Lesson Objectives:

- If you did not take the "Career Key Test" you will follow directions on the next slide to do that.
 - It will help you get to know your strengths, values, personality and skills to help you decide which choice best fits you.
 - You will learn about which Holland personality types you are most like, identify careers that are most promising, and learn detailed information about each.

Complete Career Key

The screenshot shows a web application interface with a navigation bar at the top containing links for 'courses', 'colleges', 'careers', 'about me', and 'my planner'. Below the navigation bar is a sub-menu with tabs for 'Overview', 'Goals', 'To-do List', and 'Tasks Assigned to Me'. The 'Tasks Assigned to Me' tab is selected, displaying a section titled 'my tasks'. On the left side of the 'my tasks' section is a clock icon. The main content area lists 'Tasks you need to work on:' with three items, each marked with a star icon and a due date of Jan 31, 2018:

Getting Started

Welcome! There is a lot of career information available here and we want to help you make the most of it. We have organized things according to the three basic principles of good decision making:

1. Know yourself. Knowing your strengths, values, personality, and skills will help you decide which choice best fits you.
 - Take the Career Key test to discover which Holland personality types you are most like, identify the careers that are most promising, and learn detailed information about each one.
 - Read about Holland's Theory of Career Choice to understand how your job success and satisfaction is related to your personality.
2. Know your options. Think of as many alternatives as you can. Then, learn about each one.
 - To learn about occupations, go to Learn More about the Jobs that Interest Me.
3. Make a good decision.
 - In High-Quality Decisions, you will learn a method based on many scientific studies that is widely used in business and medical settings. It is easy to understand and use.
