dr. Weast noted that it is a testimony to the work of both parents and students when students take responsibility for their achievement with the encouragement of teachers and counselors.

Mr. Romero was interested in the number of students taking AP tests and the number of tests taken.

Mr. Lange thanked the superintendent and the entire MCPS staff for the direction in which the school system is moving. The system is not only identifying and encouraging student attainment of high standards of rigor, but in changing the culture and attitude toward rigor.

Mr. Felton commented on the minority data and in the increase in AP courses, which demonstrates a culture change at high schools. He hoped that principals and teachers would take the data and continue to encourage students since this would have an impact on overall performance.

Mrs. O’Neill noted that the school system is building capacity, especially in the early grades and with the Reading Initiative. There is a need to focus on providing enough high quality teachers for AP courses.

Ms. Cox commented that she loved the early childhood data, but there is a need to develop strategies for increasing the gains at the other end of the spectrum. If there was an interest from Board members, she wanted to schedule a discussion on increasing progress for students who are ethnic minorities, or who receive ESOL, FARMs, or special education services. Also, trend data could be examined for those disaggregated groups.

Mr. Sanghvi wanted information on the AP tests and the numbers of students taking the tests vs. the number of students enrolled in AP. What is the difference, and why are some students not taking the tests?

Mrs. O’Neill commented that she attended the Arts and Humanities Ball. She congratulated Carole Goodman, principal at James Hubert Blake High School, for receiving an award as an outstanding supporter of the arts of humanities in Montgomery County.

Mr. Felton reported that he met with the Maryland Leadership Academy, which represents 20 individuals who are involved in special education throughout Maryland. The focus was on the success of programs in the county with a national perspective.

Mr. Sanghvi mentioned that the Board had met with student leaders on December 2. During the last few weeks, he had attended executive board meetings of student government associations.

A. PURPOSE

To provide a learning community designed to foster intellectual development, citizenship, responsibility, and mutual respect among students as they engage in the education process. As members of this community, all students have certain rights, privileges and responsibilities. As a component of active participation in the school community, students may form and participate in clubs, teams, and student organizations in accordance with all state and local laws, policies, regulations, and procedures. Students elected to student government or occupying other leadership positions must retain academic eligibility during their term of office. Additionally, students elected to student government or occupying other leadership positions are expected to meet a higher standard of conduct and comply with all policies, regulations, and procedures on and off campus during their term of office.

4. The rights of freedom of expression in dress, writing, and other forms are balanced with the responsibility to maintain an environment conducive to learning.

5. The rights of freedom of religion should be respected and accommodated in accordance with law.

6. Students have the right to have disciplinary actions solely based on their individual conduct, which either occurs at school, at school-related activities, or would compromise the health or safety of others in the school or would adversely impact the security or operation of the school setting. The superintendent shall ensure that disciplinary actions are fair and appropriate. However, students also have the responsibility to accept the consequences of their actions and be active participants in maintaining an environment conducive to learning.

7. Students have the right to physical autonomy unless the use of physical restraint is reasonable under the circumstances.
8. Students' legally recognized expectations of privacy are to be respected.

9. The essential dignity of all students, teachers, and staff is recognized and the responsibility to secure, respect, and support an environment conducive to learning is shared by all members of the broad-based school community.

10. Students have due process rights which must be protected.

11. Local school staff, in collaboration with students and parents, shall develop, implement, and enforce disciplinary standards and procedures which may include zero-tolerance policies and procedures that limit or restrict participation in extracurricular, graduation, or other school-related activities or events.

D. DESIRED OUTCOMES

There will be an educational environment which promotes intellectual development, responsibility, respect for individual dignity, and respect for legally constituted authority.

E. IMPLEMENTATION GUIDELINES

1. The Student's Guide to Rights and Responsibilities shall be made available to all elementary school students and shall be distributed to all students entering secondary schools. Copies of the document should be made available to parents.

This policy will be reviewed in accordance with the Board of Education policy review

Re: UPDATE ON THE (50th ANNIVERSARY) CELEBRATION OF BROWN V. THE TOPEKA, KANSAS, BOARD OF EDUCATION

Dr. Weast invited the following people to the table: Dr. Gregory Bell, director, Office of Diversity Initiatives; Mr. Marty Creel, program supervisor, pre-K–12, social studies, Office of Curriculum and Instructional Programs; Mrs. Donna Hollingshead, principal, Cabin John Middle School; and Ms. Lola Crawford, community partnership specialist, Family and Community Partnerships Unit.

Staff explained the steps that have taken place to plan the upcoming 50th anniversary celebration of the landmark Supreme Court ruling of Brown v. Topeka, Kansas, Board of Education.

For the past several months, a countywide planning team of stakeholders has been working collaboratively to plan a series of activities and events that are consistent with the MCPS strategic planning Goal #3, Strengthen productive partnerships for education, and the Board of Education’s Priority #5, Foster and sustain systems that support and improve employee effectiveness, in partnership with MCPS employee organizations.

In September 2003, a countywide task force was formed, including representatives of the school system, business community, faith community, governmental offices, higher education partners, and other private and public organizations. Six honorary co-chairpersons were identified, based on their active role and commitment to the civil rights movement to pursue opportunities for access, equity, and high-quality education for all children. The co-chairpersons are Mr. Roscoe Nix, Ms. Dottie Fitzgerald, Mr. Solomon Graham, Ms. Nhora Murphy, Dr. Alan Cheung, and Professor Okianer Christian-Dark.

The observance of the 50th anniversary of Brown v. Topeka, Kansas, Board of Education will take place in two phases. The first phase will extend from November 2003 to May 17, 2004. First-phase events, “The Countdown to Brown,” will incorporate activities that address the historical exploration and celebration of this critical milestone in the nation. Phase I will help people learn more about the Brown ruling and its implications for this community. The second phase, “Brown and Beyond,” will begin on Tuesday, May 18, 2004. This phase will extend the vital principles of the Brown v. Topeka, Kansas, Board of Education decision by focusing on how the district and community can courageously address issues of race and culture that have a deep impact on schools. Both phases will incorporate activities at three levels—school, district, and county. A Web site has been created to keep MCPS and community stakeholders informed of planned activities. The Web site address is www.mcps.k12.md.us/info/50th-bvsb. Updates will be posted periodically.

In September 2003, all schools were notified of this initiative and asked to organize and participate in activities and events throughout the year designed to celebrate the landmark Supreme Court ruling. To support the schools’ efforts, a resource packet of sample activities has been developed by the Office of Curriculum and Instructional Programs. It will be delivered to the schools on December 10, 2003. A compilation of school activities will be publicized to the community through the Web site and other appropriate media. Districtwide activities will include a special Board meeting on May 17, 2004, a superintendent’s roundtable in March 2004, a special conference hosted by the deputy superintendent and community superintendents in April 2004, and a teen summit in March 2004. A countywide event in May 2004 will celebrate the anniversary of the Brown v. Topeka, Kansas, Board of Education ruling and will mark the transition from the Countdown to Brown and Beyond.

Re: DISCUSSION

Mr. Felton appreciated the work that has been done. He was concerned about the outreach into the community. Dr. Bell replied that the county is very diverse, and every effort will be made to be inclusive.

Mr. Felton asked about the curriculum and motivating teachers to deal with this topic. Mr. Creel replied that Grades 9 and 10 already study the case, and the other grades will be taught through supplemental materials that have been provided to teachers. Dr. Weast agreed that this celebration cannot be done by chance, and the budget will shift funds to Brown and Beyond programs.

Mr. Romero reported that recently he met with the ESOL community, including individuals from South America. To his surprise, those present were not aware of recent history in South America. The sadness to him was that these people are in Montgomery County with no sense of place or history. Therefore, he was impressed by how much he had learned about Brown. He would like the presentation to show how all people’s backgrounds come together.

Mrs. O’Neill commented that this is beyond what she had envisioned when she introduced the resolution. She noted that integration was hard fought in Montgomery County, and that should be conveyed to students. Ms. Crawford reported that staff is collaborating with historical organizations and societies. Peerless Rockville is developing a display for the program, four former African American schools will be open, and families are encouraged to share their experiences.

Mr. Lange thought the K-12 program was well done. He was concerned that it not be just a one-year event because of the importance of the basic principles. Despite how far society has come, it still has a long way to go.

Dr. Haughey commented that he had lived in Montgomery County for 10 years before he learned, through the Lincoln Park Historical Society, about the stress of converting from a segregated to a desegregated school system. It was a long and painful process. He hoped that this commemoration would capture enough of the background to educate the present day citizens of the county.

Mr. Sanghvi was excited about the presentation since he studied Brown in school.

Ms. Cox was pleased with the curriculum development piece. She was interested in regular updates, and she was interested in specific outcomes at each level. In Brown and Beyond, there needs to be a level of awareness. She was not sure from the description of the subcommittees that there is a connection with the community. She asked Mr. Felton and Mrs. O’Neill to work with the committee for the May activity.

RESOLUTION NO. 597-03 Re: CELEBRATION OF BROWN V. THE TOPEKA, KANSAS, BOARD OF EDUCATION

On motion of Mrs. O’Neill and seconded by Dr. Haughey, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That the Board of Education accepts the planning of the work group, and it looks forward to the active engagement of the community in support of the activities.

Re: LUNCH AND CLOSED SESSION

The Board of Education recessed for lunch and closed session from 12:45 to 2:30 p.m.

Re: UPDATE OF THE CLASSICAL PROGRAM
REVIEW OF SPECIAL EDUCATION
Mr. Burnett introduced the item and the following people came to the table: Dr. Carey M. Wright, associate superintendent, Office of Student and Community Services; Mr. Brian J. Bartels, director, Department of Special Education; Ms. Gwendolyn Mason, director, Division of School-based Special Education Services; and Mr. James G. Fernandez, principal, Julius West Middle School. In the audience were Ms. Sandy Emblor, faculty research assistant, University of Maryland; Ms. Jackie Hongladarom, special educator, Julius West Middle School; Ms. Rickie Sabia, co-chair of the Department of Special Education Continuous Improvement Team; and special education leadership staff.

On a motion made by Mr. Kermit Burnett and seconded Ms. Sharon Cox, the following resolution was approved unanimously by all Board members on February 11, 2003:

WHEREAS, On October 25, 1999, the report on the Special Education Classical Program Review included nine recommendations for improvement of special education services; and

WHEREAS, MCPS has held several focus groups to redesign and realign parent outreach and problem solving within the Department of Special Education for the purpose of improving services and outreach to families with, or concerned about, children with special needs; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education schedule on its agenda a review of the recommendations emanating from the Special Education Classical Program Review (10/25/99), including actions taken to date to address the recommendations; and be it further

Resolved, That an ad hoc or standing committee of the Board engage in dialogue with individuals and groups concerned about children with special needs to gather input on concerns and issues relating to special education, and the committee should present a report to the Board of Education, no later than December 2003, outlining its findings and recommendations for further action.

The purpose of the presentation was to provide the Board of Education with an update on the Special Education Classical Program Review in MCPS. The Update on the Special Education Classical Program Review provides information about the continuing progress made in addressing the nine recommendations for reform of special education in MCPS.

Work of Ad Hoc Committee
As a result of the above resolution, the Board of Education Ad Hoc Committee on Special Education was formed. Mr. Burnett, Ms. Cox, and Dr. Haughey were appointed as members. The Ad Hoc Committee met five times on the following dates and discussed the following topics:

March 24, 2003 Organizational Meeting
On October 27, 1997, the Board of Education directed that the administration conduct a Special Education Classical Program Review in MCPS. The intent of the review was to examine a range of issues related to the delivery of special education services and to establish benchmark indicators of program quality to be used to monitor and improve services to students, collaboration with parents and the community, and special education administrative functions. Dr. Margaret J. McLaughlin of the University of Maryland was the chief investigator of the program review committee. The Special Education Classical Program Review that was presented to the Board on October 25, 1999, outlined many positive aspects of the MCPS special education system and also made nine recommendations for improvement. The Department of Special Education reviewed the findings from the report and initiated actions to address the nine recommendations.

In the presentation, members of the Board heard progress updates on each of the nine recommendations identified in the Special Education Classical Program Review. A key recommendation was to develop an indicator system and benchmarks to track special education program performance. The CIT conducted a study and identified measurable indicators of special education program effectiveness. In today’s presentation, Mr. Brian J. Bartels presented information related to this aspect of the study.

Additionally, the Board heard about collaborative efforts among offices within central office administration and within the schools in an effort to provide students with disabilities access to the general education curriculum. The undertaking of the CAP, an intervention process designed to reduce the number of students who are referred to special education, has served as a successful problem-solving process to address the learning needs of students. Moreover, the Board learned of the continued efforts of the Department of Special Education to address the issue of disproportionality through improved pre-referral intervention, the development of MCPS procedures for confirming emotional disability and mental retardation, and increased staff training opportunities.

During its deliberations, the members of the ad hoc committee articulated the Board’s obligation to special education students and their families to exercise continued oversight of the delivery of special education programs and services at the school level. In this regard, the committee took particular note of the recommendation to identify measurable indicators and key performance benchmarks to track special education program effectiveness.

The ad hoc committee is aware that the CIT, formed initially as a committee of parents and staff in May of 1999 to assist the Department of Special Education to respond to an audit conducted by the Maryland State Department of Education, has assumed the lead in developing the system of indicators and benchmarks. After receiving the update from the staff as to the Special Education Classical Program Review, the committee will recommend the following resolution to complete the work of the CIT so as to foster its work and provide the necessary oversight to ensure that it is infused into all school improvement plans.

Re: DISCUSSION

Ms. Cox asked if the Wilson Reading Program helped children with dyslexia. Mr. Fernandez replied that it did.

Mr. Felton commented on the work of the ad hoc committee. The program review is very complex. He was concerned that in an effort to reassure the community that the school system is meeting the community’s interests, the presentation loses some of the tremendous efforts.

Mr. Lange thought it was important to have solid data. He thanked Mr. Burnett for his leadership on the ad hoc committee and its important work.

Mrs. O’Neill noted that the school system has made progress in developing an indicator system. The bottom line for special education parents is “my child.” If their personal indicators are not hitting the mark, they see a failure for the system. Dr. Wright agreed that data in the aggregate gives a different picture. It depends on each individual child, and the IEP is drafted to help that child. The Wilson program is for accelerated learning in reading. Part of the goal is to divert students from special education with interventions such as CAP.

Mrs. O’Neill pointed out that the Maryland State Board of Education took tentative action on a differentiated diploma. Those actions label students as “second-class citizens.” Dr. Weast said that tentative action is not the option that MCPS prefers the state to utilize. Mrs. O’Neill thought MCPS has to provide data to the State Board on what this means for students.

Mr. Felton asked if there was a quantitative way to demonstrate progress. Dr. Wright explained that these indicators were a good place for principals to start, such as examining if the students are coming to school and are participating, and if not, why. That has to be wed with student performance. Ms. Cox noted that the indicators do not speak to IEP outcomes. What are the different kinds of monitoring and how is the data used? Mr. Bartels stated that the indicators are group level data. The IEP states goals based on the student’s disability. Teachers have received staff development training on making the IEP goals observable and measurable and linking them back to the curriculum.

Mr. Burnett observed that parents think teachers are not prepared to make discrete changes in the IEP to include observable and measurable goals. Also, the training that was provided was not mandatory. How does the school system deliver mandatory training to address IEP needs to support special education students? Mr. Bartels thought the IEP must be linked to the Policy on Grading and Reporting and content standards.

Ms. Cox asked about the budget implications of mandatory training. There was also an indication of an added position in the Office of Shared Accountability. Dr. Wright explained that this was not in the budget since it is not planned for the upcoming year. Staff has worked with the Office of Global Access Technology to obtain data with existing resources and technology.

Mr. Romero commented that a parent wants to know about their special education child. Every IEP is individualized, but performance indicators are generic. Is there any way to link IEPs to common factors? Dr. Wright stated that parents get a quarterly progress report based on the IEP. Additionally, if a student is diploma bound, that student will take the same set of assessments as the general education students. Those indicators will reference where the student is performing compared with other students. Ms. Mason added that teachers should look at the curriculum and align formal assessments based on the IEPs and how students perform on standardized measures. That information to determine goals and objectives gives parents an indication of how students are achieving, especially in reading and math.

Mr. Romero confirmed that the objective is to align the IEPs with the curriculum. Dr. Wright agreed and stated that staff has worked on the grading and reporting policy to assure that special education students will have a true indication of their achievement level.

Dr. Haughey thought there was dynamic progress with the committees analyzing special education, delivery models, and assessments.

Ms. Cox thought it was important to drill down and get good data since that data will be useful in the school improvement plans.
Mr. Lange was interested in parental involvement and advocacy. Many parents are frustrated because they do not understand the system. There must be a way to make it more understandable with documentation in a user-friendly climate. How is the process becoming more transparent and understandable? What about the impact on ESOL students in special education? Dr. Wright agreed that parents are frustrated with the process. When there is a focus on compliance, it creates a mind set to assure that all aspects of the IEP are fulfilled. Another aspect is to ensure that parents are heard and students have their needs addressed and are making progress. There is a need to train IEP teams in a more participant-friendly process.

Ms. Cox spoke about the ownership of staff to increase the capacity of general education classrooms to support special education students. She wanted information on how the school system ties this into skillful teacher training and addresses this in the professional growth system for administrators, especially in middle and high schools. How will secondary school staff be trained to understand the IEP and support students? Mr. Fernandez replied that the team concept at middle schools includes having special educations on each team, and staff is reminded of IEPs and Section 504 plans.

Mr. Romero asked about the capital needs, and whether or not the system knows how many special education students learning in the least restrictive environment (LRE) have ADA requirements. Does this affect the planning for facilities? Dr. Wright replied that staff knows which students require specialized equipment, and the departments of Special Education and Facilities work closely to provide appropriate buildings and modifications.

Mr. Burnett noted that CAP addresses the over representation of African-American students coded for special education. The process is used in 24 schools and has resulted in a 50-percent decrease of referrals to special education. How can the system accelerate the proliferation of this process to other schools? Dr. Wright replied that staff will examine the further implementation of CAP to prepare for the next budget cycle.

Re: HIGH SCHOOL VENDING MACHINES

On motion of Mrs. O'Neill and seconded by Dr. Haughey, the following resolution was placed on the table:
WHEREAS, County Councilmember George Leventhal recently convened a dialogue on childhood obesity; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Education has heard from members of the School Health Council on issues related to student health and nutrition issues; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Education recently passed a resolution related to a study of vending machines which created a work group to review numerous issues; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education direct the superintendent of schools to have high school vending machines that currently sell foods and beverages deemed to be minimally nutritious extend the time they are off from midnight through the end of the school day; and be it further

Resolved, That vending machines be removed from the main entrance or lobby of all schools beginning with the school year 2004-05.

Re: DISCUSSION

Mrs. O'Neill noted that her resolution builds on the earlier resolution by Ms. Cox that was adopted by the Board. Further, Councilman Leventhal had a conference on childhood obesity. The county is concerned about health issues. The resolution will have a minimal impact on the schools’ revenues from vending machines. Since there are already guidelines, Mrs. O’Neill requested that the superintendent remind principals of the hours of operation for vending machines.

Mr. Sanghvi understood the purpose of the resolution and said the impact on vending machine revenue will be minimal. However, he was concerned about vending machines in general. He pointed out that non-nutritious foods could be brought from home and become a distraction. His main concern was that high school students should have choices to make on their own. Moving in this direction is not the solution for obesity, and he disagreed with the general trend.

Mrs. O’Neill pointed out that it is the responsibility of the school system to provide a healthy environment for students. When at home, parents set guidelines for their children.

Mr. Lange confirmed that the definition of minimally nutritious foods was based on standards set by the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Bowers added that MCPS can set different standards using the general guidelines.

Mr. Lange asked if the end of the school day meant when the last bell rang for the day. Mrs. O’Neill agreed with that assumption.
RESOLUTION NO. 637-03  Re:  DIVISION OF THE QUESTION

On motion of Mr. Romero and seconded by Mrs. O'Neill, the following resolution was adopted with Ms. Cox, Dr. Haughey, Mr. Lange, Mrs. O'Neill, and Mr. Romero voting in the affirmative; Mr. Burnett and Mr. Sanghvi voting in the negative:

Resolved, That the Board of Education divide the two resolves.
Dr. Haughey was comfortable with the concept of this resolution. However, the process was troubling since there was a committee in place to make recommendations on vending machines, times of operations, and items sold.

Mrs. O'Neill thought the school system had an immediate obligation to the students to provide healthy environments conducive to learning. This is a small step to help resolve unhealthy choices available to students.

Mr. Burnett said his position was that the school system has a process in place and a committee to review vending machines. He wanted to wait until the committee made recommendations to the Board.

Ms. Cox thought there were good reasons to move forward with this resolution, which would supply the work group with useful data.

RESOLUTION NO. 638-03 Re: HIGH SCHOOL VENDING MACHINES

On motion of Mrs. O'Neill and seconded by Dr. Haughey, the following resolution was adopted with Ms. Cox, Dr. Haughey, Mr. Lange, Mrs. O'Neill, and Mr. Romero voting in the affirmative; Mr. Burnett and Mr. Sanghvi voting in the negative:

Resolved, That the Board of Education direct the superintendent of schools to have high school vending machines that currently sell foods and beverages deemed to be minimally nutritious extend the time they are off from midnight through the end of the school day.

WHEREAS, The Board of Education desires to give special recognition to the essential role these students played in participating in this Programme through its successful implementation; now therefore be it

WHEREAS, The school system does not presently have the resources needed to conduct a comprehensive study of shifting demographic patterns and their implications for instruction and for community support services; and

WHEREAS, Such a study could appropriately inform the Board and the county about significant population shifts along with demographic and ethnographic change, while drawing on knowledge derived from such disciplines as demography, sociology, ethnography and cultural anthropology; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education authorize its Subcommittee on Research and Evaluation to seek cooperative participation of the County Executive, the County Council, and the Planning Board, in a countywide study to examine patterns of demographic changes in Montgomery County over the last two decades and to develop projections of appropriate ranges of demographic patterns to be anticipated in the next decade.
