Re: BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Mrs. O'Neill noted that she and several Board members attended the Drive for Supplies celebration at Rockville High School. She thanked the students for donating three tons of supplies.

Mr. Abrams noted that the legislature passed a bill requiring every high school to have defibrillators in place for all sporting activities with an estimated cost of $300,000 statewide. Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) will need to submit a supplemental request to the County Council for $450,000 for MCPS. Mr. Abrams did not object to school systems having the equipment available. However, he wanted to know why there was no communication about the actual costs. As the Legislative Platform is developed for next year, MCPS should ask for the funding to provide the equipment and train staff.

Regarding the Attorney General's Opinion, Mr. Abrams felt gratified that the position set forth by the Board was ratified 100 percent by the Attorney General. The Board knew that the Inspector General has jurisdiction over financial matters, but program audits must have consent from the Board. One of the functions of the Attorney General is to be the arbitrator when there are disputes between state agencies. The past Inspector General sought consent from the Board when a transportation audit was done; and, it would have been helpful if the present Inspector General had followed that model. Even though Council members are stating that the Attorney General's opinion means nothing, it is important. Each agency needs to understand and respect the responsibilities of the other. The Audit Committee will have a discussion on the Inspector General's report, and Mr. Abrams will ask for a peer review on the work done in the report and whether it could be considered a financial audit.

Dr. Haughey and Ms. Horvitz commented on the gathering of supplies during the recent Drive for Supplies, and they both congratulated the students for their efforts.

Dr. Weast commented that the Web Team has indexed the webcast of Board meetings in order to select specific topics. Furthermore, the agenda, Board materials, and minutes are on the web. Second, MCPS has half of the Merit Scholars in the state, and those students are spread across the county. Third, the Extended Learning Opportunity has enrolled 6,000 students, and if they have perfect attendance, there is a drawing for a bicycle. Fourth, the Drive for Supplies was a success, but there is a need for more students to contribute. Finally, he noted that MCPS employees were very generous in giving through the United way.

RESOLUTION NO. 347-06Re: FINAL ACTION ON POLICY IOB, EDUCATION OF STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

On recommendation of the Superintendent and on motion of Dr. Haughey seconded by Mr. Abrams, the following resolution was adopted unanimously by members present:

WHEREAS, Policy IOB, Education of Students with Disabilities, seeks to create a climate of acceptance, respect, and high expectations that results in academic achievement for all students; and,

WHEREAS, Child Find provisions have been incorporated into the new Policy IOB, Education of Students with Disabilities, obviating the need to have a separate policy addressing Child Find; and

WHEREAS, The draft revision of Policy IOB, Education of Students with Disabilities, was tentatively adopted by the Board of Education on March 27, 2006, and sent out for public comment; now, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education adopt Policy IOB, Education of Students with Disabilities, and rescind Policy IOG: Child Find.
Education of Students With Disabilities

A. PURPOSE

To affirm the Board of Education's commitment to the principles articulated in federal and state law regarding the provision of a free and appropriate public education (FAPE), the protection of the rights of all eligible students with disabilities, and the principle that every child can learn and succeed.

B. ISSUE

Federal and state law govern the provision of early intervention and special education services to students with disabilities from birth through the end of the school year in which they turn 21 years old. These laws require procedures for the identification, evaluation, and educational placement of the child. Under these laws, qualified children are ensured the provision of FAPE in accordance with an Individualized Education Program (IEP) or are provided services under an Individualized Family Service Plan (IFSP).

C. POSITION

Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) is committed to:

1. Providing opportunities for all students to achieve at the highest possible levels, as well as access a comprehensive, collaborative, and individualized support system that enables students with disabilities to make progress in the MCPS curriculum.

2. Creating a climate of acceptance, respect, and high expectations that result in academic achievement and the attainment of other important knowledge and skills for all students, based on the principle that every child can learn and succeed.

3. Improving educational results for children with disabilities by assuring their access to instruction in the general education class to the maximum extent possible.

4. The participation to the maximum extent possible of students with disabilities with non-disabled peers in all aspects of school life, including academic, social, and extracurricular activities, as a critical component of their educational experience.
5. Providing a continuum of services for students with disabilities and educating them in the least restrictive environment appropriate for the child to ensure success for every student. Consideration must first be given to providing services in the student's home school.

6. Collaborating with government agencies, the business sector, and families to provide an educational program that prepares students with disabilities for self-sufficient and productive lives as full participating members of our society and leads to positive post-school results in education and training, employment, accessing adult services, independent living, and community participation.

7. Working with parents in constructive, collaborative partnerships to provide the home/school link fundamental to student success.

8. All staff, both special and general education personnel, share accountability for the education of students with disabilities.

9. Developing and implementing systemwide supportive general education interventions and culturally responsive instructional practices that help to eliminate any misidentification and/or misclassification of students, particularly minority students, with special attention to the specific disability categories of emotional disturbance, mental retardation, and specific learning disability.

10. Actively seeking to locate, identify, and evaluate children residing in the county or who have been placed by their parents in private schools located in the county, including children who are homeless, highly mobile, or are wards of the state, who are suspected by parent, school, or other responsible source of being a child with a disability whether enrolled in public, private, or religious schools. Outreach activities are conducted with interagency collaboration.

D DESIRED OUTCOME(S)

An educational system that is committed to the success of all students, requires accountability for the performance results of all students, and fosters and promotes respect, acceptance, and high expectations for all students.

E. REVIEW AND REPORTING

Re: UPDATE ON GREEN SCHOOLS

Mr. Bowers invited Mr. Richard Hawes, director, Department of Facilities Management, to the Board table:

Mr. Hawes reported that MCPS has been involved in energy conservation efforts since the late 1970s. The initial efforts included setting policy on temperature ranges for summer... and winter operations, automating temperature control systems, encouraging conservation through a program called the School Energy Rebate Team—now the School Eco-Response Team—(SERT), and designing new schools to meet generally recognized guidelines for efficient energy usage. In 2003, with the rapidly rising prices of energy, the emergence of industry recognition of sustainable design guidelines and the diminishing return on early energy conservation initiatives, MCPS revised its resource conservation focus to aggressively re-energize our program.

The new direction developed in 2003 for our resource conservation programs centered on creating an integrated team that was responsible for utilities management, organizing school-based conservation programs, designing an advanced Green Schools program for secondary schools, and creating Green Building design guidelines for capital projects. Placing the resource conservation and sustainability design efforts in one unit creates synergies between the operational and building design elements of our facilities organization.

Currently, the Energy Resource Team includes a six-person unit that manages the school-based conservation programs, a program manager responsible for Green Building design efforts, and a utilities analyst. The school conservation programs include SERT and Green Schools. The unit members for these programs work with schools to develop energy conservation plans, conduct audits for policy compliance, monitor utility consumption, coordinate mechanical equipment maintenance needs, monitor preventative maintenance performance, mentor school staff, manage special conservation projects, monitor energy conservation pilot programs, and monitor performance measures for monetary awards. The Green Building design program manager is responsible for developing sustainable design standards for capital projects, monitoring pilot projects, training staff, monitoring certification efforts for Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEEDS) projects, and keeping design staff up to date on recent innovations. The utilities analyst monitors energy consumption and utility pricing. The data are used to develop strategies to reduce waste and procure utilities supplies at the lowest possible prices.

This integrated approach to building design and resource conservation has been successful in lowering utility expenditures and avoiding unnecessary costs for the past three years in spite of rising prices and ensuring that a framework is in place for creating efficient buildings. It also has given schools an opportunity to share in our success by earning cash rewards and creating learning opportunities for students by introducing them to real problem-solving activities and project development experiences.

Re: DISCUSSION

Ms. Ervin thought this effort was exciting since the students were involved with sustainable projects. She is pleased with the efforts of Poolesville High School, and it is important work for both staff and students.
Mrs. O'Neill was pleased that the focus was on what MCPS is doing and teaching students good habits for a lifetime of energy conservation. She asked about maintenance of the new type of fixtures in the restrooms in the Green Schools. Mr. Hawes replied that maintenance is built into the training program for the schools.

Mrs. O'Neill asked about the initial costs of a “green” school. Mr. Hawes replied that it costs more, but it is difficult to determine the exact cost. Overtime, there may be more data on which to base comparisons between conventional and “green” buildings.

Ms. Ervin asked if new buildings were bring built to the basic LEEDS standards. Mr. Hawes responded that MCPS has made the decision to apply for the basic LEEDS certification. It is worth the investment, and it is the right thing to do. Furthermore, in the future, the LEEDS standards may become the norm.

Ms. Cox thought the bigger value was that MCPS was teaching the students environmental issues and including them in a culture change.

Mr. Romero noted that this is part of a long history. The question is – how do we build on this planet and relate to our environment. Architects over time have built structures that included considerations of the environment that conserve water and light. He thought it was incalculable what students were learning through these activities.

Re: STRATEGIC PLAN B OUR CALL TO ACTION: PURSUIT OF EXCELLENCE

Mr. Larry A. Bowers, chief operating officer, invited the following people to the table: Dr. Frieda K. Lacey, deputy superintendent of schools; Mr. John Q. Porter, deputy superintendent for information and organizational systems; and Dr. Faith Connolly, director, Department of Shared Accountability.

Mr. Bowers commented that Our Call to Action: Pursuit of Excellence, the strategic plan for the MCPS, has been strengthened and revised in order to guide the work of schools and offices for the next five years, helping to achieve visionary goals through a detailed system of strategies, initiatives, and implementation schedules. The plan's Guiding Tenets include the Board of Education's goals and academic priorities; the vision, mission, and core values of the school system; and the critical questions that guide our work. The plan reinforces the initiatives that have been implemented since the Board of Education adopted Our Call to Action in November 1999, to raise the bar for student achievement and close the gap in student performance by race and ethnicity. The five-year strategic planning period has been extended to 2011 (from 2008), which coincides with the targets that have been set for MCPS and every school to attain the milestones and data points in Goals 1 and 2.

The revision of Our Call to Action: Pursuit of Excellence reflects ongoing stakeholder involvement and feedback during FY 2006. The revised plan incorporates final Board of Education action on the FY 2007 Operating Budget and focuses on the priorities of the Board of Education and the school system for the next several years. The revisions to Our Call to Action: Pursuit of Excellence were reviewed with members of the Board of Education Strategic Planning Subcommittee on May 26, 2006. There are two major revisions for Board approval—student achievement targets for the school system and for every school, including the same targets for student performance for all groups of students, and a fifth goal representing business operations.

Re: STRATEGIC PLAN B OUR CALL TO ACTION: PURSUIT OF EXCELLENCE

On recommendation of the Superintendent and on motion of Ms. Cox seconded by Mr. Abrams, the following resolution was placed on the table:

WHEREAS, The Board of Education aligned the budget and strategic planning process by adopting a set of recommendations from the Board of Education’s Research and Evaluation Committee to increase public involvement in the development of the MCPS strategic plan and operating budget; and

WHEREAS, The revisions to Our Call to Action: Pursuit of Excellence reflect the input from the public and continue our effort to improve the instructional program in every school by focusing on system-wide strategic goals, milestones, data points, and key performance targets for the first two goals that reflect the priorities of the Board of Education; and

WHEREAS, Our Call to Action: Pursuit of Excellence reflects a significant effort to identify and establish realistic targets for MCPS and each school that raise expectations and standards for student achievement and reinforce the commitment to close the gap in student performance by race and ethnicity, as well as other student groups; and

WHEREAS, The development of student performance targets for elementary, middle, and high schools are incorporated into the updated Our Call to Action: Pursuit of Excellence, including a replacement of the specific milestones and data points of the High School Academic Attainment model (adopted by the Board of Education in 2001) with more clearly defined high school targets and measures for monitoring student academic progress; and

WHEREAS, The addition of Goal 5 emphasizes the integral components of school system business operations to the overall success of the school system and the achievement of the Board of Education’s academic priorities; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the revisions to Our Call to Action: Pursuit of Excellence be approved, including the integration and replacement of the High School Academic Attainment model; and that the updated strategic plan reflect the goals and academic priorities of the Board of Education and a shared commitment to raise the bar for student achievement and close the gap in student performance by race and ethnicity.
Ms. Cox appreciated the work on the strategic plan. She noted that for one of the targets is 77 percent; however, it could be mistaken for the increase that is expected. She suggested that this could be edited to more clearly convey the meaning of the target. Ms. Cox commented that the guiding tenets include the goals, visions, and values; however, the graphic in the paper states – how do we set and deploy organizational vision and values. She thought that the statement needs more clarity.

Mr. Abrams added that there is a need for an explanation of the common words used in the strategic planning document; therefore, there should be a glossary when the process is institutionalized.

Regarding the integrated planning model, Ms. Cox thought there was a need to show where the frameworks and assessments are created – some are tied to curriculum and others are tied to assessment. She wanted to know if monitoring will result in changes in assessments.

Mrs. O’Neill has heard from the community that the Board needs to take a more active role in the development of the operating budget. However, the budget is based on the Strategic Plan through a long-term planning process. In 1999, the Board’s priority was an initiative for pre-kindergarten through Grade 2. Furthermore, the Board went ahead with all-day kindergarten long before the State Board and the Bridge for Excellence came into fruition. She is proud that the Board is completing what it started with its vision in 1999. Through the Strategic Plan, the Board has ownership of the priorities, and the superintendent makes recommendations. The forums this fall will get information and feedback from the community regarding the operating budget. The Strategic Plan is a serious document on which the operating budget is built.

Mr. Romero agreed with Mrs. O’Neill and pointed out that the Strategic Plan drives the development of the operating budget; therefore, both documents are aligned with the focus on the Board priorities.

Ms. Ervin commented about the strategies and initiatives section. She was uneasy that there was an emphasis on vertical articulation and the literacy in all schools, but there are unsuccessful students when they enter high school. Dr. Lacey thought middle school reform will target on math and literacy when a student transitions from one level to the next.

Ms. Cox commented on the removal of the old high school attainment model. MCPS is strategic in its reform, and it has identified the goals for high school that relate to the courses students take with the understanding that students taking rigorous courses do well in school.

Mr. Abrams wanted to know the expectations and the plan to address those students who have not been in MCPS for their entire school careers, i.e., the mobility of students and enrollment of students who were not part of the early childhood initiative. Mr. Bowers replied that the expectations are the same for all students, but it will be a great challenge when there are students with academic deficits. Dr. Lacey thought the statement could be clearer on the expectations of the system, especially for students who have had interrupted educations. Mr. Abrams pointed out that there would be a need for realignment of resources to address this issue.
