Re: NATIONAL GREEN RIBBON SCHOOLS AWARDS

The Board received a brief presentation on the National Green Ribbon Schools Awards from the Department of Facilities Management. Cedar Grove and Summit Hall elementary schools were selected as recipients of the 2013 Green Ribbon Schools Award. The Green Ribbon Schools award program, established in 2011, is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education (USDE) and recognizes schools that save energy, reduce costs, feature environmentally sustainable learning spaces, protect health, foster wellness, and offer environmental education to boost academic achievement and community engagement. Cedar Grove and Summit Hall were the only schools in Maryland to receive the award, and are among a total of 64 winning schools from across the nation. Montgomery County Public Schools (MCPS) also was selected as the recipient of the inaugural District Sustainability Award, which recognizes school systems that demonstrate a comprehensive approach to sustainability. MCPS has become a leader in several areas of sustainability and has a comprehensive district wide program to reduce its impact on the environment, including recycling initiatives, energy conservation efforts and a commitment to green construction practices in all building projects.

RESOLUTION NO. 397-13 Re: RESOLUTION CONCERNING PROCESSING OF INFORMATION REQUESTS AND BOARD COMMITTEES
On recommendation of the superintendent and on motion of Mr. Kauffman seconded by Mrs. O'Neill, the following resolution was adopted unanimously:

WHEREAS, An ad hoc work group reviewed and considered improvements to the Board’s work protocols and committee structure; and

WHEREAS, The ad hoc work group provided the Board with the attached memorandum with recommendations; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Education adopt the work group’s “Recommendation Concerning Action Requests To and From Board Members” as contained in the attached memorandum; and be it further

Resolved, That the Board of Education adopt the work group’s “Recommendation Concerning Committee Structure” as contained in the attached memorandum, including the modified charge for the Committee on Special Populations.

Recommendations Concerning Processing of Information Requests and Board Committees from Ms. Brandman, Chair

At the June 20, 2012, Board self-evaluation retreat, members expressed a desire to review and consider improvements to some of the Board’s work protocols. Specifically, members called into question the Board’s committee structure and asked for consideration of whether certain matters were best resolved by the committee of the whole. Board members also articulated a desire to develop more effective processes for addressing requests for action initiated by the public, as well as areas of Board member interests not anticipated by the annual work plan.

As Board president at that time, I formed an ad hoc work group, comprised of Dr. Docca, Mr. Kauffman, Dr. Starr, and me, with a two-fold charge: (a) to develop recommendations for a disciplined process to consider and resolve action requests that Board members receive from the community or wish to initiate with the administration; and (b) to review the Board’s existing committee structure. The work group held six meetings: October 15, 2012; November 8, 2012; December 17, 2012; January 11, 2013; February 25, 2013; and May 22, 2013. Based on those robust conversations, the work group makes the following recommendations to the full Board:

Recommendation Concerning Action Requests To and From Board Members

The Board and individual Board members are often asked to consider taking action to address interests or concerns that arise from a constituent community. Typically, these interests/concerns:

A. Are presented at the Board table (e.g. public comment).

B. Are raised in the presence of the Board (e.g. cluster visits, meetings with community groups).

C. Are brought to the attention of a single Board member.

D. Are presented through an organized community advocacy effort (including petition drives/mass e-mails).

A few examples of topics raised by the public in this manner are: school gardens; elimination of styrofoam trays; concussions; dangers of substance abuse; math acceleration; and bell times.

In addition, Board members through their work, and particularly through attendance at conferences or other professional development seminars, develop an interest in an action item not already contemplated by the annual work plan. For example, at a recent MABE conference another school system presented information about their ongoing credit recovery work that sparked the potential for further investigation by MCPS.

While the Board’s informal practice of holding a summer “disciplined work” session provides an opportunity to consider possible action items, Board members have found it limiting to have only one opportunity a year to consider topics for inclusion with the Board’s work. During the remainder of the year, the only other “formal” way to address unanticipated action requests is through the initiative of a single Board member proposing a New Business Item.

Currently, if an action request does not inspire a New Business Item, the Board has no readily available means for responding to or resolving the request in a timely fashion. The work group believes there should be a routine, streamlined process for resolving pending action requests. Such a process is particularly warranted for requests that have come to the Board’s attention through community initiative and where the community is seeking a response. Two important caveats should be noted, however: (1) it is incumbent upon the Board to determine at the outset whether the action request genuinely reflects the interests/concerns of the community; and (2) the Board will need to be very explicit in addressing community expectations regarding responsiveness given the significant implication of any additional work on our limited resources and capacity.

Accordingly, the work group proposes the following recommendations for consideration by the Board:

1) The Board should formally implement a summer retreat to develop the Board’s annual work plan, as initially envisioned and recommended with the Board’s disciplined work process. Board members would have an opportunity to submit topics for inclusion on the Board’s annual work plan and to consider any action requests from the community.

2) In addition, the Board should add three additional sessions to already scheduled full-day Board meetings to consider other often unanticipated, action items. Officers, superintendent, and Board staff would compile a list of “pending action requests” which would be discussed by the full Board during the quarterly deliberation. During the quarterly deliberations, the Board, in consultation with the superintendent, would decide whether/how to proceed with each pending action request.

3) Quarterly deliberations would be structured conversations that occur in a conference room (much like a mini-retreat and not at the Board table) to fully discuss and consider pending action requests. Following the quarterly deliberation, a report would be given during the regular business meeting regarding the decisions made by the Board about each pending action request. This report would be the public presentation/acknowledgement of the Board’s decision so that interested community members are aware of the Board’s decision and have a “formal” response to their pending action request.

4) In its deliberations, the Board would evaluate each pending action request with specific reference to work priorities already set for the year (the annual work plan) and determine the appropriate prioritization. The Board would also expressly consider any implication for existing staff capacity/resources.

5) Approval by a majority of the Board would be required before proceeding with any pending action request.

6) The Board could respond to pending action requests by:

(a) taking some immediate action (such as requesting additional research, requesting a memorandum, referring the matter to an appropriate committee for further study, referring the matter to the superintendent for other follow up, etc.);

(b) indicating that the matter was of interest but not of sufficient priority to warrant immediate action and should be held for consideration in the next year’s work plan; or

(c) determining that the matter did not have the interest of a majority of the Board.

7) If a pending action request is a matter of urgency, it does not have to be held for the next quarterly deliberation; the superintendent, in consultation with the Board officers, will work to provide information or a recommendation for resolution to the full Board, as appropriate.

In addition to a process for resolving pending action requests, the Board was also seeking clarification on processes to best support/encourage other Board member inquiry. To address such inquiry:
a) Board members should be reminded that they can ask follow-up questions of staff arising from work at the Board table or from Board memorandums. Members should send any data request to the Board’s chief of staff to triage the request and to track down a response as appropriate. Inquiries and responses will be shared with the full Board.

b) The superintendent will alert the Board or Board officers if responding to a matter of Board member inquiry is deemed to be extremely time consuming in accordance with page 15 of the Board of Education Handbook. Under such circumstances, it will require action by the full Board to proceed.

c) Board members can work with Board staff to develop their interests as a New Business proposal as outlined on page 12 of the Board of Education Handbook. Board members should be prepared to address how any proposed New Business Item aligns with the Board’s already adopted work plan priorities.

Recommendation Concerning Committee Structure

The work group reviewed the current Board of Education committee structure, as well as the charge and operation of the current committees. However, rather than simply focusing on revising the existing structure, the work group felt it critical to examine the needs of the Board and propose a committee structure best designed to meet those needs. Our discussions focused on the defining responsibilities of the Board namely, to set policy for MCPS; to review and adopt annual budgets; to adopt and oversee the strategic plan; and to evaluate the superintendent on the system’s progress toward realizing the strategic goals.

In undertaking our analysis, the work group was cognizant of the Board’s indicated preference to ensure that matters of universal interest (such as those related to the Board’s responsibility to monitor student outcomes) be addressed by the committee of the whole. As part of its efforts, the work group reviewed articles on “Implementing the Board Committees” and “The Well-Designed Committee” written by Doug Eadie for the American School Board Journal (2008). We also looked at sample committee structures from several other jurisdictions.

The work group identified three major areas of Board work that most need committee support: Policy, Fiscal, and Strategic Planning. These areas coincide with the Board’s defining responsibilities. These are also areas where the in-depth advance work of a smaller group of Board members—drafting policy language or reviewing audit data—Board. The work group was unanimous in recommending the need for these committees.

The work group then considered alternative options for most effectively addressing other work currently assigned to Board committees. Transitioning to a three-committee structure would require, for example, a commitment to address community and public engagement by the committee of the whole. The work group debated whether developing and shaping the Board’s community engagement work is best addressed by the committee of the whole because it can be most efficiently decided by presentation of options to and deliberation by the full Board simultaneously. In the final analysis, the work group felt that it was more appropriate and more efficient to involve the full Board directly in planning the Board’s engagement activities on an annual basis. This would better allow the full Board to discuss and determine its preferences for engaging with the community. Accordingly, it is our recommendation that we transfer responsibility currently assigned to the Community and Public Engagement Committee to the committee of the whole. Under this model, we anticipate that there will still be instances in which the Board president may need to appoint an ad hoc work group to address a particular short-term topic related to community engagement and implementing the Board’s engagement strategy. Our Handbook already contemplates this process.

The work group then invested significant time thinking through the most productive way to accomplish the work currently assigned to the Committee on Special Populations. The work group was mindful, for example, that our alternative education programs have been identified as an “innovation” school and will be undertaking significant new work that will be monitored by the full Board as part of its oversight of the innovation schools effort. Similarly, the systemwide priority focus on interventions which is addressed and monitored by the full Board will have significant impact on our special education, ESOL, and gifted and talented populations. In addition, it is anticipated that the renovated strategic plan will identify key indicators for monitoring student outcomes that will better enable the full Board to focus particular attention on the performance of students identified in the special populations. For these and other reasons, we debated whether the work of the Committee on Special Populations providing oversight/accountability for meeting the needs of our special populations might be best addressed by the full Board. We note that Committee on Special Populations meetings have frequently drawn interest and participation from a majority of Board members suggesting universal interest in addressing this work as committee of the whole.

Some caution was raised, however, questioning whether the full Board would have the time on agendas to focus deeply on the needs of these special populations. For example, when the full Board reviews student outcomes on the indicators in the revised strategic plan, if the Board desires a greater in-depth study on specific indicators concerning the achievement gap for special education students or wants to study the progress of ESOL students, how would we create the time and capacity to conduct such a comprehensive review? As noted above, the Board president could convene an ad hoc committee as needed. Another alternative considered by the work group was to keep the Committee on Special Populations intact but revise its charge to make clear that it would meet only when the full Board determined that it was needed to provide time and capacity to dive deeper into indicators affecting special populations. In addition, there may be areas affecting special populations that might require additional review and which could be assigned to the committee. For example, the Committee on Special Populations has currently been tasked to develop recommendations for questions to guide a comprehensive review/audit of special education. It is envisioned that the Committee on Special Populations could provide the Board with needed additional capacity on this critical work with the expectation that the committee will report back to the full Board with its findings for further deliberation, as appropriate.

The work group offers these options for consideration, discussion, and final determination by the full Board. The work group recommends that the Board plan to assign the work of any committees during our annual “disciplined work” summer retreat. Were the Board to adopt the recommendation for a three committee structure, we would propose the following revised charges for those committees:

Policy Management

a. When the need for a new or revised policy is recognized, the committee meets with appropriate staff to develop a draft policy. The committee then presents the proposed policy item to the Board for discussion and tentative action. The judgments and recommendations of the committee are advisory in nature and shall be submitted to the full Board for any formal action to be taken.

b. The committee shall monitor the implementation of policies.

c. The committee will review State Board regulations as they arise, as well as relevant enacted state and federal laws, and work with the superintendent to determine any policy or regulatory action that should be taken by the Board.

d. The committee will be responsible for examining processes and protocols to ensure that the continuous improvement needs/procedures of the Board are addressed. For example:
   i. Updates to the Board’s Operational Handbook.
   ii. Disciplined work process.
   iii. Address follow ups from the Board’s self-evaluation process.

Fiscal Management

a. The committee shall approve the annual work plan of the internal audit team and may recommend items for inclusion in the plan.

b. The superintendent will keep the committee informed of the results of all state and federal audits of MCPS operations and recommendations of the County’s Office of Legislative Oversight and Inspector General.

c. The committee will review, as needed, financial statements provided to the county executive and County Council.

d. The committee shall undertake periodic reviews of issues pertaining to the management and audit of Montgomery County Public Schools’ fiscal, capital, and human resources, including the Board’s operating budget, the Capital Improvement Program, staffing plans, allocations, and pension and benefit determinations.

e. The committee will review the contracting practices of MCPS and will review the procurement manual.

Strategic Planning

a. Working closely with the superintendent, the committee provides initial recommendations regarding the strategic direction and priorities of MCPS (long-range visioning). The committee will be responsible for undertaking a forward-looking analysis for the direction of the system, i.e., complete active and ongoing review of MCPS’ environment for opportunities and challenges so that the committee can identify emergent strategic issues that are not currently addressed and recommend these to the full Board.

b. Review objectives and goals to measure progress toward achieving the goals outlined in the strategic plan (performance monitoring). While it would remain the responsibility of the full Board to review student outcomes on the indicators included in the strategic plan, the committee would undertake greater in-depth study at the full board’s direction in drilling down areas identified for further study. (It was suggested that a monitoring calendar be developed for interim reports to the full Board with in-depth indicators.)

c. Develop and recommend legislative strategies to the Board.

d. Strategic communication and outreach.

Were the Board inclined to continue to assign work to the Committee on Special Populations rather than exclusively to the committee of the whole (with possible ad hoc supplementation), we would propose the following revised charge for the Committee on Special Populations:

Committee on Special Populations

a. Working closely with the superintendent, the committee may provide initial recommendations based upon in-depth review of issues and instructional programs designed to meet the needs of special populations that require special education services, gifted and talented instruction, alternative programs, ESOL services, and multilingual supports. The committee’s work plan will consist only of tasks as assigned by the full Board.

b. As the Board reviews student outcomes on the indicators in the strategic plan, the Board may desire the committee to perform a greater in-depth study on specific indicators concerning special populations, including programs that serve those students. In addition, there may be areas affecting special populations that might require additional review. The committee will provide the Board with needed capacity to undertake these reviews.
c. The committee will meet as necessary.

d. Whenever the committee is assigned a task, the committee will be expected to report back to the Board with its findings for further review and discussion by the full Board, as appropriate.

The work group believes that the proposed changes to the committee structure will enable us to have fully functioning committees that best serve the needs of the Board and strike the proper balance between committee work and work of the full Board. Furthermore, the work group believes the proposed process for addressing action requests from the community will allow for improved responsiveness while still maintaining a streamlined focus on the annual work priorities established by the Board.

We look forward to discussing these recommendations at a future Board meeting. In the interim, please feel free to contact me regarding any questions or concerns.

Re: BOARD OF EDUCATION’S FISCAL YEAR 2015 OPERATING BUDGET INTERESTS

The superintendent recommended that as a starting point for the discussion of budget interests for the FY 2015 Operating Budget, the Board uses the following 10 budget interests it adopted in September 2012 for the FY 2014 Operating Budget:

1. Provide multiple pathways enabling graduates to be globally competitive and college and career-ready.
2. Meet the needs of each individual child, including their health and social and emotional well-being.
3. Continue to reduce variability of performance/address student performance issues.
4. Retain and support staff.
5. Expand and support community engagement in our schools. Work hard to ensure that communities and families know what they need to do to support their kids.
6. Maintain and improve our special education programs.
7. Promote instructional strategies and curriculum that engages students through innovative delivery methods and 21st century physical spaces.
8. Focus on all students and ensure all students, regardless of race, have equity of access to appropriate and higher level courses.
9. Ensure the budget is aligned to the system’s and staff’s needs.
10. Pay attention to areas of great need, in particular middle school.

The Board of Education made the following observations on each numbered interest:

1. Mr. Barclay was good with the interest, but what goes under that, such as CTE and opportunities for students who are not going to college. Dr. Docca wanted to know the pathways and cost for college and career-ready students. Ms. Brandman wanted the statement to be clear in the definition of readiness for careers (this may not be as clear when combined with college readiness). Mrs. ‘Neill thought middle and high school is a time for exploration with the use of critical thinking and problem solving skills. Those skills will be fundamental in preparing students for college and career. The school system must offer multiple opportunities/pathways. Mrs. Smondrowski thought it was important to prepare students for “actual” work. Mr. Kauffman noted that there are different pieces for a career as compared to readiness for college. Dr. Starr summed it up with continued support with a critical problem solving piece and a more explicit about career piece.

2. Ms. Brandman wanted to reaffirm, but it is a very large statement. Embedded in this statement is the idea of providing students with a strong beginning to their education. Research supports this idea as well as a focus on students with disabilities. There is a need to strengthen partnerships. Also, a plan and target to assess progress and appropriate staffing levels. Mrs. Smondrowski thought it was important to monitor staffing levels to meet the needs of each child. Mr. Kauffman pointed out the need to fund growth with staffing formulas. Mr. Barclay was interested in the need to build a foundation to assure that young people are prepared through pre-kindergarten. Dr. Docca thought it was important to continue K-3 interventions. How does the public find the resources for differentiated instruction? Mrs. O’Neill thought it was important to focus on the beginning education. This has been a priority of the Board beginning with all-day kindergarten and reduced class sizes in the lower grades. Early intervention in special education is also important. Dr. Starr stated that the language for Number 2 will be reworked to include the Board’s comments.

3. All agreed with this budget interest.

4. Ms. Brandman totally agreed, the responsibility of the Board is to assure that the staff has what they need to do their job. Mr. Kauffman added that staff needs time to do their jobs and to collaborate. Dr. Starr stated that there was a need to commit to creating conditions for success.

5. Mr. Barclay supports and reaffirms community engagement based on the retreat and engagement plan. There is a need for more resources and support staff with possible reallocation of resources. Dr. Starr summed up by saying there could be realignments and support for the desire for community engagement.

6. Mr. Barclay thought that there is a need to look at the “improved” part with clarity on what is being done in special education. The Committee on Special Populations is working to develop questions to guide the superintendent and staff. Dr. Starr wanted to add “programs and processes,” and the Board agreed. Mr. Kauffman mentioned that the Special Education Staffing Committee makes recommendations as to priorities and it should be tied to the budget.

7. Mr. Barclay pointed to more flexible learning spaces, such as using technology. There is also training of staff to deliver the content which is innovative. Dr. Starr stated that there is a need for an operational definition of “innovation.”

8. Mrs. Smondrowski asked if social-economic status should be included. Dr. Starr reflected that the values of the strategic planning framework are aligned with this language. Mrs. Smondrowski pointed out that MCPS should offer enough opportunities/slots for enrollment increase. Mr. Barclay thought the language should reflect the core values and framework.

9. Dr. Starr thought the framework should be aligned with the strategic plan. Ms. Brandman stated that the system is committed to its strategic vision and everything being aligned to support that vision.

10. Dr. Starr stated that this interest calls out middle schools, and staff is working on this issue. Mr. Barclay noted alternative programs where there is great need and desire to meet the needs of students. What are the options? How can we create those options? Dr. Docca noted that the system needs to know the learning styles of its students. What resources are provided for differentiated instruction? There still is variability and a gap. Mrs. O'Neill thought alternative programs fit into several of the budget categories. Mr. Barclay pointed out what is the role of the Board in monitoring and oversight if strategies are not working. Dr. Docca asked about minority kids identified as gifted, but not enrolled in a program. Ms. Brandman thought there was a strong interest in closing the gap, and it is ideal for each student to have an individualized plan. Mrs. O'Neill thought there should be equity, and gifted and talented should be called out. A parallel track is Board governance and access to programs, such as gifted and talented.
By consensus, the Board moved into Closed Session at 2:11 p.m.

RESOLUTION NO. 398-13  Re:  ADJOURNMENT
