Resolved, That “policy,” as that term is used in the Board of Education Handbook, governing the operations and procedures of the Board, adopted pursuant to Resolution No. 230-99, shall be as that term is defined in Policy BFA, Policysetting; and be it further

Resolved, That Policy BFA, Policysetting, be sent out for public comment.

POLICYSETTING

A. PURPOSE

To establish a definition of policy and consistent process for development and implementation of formal policies identifying principles to guide the development and implementation of educational programs and/or for management of the school system

B. ISSUE

State law provides that the county Board of Education, with the advice of the superintendent, determines the educational policies of the school system. In fulfilling this role, the Board of Education, among other actions, establishes formal policies to identify certain principles. Therefore, there should be a comprehensive and consistent process for policy analysis, formulation, implementation, monitoring, and evaluation.

C. POSITION
1. Definition

Policy is defined as the principles specifically set forth in the MCPS Policies and Regulations Handbook and identified as a “policy”. These policies, all of which have a three-letter identifier and are indexed in lettered sections of the MCPS Policies and Regulations Handbook, are adopted by resolution of the Board of Education to guide the development and implementation of educational programs and/or for management of the school system. For purposes of Policy BFA, Policysetting, and Regulation BFA-RA, Policysetting, the term “policy” refers to only those principles identified as policy in the Policies and Regulations Handbook.

2. Policy development

a) A committee of the Board of Education, whose initial membership shall be designated by the president for staggered three-year terms with new members and the chair chosen annually at the Board’s December meeting, reviews and presents policy drafts to the full Board for adoption.

b) The superintendent and/or Board of Education recognizes the need for a policy, or significant revisions to an existing policy, and how the need relates to Board governance including its mission, goals, and objectives.

c) The committee and the superintendent or the superintendent's designee and appropriate staff meet to develop a draft policy. The draft policy shall take into account as appropriate:

(1) Other policies of the Board of Education and of other governmental agencies

(2) Federal, state, and local laws and regulations

(3) Court decisions and other legal limits or conditions

(4) Cost implications

(5) Effect on school system operation

(6) Impact on those affected by the policy

(7) National, state, and local literature and research
(8) Similar policies adopted by other school systems

d) The committee and appropriate staff present the proposed policy item to the Board for discussion and tentative action.

e) The policy item will be accompanied by a resolution that:

(1) Indicates the policy will lie on the table until at least the next regularly scheduled Board business meeting before being voted upon as final action (If there is an emergency, this provision may be waived without notice if all members are present and there is unanimous agreement.)

(2) Provides opportunity for citizen and staff comment

(3) Provides opportunity for public hearing (if the Board desires)

(4) Provides opportunity for the superintendent to provide advice and recommendations

f) The Board will adopt a policy with a standard format that will include as appropriate:

(1) A statement of the purpose of the policy

(2) A description of the problem or issue that the policy addresses and purports to resolve

(3) A statement of the policy position or positions adopted by the Board, including a brief statement of the reasons and/or justification for these positions as appropriate

(4) A statement of the results or outcomes desired

(5) The strategies to be used in guiding the implementation of the policy

(6) Specification of when reports are to be made to the Board of Education and the public on implementation and effectiveness, results achieved, and next steps. The frequency of reports will be specified by the Board of Education and may depend on such factors as high public interest, legal mandates, and the experimental/innovative nature of the activity

3. Policy Implementation

After adoption, the superintendent will follow up with:

a) Regulations for implementation, if appropriate

b) Publication of policy and regulation in the Handbook and distribution to affected parties

c) Continuous monitoring of the policy and implementation and reporting to the Board as required under Section F, Review and Reporting

D. DESIRED OUTCOME

Policies that are well researched and analyzed prior to adoption or amendment and monitored by staff with results reported to the Board subsequent to adoption.

E. IMPLEMENTATION STRATEGIES

1. The superintendent will develop a process for implementing this policy that will include coordination of policy research and development, presentation to the Board, implementing regulations, monitoring reports, and maintaining the process.

2. All regulations developed in support of Board adopted policies shall be sent to the Board as items of information.

F. REVIEW AND REPORTING

1. The committee shall be apprised of the up-to-date status of the review process, including the number of policies that were reviewed, revised, and rescinded on an on-going basis.

2. The superintendent will review policies on an ongoing basis in accordance with established practices for prioritizing policy matters, but the Board may call for review of any policy at its discretion. In the event the Board directs that a new or revised policy be developed, it may establish a timeline for the committee to bring a draft policy to the full Board for its consideration.

a) When the review results in recommended content changes to the policy including rescinding the policy, the process for policy formulation described above will be followed.

b) Until such time as all policies are in the appropriate format, and the review reveals that no substantive changes are recommended, the policy will be reformatted and reprinted and will be forwarded to the Board as an item of information. Any member of the Board may identify any of these policies for further review as needed.

Re: MIDDLE SCHOOL PROGRAM REVIEW

Dr. Weast invited the following people to the table: Mr. Dale Fulton, associate superintendent, Office of Curriculum and Instructional Programs; Mr. Donald Kress, chief school performance officer, Office of School Performance; and Ms. Linda Ferrell, acting director, Middle School Instruction and Achievement.

The presentation was to update the Board of Education on the results of the Middle School Program Review. In March 2004, Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) contracted MGT of America, Inc., to assess the current status of county middle schools. An audit, or program review, of all 36 schools was conducted over the past 11 months. This presentation outlines the findings, commendations, and recommendations contained in the report, and includes preliminary action steps required to continue the improvement of middle schools in a comprehensive and systematic manner, including improvements outlined in the Board of Education’s FY 2006 Operating Budget request.

The program review produced a series of commendations and recommendations identifying strengths and opportunities for improvements at the school level, as well as at the system level, to address improved middle school instruction, curriculum, and student achievement. MGT organized these commendations and recommendations into the following five categories:
MGT identified 14 commendations and 32 recommendations in the final report. Key commendations include the observation that the MCPS standards-based curriculum is aligned with the Voluntary State Curriculum and that the county has a standards-based grading and reporting system. Also of note, the audit found a high percentage of Grade 8 students enrolling in and passing Algebra 1 and Honors Geometry and a broad range of exemplary accelerated programs. MGT recognized the Board and the superintendent for their support of middle schools. Additional commendations include the array of programs that solicit parental and community involvement, as well as effective communication tools, including the Middle School Brochure and the MCPS Web site.

Although MCPS is proud of these commendations, staff recognizes that student achievement remains inconsistent among the 36 middle schools. Additionally, staff recognizes that the achievement gap by race and ethnicity, which is narrowing as a result of the Early Success Performance Plan, persists in the middle schools, and that minority students continue to be underrepresented in accelerated programs and courses. Clearly, MCPS has additional work to do to address these issues.

Thirty-two recommendations were identified in the program review, centering on the following common threads:

- Standard processes to ensure systemwide consistency in the implementation of curriculum and programs, monitoring of instructional practices, and accountability for student and school performance
- Focused supports and services to ensure middle school students meet or exceed proficiency standards
- Focused supports and services for middle school staff to ensure effective teaching and learning
- Examination of middle school schedules, course offerings, and program/course access

In anticipation of the Middle School Program Review results, the 2006 Operating Budget contains the following initiatives focused on middle schools:
@ Expand the extended-day program to 19 days at all middle schools and increase student participation

@ Purchase textbooks for English 6, Science Grade 8, and Fundamental Life Skills for students with disabilities

@ Provide additional reading intervention programs including Read 180 and Corrective Reading

@ Expand the middle school assessment program to include Measure of Academic Progress–Reading and the Stanford Diagnostic Reading Test—Fourth Edition

@ Expand the Middle Years International Baccalaureate Program to additional middle schools

@ Implement the Grade 8 center program at Roberto Clemente Middle School

@ Reduce oversize middle school classes

@ Implement the long-range SAT success plan beginning in middle school

@ Roll out the Instructional Management System in middle school

@ Provide mandatory training for middle school reading teachers

@ Expand the Collaborative Action Program to reduce the disproportionate representation of African American students in special education and provide more access for students with disabilities to the Least Restrictive Environment

Re: DISCUSSION

Mrs. O’Neill thanked the middle school principals for attending the meeting, and she appreciated their dedication to children. Since there will be changes in the middle school program, she thanked them for their hard work now and in the future.

Dr. Haughey said he was looking for a catapult that was ready to move MCPS forward, but MGT took what MCPS knew and sketched out a starting line. He regretted that there was not more momentum and that MGT passed the ball back to MCPS. He was concerned about ways to identify the most successful programs since there is varying performance across schools that does not relate to principals, facilities, or students. Dr. Haughey remarked that he shared an interest in moving forward to provide resources for staff to work together. However, he did not know where to establish a readiness point. Based on the testimony on gifted and talented programs, he noted that people are not happy because they feel that their students suffer if they are not in gifted programs since middle school programs are not rigorous.

Ms. Ervin noted that MGT told MCPS about measurements in the aggregate, which did not give the school system much information. She asked about the integration of technology into instruction, as the report does not state where and how this is occurring. The report told MCPS what it knew and provided a starting point. Mr. Fulton thought that the findings and discussion were more powerful than the recommendations. The technology use focused on teachers and not students. However, in MCPS all students by the end of Grade 8 must be technological literate.

Ms. Ervin thought that vertical articulation was missing from the report. Ms. Ferrell said that MGT focused on middle school staff, administrators, and parent groups. Therefore, the report cannot be the sole source of how MCPS implements an action plan. Parents were concerned about whether MCPS was going to address items that were not in the report, and MCPS recognizes the need to follow through with the strategic plan and vertical articulation.

Ms. Ervin offered her list of questions for staff response in the future. Also, she wanted to know how MCPS goes into the community and talks about middle school reform. Mr. Fulton stated that staff is pointing out to parents and the community that reform efforts are not based on one document, but the report must be shared with them.

Mr. Romero wanted to know if the report was the result of how MCPS asked the question. MCPS was very specific in its request to MGT, asking for analysis and recommendations. Dr. Weast agreed that MGT did exactly what MCPS requested.

Mrs. O’Neill mentioned the math audit and said there was more concrete information in that report on which to base reform. She stated that she participated in an interview with MGT, and middle school instruction is not consistent in Montgomery County. The report is a good place to start the discussion.

Ms. Cox said she had the same feeling as other Board members about the report. She expected the recommendations to include suggestions on how to make improvements instead of stating “you should improve.” The report does not give the school system the immediate ability to move forward. She agreed with Dr. Weast that they should maintain alignment with the early childhood reform. Ms. Cox asked if there would be a timeline on the implementation of reform. Ms. Ferrell explained that there will be feedback from the focus group. Then, staff will develop an action plan in April – June. When staff starts to develop the outlines, there will be more specific information to report to the Board. Dr. Weast said there is a need to quickly put together an action plan that will take less than two years. The demand is there, the students deserve it, and the parents want it.

Mr. Abrams observed that MCPS has no more than three years to get into all middle schools a rigorous program to accommodate the early childhood reform. Each school will need to have the same capacity whether there are uniform or cross-cut programs. He asked if there was any reason to continue middle school gifted and talented programs. He thought MCPS could expect middle schools to follow the elementary school model. Therefore, there would be no need to create points of transportation or to go elsewhere to get rigor. Training could occur by using the best practices of master teachers within a school. The role of consulting teachers could be transformed by implanting into middle school faculties teachers with that experience. Dr. Weast responded that there will always be a need to differentiate instruction – some students need acceleration while others need remediation. The ideal is to build scaffolding for both kinds of students.

Ms. Ervin stated that she was in agreement with Mr. Abrams because when children are identified in second grade as gifted, there is a zero sum gain. She was intrigued by Mr. Abrams’ thoughts since parents of African-American applicants to magnets said there is a need to provide that kind of education for more children.

Ms. Cox remarked that there would not be so many people clamoring for a gifted programs if there was more rigor within the school program. There is a need to provide a menu of options across a wide range of skill and ability levels within an age range.

Mr. Abrams noted that the highly gifted identification is more of an elementary school function. The middle school identification tends to be open to a broader applicant base. Ms. Cox stated that there have been replicated programs at the high school level, but there is still a need to raise the level of rigor.

Mr. Abrams noted that middle school programs focused on self esteem rather than academic rigor. Those pursuing rigor gravitated towards middle school magnets. He suggested that the Middle Years program compares with magnet programs since there is the same parent/student satisfaction. To accommodate students who are better prepared to meet rigor, the demand will explode in all middle schools.

Mr. Sanghvi remarked that there is not a huge problem in high school with magnets because there is honors and Advanced Placement which are selected by students. The solution is to have the same in the middle school. Even if a student is identified as gifted in elementary school, there needs to be an opportunity to take more rigorous courses. Furthermore, he thought communication between teachers and students is a problem. If a student is willing to work and show level of rigor, the student should be given the opportunity.
Mr. Romero reported that he had heard from parents about the difficulty of transition in middle school. Three years is a short period in a critical time in a young person’s life. The school system needs to take child development into account and the need for children to bond to teachers. Dr. Weast agreed that has been a problem — socialization versus rigor. However, students must be able to do rigorous work in high school.

Mr. Romero pointed out that middle school students feel that their work does not count and that they do not need to put their full effort into the work. Dr. Weast responded that there must be a way to get their attention.

Mrs. Navarro thought the report presented a vague picture of middle schools in MCPS. As a Board member, she was eager to react to other factors and to identify clearly the plan for the next two/three years. She felt the sense of urgency because MCPS has to implement middle school reform. She wanted a presentation to the Board very soon on the next steps developed by staff.

Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Mrs. Navarro reported that she attended a conference at White Oak Middle School, and it was wonderful collaboration throughout the school community.

Mr. Abrams requested a copy of the draft curriculum on international terrorism. He thought it was important for the school system to look at contemporary topics and be mindful of situations that can occur.

Mr. Romero reported that the Communications and Public Engagement Committee was working on the operations of the Board staff.

Dr. Haughey commented that he represented the Board at the Montgomery County Historical Society’s competition, and he was impressed by the quality of students’ work.

Ms. Ervin congratulated Nadia Sicard, a junior at John F. Kennedy High School, and Sebastian Johnson, a junior at Montgomery Blair High School, the finalists for the student member of the Board (SMOB) chosen from a field of seven candidates.

Mr. Sanghvi reported that the SMOB election will be on April 27, 2005. He reported on the SGA renovations of the bathrooms at his high school, Col. Zadok Magruder. He commented that he really appreciates the work of building service workers.

Ms. Cox reported that she participated in the American Speech and Hearing Association’s discussion of national organizations on the recruitment and retention of educators in areas of persistent vacancies. Also, she attended the meeting of the Commission on Child Care, which is interested in partnering with MCPS on issues.

Dr. Weast commented that MCPS has been named the winner of the state’s most prestigious honor for organizational performance excellence — the U.S. Senate Productivity Award. Senator Paul Sarbanes announced the award during a ceremony on March 14 at the Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Laboratory in Laurel, Maryland. The award is given to the organization or business in the state that best exemplifies the Malcolm Baldrige Criteria for Performance Excellence, a management philosophy that focuses on continuous improvement.

This award is a well-deserved honor for the women and men of MCPS who have helped the school system achieve so much and who wake up every day dedicated to making a great school system even better. Baldrige helps everybody understand that you can get better over time, that you can grow and learn from mistakes, and that if you stay focused, you can achieve great things.

Dr. Weast congratulated Nancy Hebdon, a mathematics teacher at Paint Branch High School, who is this year’s winner of the Agnes Meyer Outstanding Teacher Award from The Washington Post. The prestigious award is presented annually to one teacher from each Washington metropolitan area school district.

Dr. Weast also congratulated Walt Whitman High School, the state 3A/4A champions in wrestling. In addition, seven MCPS students won individual state championships in wrestling. Seven students won individual state championships in indoor track, and the John F. Kennedy High School girls’ relay team came in first in the state.
