RESOLUTION NO. 572-04 Re: HUMAN RESOURCES APPOINTMENT

On recommendation of the Superintendent and on motion of Mrs. O'Neill seconded by Dr. Haughey, the following resolution was adopted unanimously by members present:

Resolved, That the following personnel appointment be approved effective September 28, 2004:
Dr. Weast invited the following people to the table: Mr. Joseph Lavorgna, director, and Mr. Bruce Crispell, senior planner, for the Department of Planning and Capital Programming.

Staff from the Department of Planning and Capital Programming presented the following review of systemwide enrollment and demographic information as well as an overview of the upcoming amendment cycle to the Capital Improvements Program (CIP).

The rate of increase in school system enrollment has slowed this year. The estimated September 30 enrollment of about 139,600 students will represent an increase of approximately 400 students from last year. County births topped 13,000 for the fourth straight year in 2003. The brief respite from enrollment growth in many elementary and middle schools will be temporary, given the increase in county births since 1998. Enrollment growth is affecting county high schools. Continuing space shortages affect schools at all levels, and 720 relocatable classrooms are in use this year.

Capacity needs in both the upcounty and downcounty areas attest to the impact of changing demographics on enrollment, even in areas where no new housing is being constructed. This presentation highlights demographic changes in the county and in the school system. High school enrollment growth has driven the need for the reopening of Northwood High School this year, and the opening of the new Clarksburg Area High School in 2006. Also, numerous additions to existing high schools have been built or are planned. While the two additional high schools address much of the space needs downcounty and upcounty, the school system needs to begin planning for a new high school in the central portion of the county. Without this project, numerous high schools in the center of the county face long-term space deficits with no facility relief other than relocatable classrooms.

The schedule for the CIP amendment process this year is as follows:

- October 15—Superintendent’s boundary and choice area recommendations released
- October 27—Superintendent’s recommended CIP amendments released
- November 3—Board of Education work session on CIP amendments, and boundary and choice area recommendations
- November 10 and 11—Board of Education hearing on superintendent’s CIP amendments, and boundary and choice area recommendations
- November 18—Board of Education action on CIP amendments, and boundary and choice areas
Any deferred CIP actions on winter boundary studies will have the superintendent’s recommendation in February 2005, followed by Board of Education action in March 2005.

Re: DISCUSSION

Mrs. O’Neill asked whether the William H. Farquhar Middle School community could testify during the November hearings. At the present time, the recommendation would be made for a decision in March. Could the Board change the scope or the study itself on November 18? Mr. Lavorgna replied that the Board should encourage the community to testify in November. Furthermore, the Board can make any decision it deems prudent.

Ms. Cox noted that the County Council approved $912.8 million for the CIP, but close to $90 million was moved out of the first three years. That meant that several projects could not be built as scheduled. The Board’s priority was to build seats for students who are here, and then to modernize existing buildings.

Mrs. O’Neill asked about the impact of all-day kindergarten in the “green” areas. Mr. Crispell replied that there is no consistent pattern at this time.

Dr. Haughey asked what the criteria was for recommending a new high school. Dr. Weast responded that the trigger is 2,000 students in a high school.

Dr. Lee inquired whether or not the Shady Grove Master Plan is reflected in enrollment projections. Mr. Crispell replied that the plan has not been approved, therefore it does not meet the threshold to be included in the forecast.

Ms. Cox asked if there were plans or projects that have not been identified in order to ascertain the impact on schools. Mr. Crispell replied that the county will be revisiting the I-270 corridor – Gaithersburg and Germantown. Also, there will be housing based around the Twinbrook Metro Station. There is a mismatch between where jobs are and where housing is. Ideally, this will help the transportation in the county.

Dr. Haughey stated that there could be intense develop at the present Metro sites, and this could play havoc with projections since high density housing can be built very quickly.

Ms. Cox inquired if the decrease in immigration would affect enrollment. Mr. Crispell thought this could be a long-term trend, but most people are here and are having families.

Dr. Lee asked if projections factored in the small buildable lots scattered throughout the county. Mr. Crispell replied that it is hard to track, but building plans are shared with school staff.
Ms. Cox reminded staff to make sure that the public has as much opportunity as possible to understand the CIP and the available times, places, and avenues for input.

Re: SUMMER 2004 PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AND TRAINING SUMMARY

Dr. Weast invited the following people to the table: Mrs. Darlene Merry, associate superintendent for organizational development; Mr. Dale Fulton, associate superintendent for curriculum and instructional programs; and Mrs. Betty Collins, director for staff development initiatives. Also available to come to the table for questions are staff from the Office of Organizational Development and staff development teachers from elementary and secondary schools.

This item provides a summary of the professional development and training that was held for teachers, administrators, and supporting services staff during the summer of 2004. MCPS offices worked with key stakeholders to develop a comprehensive FY 2005 training plan that is focused on the priorities and objectives identified in the Our Call to Action: Pursuit of Excellence strategic plan.

A number of mandatory and optional training opportunities were offered to provide consistent and pervasive messages to staff, as well as the skills, knowledge, strategies, and practices required to meet the learning needs of all students. Leadership development and curriculum implementation were the two key focus areas. Specific strategies and practices to support the learning needs of special education and English Language Learner (ELL) students were provided in key curriculum training sessions. During the summer, 10,591 teachers, administrators, and supporting services staff received 169,415 hours of training. Feedback from the participants was overwhelmingly positive.

There is a continuous review of student data to ensure that focused training will result in increased student performance. To attain high levels of achievement for all students in the district, MCPS continues to build the capacity of all staff to collaborate, initiate, and be accountable for student learning through the following:

- Skillful implementation of a rigorous curriculum
- Targeted use of student learning data
- Active engagement in a professional learning community
- Acceptance of responsibility and accountability for results
- Full engagement of community as a part of the learning team

The design and delivery of the year-long plan is overseen by a cross-functional staff development team consisting of staff from the offices of the Deputy Superintendent of Schools, the Deputy Superintendent for Strategic Technologies and Accountability, and the Chief Operating Officer. The Office of Organizational Development (OOD) serves as the lead office for all professional development. In addition to staff, representatives from the three employee organizations serve on this cross-functional team to provide essential stakeholder input into the design of training programs. For each of the summer training components of the year-long plan, there was a design and delivery team comprised of staff from OOD and each of the key offices involved in the content for the specific training opportunity. As the planning teams met to design the summer’s training, they were asked to infuse important themes into the delivery systems. These themes included technology as a key management tool, strategies for teaching diverse learners, and Baldrige-guided tools and strategies.

A major area of improvement for the delivery of this year’s summer training was having school-based practitioners as trainers—both teachers and principals. This was very well received. Attendance at mandatory training was closely monitored to ensure full participation.

Re: DISCUSSION

Ms. Cox asked if the training was separate or embedded with curriculum training. Mr. Fulton replied that with the new guides it is embedded; however, those teachers who had not received the embedded training were given separate instruction.

Mr. Lange inquired about training for high school staff, especially support for ESOL. Mr. Fulton said there are many different projects. One is training teachers in the use of sheltered English and classes (teaching concepts and content vocabulary).

Regarding least restrictive environment (LRE), Mr. Lange thought that parents’ expectations will rise, and he wondered if all regular teachers are comfortable with this concept. Dr. Wright replied that all teachers will be provided with training to provide LRE.

Ms. Cox remarked about separate training for curriculum rollout for special educators. Also, why was the training for third grade language arts teacher done separately? Ms. Collins explained that special educators and regular education teachers were included in the training for the early grades. The third, fourth, and fifth grade teachers who did not receive the training provided in the earlier grades needed separate staff development. In the future, all training will be integrated/embedded with other staff development efforts.

Mr. Burnett noted that the training is integrated where possible, but sometimes there is a need for more intensive, individualized training for a specific group or topic.

Ms. Cox asked about the concern of principals on the assessments and whether or not training could have been included this summer. Mr. Fulton stated that curriculum always has an assessment; however, last year’s assessments were taking too long to get results. The new assessments were not ready in time for training this summer, but training will take place before the assessments are given to students.

Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Dr. Weast thanked everyone for the flowers and messages of condolence for the recent death of his father. Also, 144 MCPS students have been named semifinalists in the 2004 National Merit Scholarship competition. Sixteen MCPS high schools produced semifinalists this year. The local students represent 42 percent of the 339 semifinalists in Maryland.

Mr. Sanghvi reported that the high school student government will meet next week.

Mr. Lange thanked Mr. Bowers and staff for successful strategic planning forums. Also, he reported on the upcounty partnership on the prevention and intervention of gangs.

Mrs. O’Neill commented that the Whitman community will rename the stadium for Dr. Marco. On a sad note, a Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School student was killed by an automobile while walking to school. Several other students were killed in accidents this past weekend. The school community needs to encourage safety for all students.

Ms. Cox noted that at a press conference Chief Manger made excellent suggestions for strategies to address the problem. There was a commitment by the county executive, police and MCPS to work together with the community. Also, she helped celebrate Gaithersburg High School’s 100th Anniversary. Finally, she had the opportunity to celebrate Eastern Middle School’s participation in an NASA program.

RESOLUTION NO. 573-04 Re: BALLOT QUESTION A

On motion of Ms. Cox and seconded by Mrs. O’Neill, the following resolution was adopted unanimously by members present:

WHEREAS, An initiative will appear on the November 2, 2004 ballot as Question A, which, if approved by the voters, would drastically reduce county revenues by up to $1.6 billion cumulatively over six years; and

Question A could lead to decreased funding for public education in Montgomery County and could force the Board of Education to roll back existing instructional improvements and future initiatives; and
