Welcome to our first biweekly issue of the Panther Gazette: Spectrum! Virtual learning this year has been a challenge, but we vow to deliver some entertainment. With our editors, writers, and artists, we have a great team this year. Thank you for reading this issue and continuing on this journey with us!

Hello! My name is Jocelyn Yuan and I’m one of the art editors of the Panther Gazette. I’m in seventh grade and I enjoy drawing, writing, and sports in general. I hope to have a great experience writing for the Panther Gazette!
Hello fellow students at MLK. My name is Diego Flores-Cerezo and boy do I have a surprise for you. The MACY’S PARADE... is still happening! The famous parade is still staying strong. But there are going to be a few regulations to fit new Covid-19 restrictions. The parade is going to happen on November 26, right on Thanksgiving. Parade balloons are still going to be flown, but the human handlers will be replaced by mechanical vehicles. To stay safe performers are required to get flu and Covid-19 vaccines, and performances will be prerecorded 2 days before the parade. Unfortunately, high school bands or anything from other states will not be accepted in the parade. The parade will air on November 26 from 9 am to 12 pm EST (our timezone), on NBC news. Be sure to see it if you can and remember, check this newspaper for more interesting news. Good Bye, I will see you next time in the next issue!
HEY HARMONY
ADVICE COLUMN

Written by members of the Spectrum

Have a problem? Write to Hey Harmony and we'll respond in the next issue, remember to keep your identity anonymous!

Get your questions answered anonymously by members of the Spectrum

QUESTION
SUBMISSION: link
Hi! My name is Rithvik, I’m in 8th grade, and I am the tech editor and an artist (photographer) for the Panther Gazette. I am really interested in photography and reading. I love photography because it is like painting because you can make a picture that tells a story. My favorite food is any fruit but especially Guava!

Hello my name is Katie Musick. I am a writer! I am in 6th grade and my favorite food is 100% pizza! I eat pizza, like all the time! I also love musical theater, and I have performed in over 20 plays.
RULES FOR STEP 1:
- Fill in the empty boxes with numbers 1-9.
- Each number is used exactly once.
- Each row and column is an equation. The boxes with numbers in them are the answers to the equations.
- Remember that multiplication and division comes before addition and subtraction.

RULES FOR STEP 2:
- Each letter is given a random number.
- No number corresponds to two letters, and vice versa.
- Figure out the sentence at the bottom to win.

Remember those letters in the boxes from the last puzzle? The letter corresponds to the number in its respective box.

Answers are at the end of the newspaper, good luck!
Hi, I’m Maggie Howell! I’m a sixth grader and I’m an artist for the Panther Gazette! When I’m not drawing, I also like to play video games and write stories. My favorite foods are potatoes and Aglio Olio (pronounced Ah-lio Oh-lio, a garlic pasta).

Hi, I am Rohit Nayer. I am in 6th grade and am a writer and artist in the Panther Gazette. I am very interested in drawing and painting. My favorite food is pasta and I like any sauce on it. My goal for the Panther gazette is to make fun drawings and comics to lighten everyones day and a very informative podcast.

My name is Parim and I am in 6th Grade. I am a writer at the Panther Gazette and an NFL Football nerd. My favorite food is butter noodles.
Problem: Authorization in MyMcps classroom

Solution:
- Click on the three dots on the top right of your screen
- Then click on more tools
- Clear browsing data
- It should direct you to your browser data settings
- Select “All Time” for time range
- Then clear data

NJHS Afterschool tech help
As part of NJHS’s dedication to service, tech-savvy members will be available Mondays and Thursdays from 3:30 pm to 4:30 pm to help students with any questions regarding Zoom, Canvas, and other apps and platforms that MLK teachers are using. Support will be provided on a drop-in basis, so first come, first served. An adult NJHS sponsor will attend each session to ensure that students are supervised.

Zoom information:
link
Meeting ID: 868 7660 6755
Passcode: NJHS
iPhone 12 review

On October 13th Apple introduced its newest flagship iPhone, the iPhone 12 and iPhone 12 mini. These phones offer new features and performance at an affordable price. In the same event Apple also announced a more expensive iPhones, iPhone 12 pro, and 12 Pro Max. The benefits of these more expensive phones are better cameras, sensors, and a larger screen. However, the 12 Mini and 12 are ideal for anyone who likes a smaller screen and does not need pro camera features.

Main feature: 5G

The most advertised feature for all the new iPhones is 5G. It is revolutionary technology, however it has not rolled out in most parts of the U.S and is quite useless. For example, Version’s current 5G technology cannot travel more than a couple kilometers, through walls, and is only available in large cities. However, if you are going to keep your Phone for a couple years when 5G will be mainstream it is a good investment. Eventually, the iPhone 12 models will be able to support 5G for faster downloads, uploads, better quality video streaming, and improved gaming, now including a mobile version of League of Legends coming out in December. My opinion is that you should not be buying this phone only because it has 5G.

PS5 vs. Xbox Series X

The PS5 starts at $499, but you can save $100 dollars if you do not need a disc drive. The disc drive is the place where you can put discs of games, however you can buy all of those games straight from the PlayStation online store without needing a disc to play. Some users will not be able to download games because they do not have fast enough WiFi. Also, the PS5 has backwards compatibility meaning that you can play games that you bought on the PS4, also on the PS5. This can save you a lot of money. Both next gen consoles have 4k capabilities but you can only use this if you have a 4k TV. The Xbox Series X starts at $499 to and contains a disc drive. This console has similar capabilities to both PS5s, but is $100 more expensive than the non - disc PS5. Microsoft also released a budget console called the Xbox Series S. It does not have a disc drive nor 4k capabilities, but is priced at $299. It is only better than the Xbox 1, so if you have the 1s do not buy this console. I think the PS5 non - disc drive is the best console for the price, but it also depends on the situation you are in.
THANKSGIVING TURKEY CUPCAKES

Recipe by: Kate Boytsova
Chosen by: Alessia Valdivia

INgredients:
- 1 box chocolate cake mix, plus ingredients called for on box.
- 11/3 C. (2 sticks and 5 1/3 TBSP) butter, softened.
- 5 1/3 C. powdered sugar.
- 2/3 C. unsweetened cocoa.
- 1 tsp. pure vanilla extract.
- 4 TBSP. heavy cream.
- Pinch kosher salt.
- Pretzels (for decorating)
- Candy corn (for decorating)
- M&Ms, (for decorating)
- Candy eyes (for decorating)

Directions:
- Preheat oven to 350° and line two 12-cup muffin tins with black cupcake liners. Prepare cupcake batter according to package directions.
- Scoop cupcake batter into liners and bake until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean, about 22 minutes. Let cool completely.
- In a large bowl using a hand mixer, beat butter until fluffy. Add powdered sugar and cocoa powder and beat until combined, then add vanilla, heavy cream, and salt and beat until combined.
- Fill a pastry bag fitted with a ½” round tip with frosting. Frost cupcakes, making 1 larger frosting dollop for the body and 1 smaller one on top for the face.
- Place 2 pretzels on the backside of the cupcake for the tail then arrange 4 candy corn pieces in front of them to finish the tail. Place another candy corn on the smaller dollop for the beak and 3 brown M&Ms on each side for the wings.
- Finish the turkey cupcake by placing 2 candy eyes above the beak.
Week 9 Sports Review

Written by Parim Shah

“Why didn't the Packers make a Trade?”

There were rumors that the Packers might make a trade for Wide Receiver Will Fuller after they were defeated by the 3 - 5 Vikings. However in the end the Packers didn’t make a trade, so they remain where they've been since last year at the receiver position. They did not decide to make this trade because their philosophy is to draft/develop players, not to spend big money in free agency, very rarely spend valuable draft picks to acquire guys in trades, and prepare for the future. For example, the Packers drafted Rodgers' future successor (Rookie Jordan Love) in the first round, instead of drafting one of the many talented wide receivers to help them win now. The idea of them giving up a high pick for WR Fuller, who would eat up almost all of their 2020 money and prevent them from following their philosophy.

“Is the Dynasty Over without Brady?”

After six super bowls on March 17th Tom Brady parted ways with the Patriots and signed with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Several months later the Patriots signed veteran QB Cam Newton to a small deal in order to sure up the QB position. Those decisions have not seemed to have paid off so far this season for the Pats, with a 3 - 5 record, 3rd in the division. But more importantly, Cam has played terribly this season, with a 55.5 QBR, and a 2 - 7 touchdown to interceptions ratio. This is partly because he does not have any wide receivers to throw to other than injured Julian Edallmen. Sure they beat the Jets and Cam Newton played well but they were playing the winless Jets and almost lost the game. This shows that Cam is out of his prime and the Patriots future is not bright. Then look around the division with the Bills having their QB for the future in Josh Allen, and then the Dolphins seemingly having a generational talent in Tua Tagovailoa. Nevertheless, you can never doubt Bill Belichick and Josh McDaniel’s Patriots because they can come back from anything, just ask the Falcons.

TRADE DEADLINE MOVES
Fall Afternoon
Maggie Howell
My name is Andy Sears. I am a 7th grade writer in the Panther Gazette. I really like making and doing puzzles. My favorite food is basically anything with chocolate in it.

MEET THE PANTHERS BEHIND THE GAZETTE

Hi, my name is Alessia and I am a writer for the Panther Gazette. My favorite food is probably pizza but I also enjoy eating sushi. I like reading and playing board games.