Re: DISCUSSION ON AGREEMENTS

Mrs. O’Neill stated that she appreciated that over the past three years employees have worked hard without increased compensation, and there was no work action. During graduations, there were contributions by all staff, especially at Stephen Knolls Center. MCPS bargains in good faith. In fact, the employees were working harder since class size was increased by one. She was pleased that the Board could recognize the dedication of the employees.

Dr. Docca agreed with Mrs. O’Neill, and added her thanks to the negotiating teams. The whole system worked together to give students a successful educational experience and kept the school system one of the top systems in the nation. Staff has been very faithful to the school system.

Mr. Barclay agreed with Mrs. O’Neill and Dr. Docca. He thanked the bargaining teams, especially with the pressure on public employees. He wanted to recognize the employees for their hard work, and what they do for children. A quality education for children sustains a positive future for the county.

Ms. Berthiaume stated that she struggled with this vote, and she wanted to explain her position. In February, she voiced her opinion on not restoring positions that had been reduced. She understands what it is to be a government worker; public employees deserve the support of the Board. However, in the larger context, there is a need to look at the situation in the state of Maryland as well as the national context. The promises to employees must be sustainable. Around the nation, pension promises are unsustainable and services will be reduced as a result. She did not think the country was in a recovery, and there is the prediction of a double-dip recession. The context that worried her the most is Maryland and the actions of the legislature in recent tax increases. The County Council has indicated that there will be tax increases to cover the budget. The net affect is interstate migration, and Maryland has lost 23,274 taxpayers. She could have supported a bonus, but she cannot support an overall raise which may not be sustainable.
Mr. Kauffmann thought it was a difficult vote, but he was approaching the vote that the Board wanted to do something for the employees. The budget was developed that covered increases to employees with interested-based bargaining. There is no COLA in the contract, but there are step increases which has always been the case with negotiating. This is not a year to restore reductions, but it is a status quo budget with the contracts. This is not an unsustainable budget, and he supported the contracts.

Mrs. O’Neill commented that the Board had no control over the state, but she is proud that Maryland remains first in the nation for education. From the budget presentation, the Board knew that was funding for employee compensation. Other counties in the region have indicated there will be compensation for their employees. Furthermore, the employees have made sacrifices in benefits. This is the legal responsibility for the Board of Education.

Ms. Brandman thought it was critical to look at the contracts in the context of the minimum Maintenance of Effort budget. Within the constraints of the County Council, the school system found a way to give compensation for dedicated employees. Students continue to perform well even though the system has asked employees to do more with less. When things were difficult, the employees stood up and volunteered to sacrifice. This is a one year contract and it will be renegotiated next year.

Re:  DISCUSSION

Regarding Promethean Boards, Mrs. O'Neill asked if there were elementary schools without Promethean Boards, how do elementary schools receive Promethean Boards, and what is the cost. Mr. Barclay asked for clarification on the statement “subjecting students to a new curriculum without giving them the tools to learn from that curriculum is grossly unfair.”

Ms. Berthiaume asked staff to address the issues raised by Mr. Hearn in his testimony.

Re:  BOARD/SUPERINTENDENT COMMENTS

Mr. Kauffman reported that he and several Board members attended the Cappie Awards which are a celebration of performing arts for the D.C. area. It was a wonderful evening, and he congratulated all of the nominees and winners.
Ms. Berthiaume extended congratulations to all of the MCPS graduates.

Dr. Docca congratulated the Maryland Vietnamese Association picnic where they gave scholarships to two students. She also attended school operas and the retirements of Wilma Holmes and Frieda Lacey.

Mrs. O'Neill congratulated Dr. Lacey on her retirement. Also, she pointed out the 40th anniversary of Title IX.

Mr. Barclay associated himself with Mrs. O'Neill’s remarks. Again, he congratulated Dr. Lacey for all that she has done for the school system. The graduations have been wonderful, and he congratulated everyone – parents, students, and staff.

Ms. Brandman associated herself with the remarks of her colleagues. She also congratulated all of the retirees from the school system.

Dr. Starr commented on graduations, scholarships, Dr. Lacey’s retirement, MCPS retirees, Cappie Awards, highlight of student performances, and a short MCPS column in the Hispanic Newspaper.

Re: MONTHLY FINANCIAL REPORT

Mr. Larry Bowers, chief operating office, stated that this financial report reflects the actual financial condition of Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) as of April 30, 2012, and projections through June 30, 2012, based on program requirements and estimates made by primary and secondary account managers. At this time, expenditures have a projected surplus of $23,000,000. Revenues have a projected surplus of $400,000.

Due to Fiscal Year (FY) 2011 comprehensive expenditure restrictions, including a hiring freeze, MCPS achieved a reduction of expenditures compared to budget. The FY 2012 Operating Budget included fund balance of $17.0 million of the total savings as a source of appropriation, leaving fund balance of $11.9 million available for appropriation in FY 2013 or future years. This unappropriated FY 2011 ending fund balance, together with the FY 2012 projected surplus of $23.4 million, equals $35.3 million that will be available to fund future year operating budgets. The County Council used $17.0 million of the fund balance as a source of revenue for the FY 2013 Operating Budget, leaving an available balance of $18.3 million. My expectation is that the available fund balance will be used for appropriation over several years to avoid any sudden increase in the need for local contribution to replace fund balance as a revenue source.

Re: STATUS UPDATE ON THE RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE MATH WORK GROUP

Dr. Starr invited the following people to the table: Mr. Erick J. Lang, associate superintendent, Office of Curriculum and Instructional Programs; Ms. Theresa A. Cepaitis, director, Elementary Integrated Curriculum; Mr. Martin M. Creel, director, Department of Enriched and Innovative Programs; Mr. Edward C. Nolan, supervisor, Pre-K–12 Mathematics; Ms. Rebecca A. Jones, principal, Westbrook Elementary School; Mrs. Tamisha L. Sampson, principal, Sargent Shriver Elementary School; and Mrs. Carole A. Working, principal, Quince Orchard High School.

The purpose agenda items is to update the Board of Education (Board) on changes to the mathematics program that align with recommendations of the K–12 Mathematics Work Group Report presented to the Board on November 9, 2010. Convened in January 2009, the work group was established to address factors such as the scope of the curriculum, pacing of instruction, professional development, and the emphasis on acceleration. Additionally, despite a strong record of mathematics achievement for all students—with increases in performance for all student groups—the gap between Black or African American and Hispanic/Latino students, and their White or Asian counterparts continued.
Recognizing that strong schools are the pathway to our nation’s long-term economic success, Maryland and 44 other states adopted the internationally driven Common Core State Standards (CCSS) in 2010. The CCSS are a set of standards in mathematics and English/language arts designed through a state-led initiative to prepare students to be college and/or career ready by the end of Grade 12. Subsequently, the Board adopted the CCSS, which have been incorporated into Montgomery County Public Schools’ (MCPS) Grades K–12 curriculum frameworks in mathematics and English/language arts. The implementation of the CCSS in Maryland will include new assessments developed by the Partnership for Assessment of Readiness for College and Careers (PARCC) tentatively scheduled for statewide administration in school year 2014–2015.

The K–12 Mathematics Work Group Report recommended aligning mathematics with the CCSS to ensure a focused, coherent, and rigorous curriculum. The CCSS articulates what students need to know and be able to do, by focusing on the development of deep mathematical proficiency through mathematical practices.

The work group report proposed a vision for mathematics classrooms in MCPS that promotes deep mathematical understanding. In this environment—

- students are fluent and resourceful problem solvers working together;
- the curriculum offers students multiple opportunities to learn challenging mathematics;
- there are ambitious expectations for all students, including those who are exceptionally talented in mathematics;
- highly effective teachers have the resources and support to expertly engage students with the mathematics curriculum;
- technology is used to support and engage students as an essential component of the teaching and learning environment;
- the learning needs and diverse backgrounds of all students are supported through differentiated instruction; and
- students confidently engage in complex mathematical tasks chosen carefully by teachers.

The K–12 Mathematics Work Group Report recommended actions in five areas—written curriculum, implemented curriculum (instructional practices), assessed curriculum, targets and acceleration, and teacher preparation and development—that taken together, promote the realization of our vision for mathematics classrooms in MCPS.

Implementation of Curriculum 2.0 content and mathematical practices requires that teachers instruct students in ways that move beyond the techniques they experienced in their own education and perhaps beyond what they currently use in their classroom practice. Our implementation of the CCSS over the past two years has revealed the following challenges that will need to be addressed as we continue to implement mathematics aligned with the CCSS:
• Building the capacity of teachers to develop conceptual understanding in their students across all five areas of mathematical proficiency.
• Building the capacity of instructional leaders, including principals, to promote and monitor strong mathematical teaching practices that promote deep understanding in all students.
• Communicating with stakeholders, including parents, the reason for this significant shift in mathematics teaching and learning and its benefits for students.
• Communicating with stakeholders, including parents, how the vision for mathematics teaching and learning supports and challenges all students and leads to equity in instruction and student achievement.

During the next two years, we will continue to develop and implement mathematics curriculum, instruction, and assessments in anticipation of the 2014–2015 administration of the new state assessments of the CCSS and provide professional development for teachers, instructional leaders, and other support staff members in our schools and offices. Additional actions required to effectively implement our mathematics vision include the following:

• Determine secondary course progressions that build on the elementary curriculum, assessment, and instruction.
• Prepare secondary teachers and instructional leaders, including principals, for implementing mathematics curriculum aligned with the CCSS.
• Review existing resources and develop a budget for full implementation of Pre-K–12 mathematics including resources for professional development and instructional materials.
• Collaborate with the Office of Human Resources and Development regarding hiring of effective mathematics teachers.
• Provide ongoing support and information to schools, offices, and the community to facilitate effective change management during the implementation.
• Continue to monitor the implementation of the CCSS and evaluate the impact on student achievement.

Re: DISCUSSION

Board members expressed the following interests:

• Mr. Barclay noted there was waning enthusiasm for math at the high school level; elementary students understand the concepts and MCPS needs to find ways for them to demonstrate their understanding.
• Mr. Kauffman asked if there would be changes to the way calculators are used in instruction.
• Mr. Kauffman asked about elementary level with less acceleration with wide variation throughout the school system. How are students handled if there is a few capable children ready for acceleration?
• Mrs. O’Neill pointed out that she has heard in conversations that there is concern about the elimination of math pathways and children not being accelerated. The child has to be challenged and not become bored.

- Mr. Barclay pointed out there was angst among parents since the school system has been aggressive in acceleration. How does the system communicate to parents since there is a sense that the system has abandoned the responsibility for capable children who could be accelerated? There is a need for children to understand the concepts. There is a need to communicate to parents the new math instruction since parents do not buy into this new concept.

- Ms. Brandman summarized that the Math Work Group focused on overcorrection. The idea is not to move faster but to learn all math strands.

- Regarding the Recommendations of the Math Work Group, Dr. Docca asked staff to review the characteristics of those students who need remediation. Are there guides to help teachers differentiate instruction?

- Mr. Barclay noted that this is a learning process during implementation of math instruction. How does the system ensure mastery?

- Mr. Kauffman wanted to know how parents are informed if their child is receiving acceleration or enrichment. Is this information available to parents? Will more students be identified in third grade as needing acceleration?

- Mrs. O’Neill restated that the real measure is the students doing the work and not the label. There certainly is a need to communicate with parents regarding acceleration and enrichment.

- Ms. Brandman asked about interventions in elementary school to forestall remediation at the college level.

RESOLUTION NO. 310-12  Re: NEW BUSINESS

On motion of Mr. Barclay and seconded by Mrs. O'Neill, the following new business item was introduced:

For several years now, the superintendent and members of the Board have heard the advocacy of some community members and students regarding the elimination of polystyrene cafeteria trays and plastic utensils at Piney Branch Elementary School. Correspondence and dialogue on the subject have exposed disagreements as to the magnitude of the problem, viable solutions, and related costs to provide a resolution. The school system is not persuaded that the community members’ proposal to install a dishwashing machine at Piney Branch Elementary School provides sufficient environmental benefits to justify the costs and staff efforts associated with implementing the proposal. The administration has in the recent past expressed a commitment to reducing the system’s overall carbon footprint. I do agree with the thinking that eliminating polystyrene is a much larger issue than disposable trays at one elementary school and that any discussion about eliminating the use of polystyrene items from the food service industry should not be limited solely to school cafeterias.

I believe that we need to confront and address the larger issue of reducing the system’s carbon footprint. We should begin investing in more concrete initiatives designed to address this important issue. The long-term impact on the environment of such initiatives would far outweigh the cost of implementation. I would welcome and support an initiative with easily measurable outcomes that could be evaluated. I am therefore presenting this resolution to the Board for consideration.

Resolved, That the superintendent of schools shall develop and recommend to the Board of Education a plan to reduce the system’s carbon footprint; and be it further

Resolved, That each year, starting in the 2012-2013 school year, the administration shall report on the progress of this project to the Board of Education.
