

Announcements February 18, 2022

- Here are some college events for March. March 1st there will be in person admissions visits at Rutgers at 9 am and the University of Alabama at 10 am. On March 3rd, Allegany College of Maryland will also be hosting an in-person admissions visit at 9am. West Liberty University will be hosting a virtual admission visit on Friday March 4th 9am. To sign up for these events, you can use your Naviance Student Account, and they will take place in the college career information center, which is room 126.
- All RISING Juniors and Seniors interested in learning about a career can sign up to participate in the 2022 Summer RISE program. This program provides students with a 4-week career-based learning experience and introduces students to high demand career options that match their interests. This opportunity will occur from July 5th to July 29th. If you're interested you can find more information and how to register through the Summer RISE website or attend the student/parent information meeting next Wednesday from 6 to 6:30 pm, or March 1st from 7 to 7:30.
- The booster club will be selling spirit wear TODAY during lunch from the indoor concessions stand near the gym. You can purchase sweatshirts, t-shirts, water bottles, tumblers, magnets, and more! Cash, Check, Credit, and apple pay are all accepted. Make sure to show your JAGPRIDE!
- Today we will honor Kobe Bryant with our moment in Black History! Kobe Bryant was a basketball player for the Lakers. He was an astonishing player who was named MVP multiple times in his career. The good genes of basketball ran in his family as his father was also a great basketball player. His father, Joe “Jelly Bean” Bryant, played eight seasons in the NBA and eight more in Italy. Not only was Kobe Bryant a professional in the NBA, but he also got the opportunity to play and win in the Olympics in Beijing 2008 and London 2012. He has a short but well lived life. He unfortunately passed at the early age of 41 from a helicopter crash that occurred early 2020. He will still be remembered by all his fans.
