

Using Khan Academy's Official SAT Practice

An overview of Official SAT Practice from Khan Academy.

Welcome to Khan Academy's Official SAT Practice! We are excited to be collaborating with The College Board to provide free, world-class test prep for students like you. Let's get started!

Overview

- Link your College Board and Khan Academy accounts to get automatic personalized recommendations based on your PSAT performance, or take diagnostics if you didn't take the PSAT.
- Next, we'll recommend practice to you based on your results. You can practice skills any time you'd like to work on them, even if we didn't recommend them to you.
- You'll find video and text explanations to help you understand how the test is structured and to learn the skills covered on the test.
- Be sure to take some full-length practice exams, too. We recommend taking them without interruption to give you a sense of what to expect on test day.

First Steps

Visit the website <https://www.khanacademy.org/sat> and hit the "Practice Now" button.

If you are a new learner, the website will start by asking you a series of questions, including which test you want to practice for: the SAT or the PSAT.

The PSAT/NMSQT® has the same content as the SAT, but minus the hardest questions and the essay. Find out more information on the PSAT.

If you've already taken the PSAT and want to practice for the SAT, you do not need to take the diagnostic tests as shown below. The PSAT now serves as your diagnostic — all you need to do is link your Khan Academy and College Board accounts, and we'll automatically recommend practice based on your PSAT results. We recommend that you link your accounts so that you can get started more quickly!
